MEETING OF EAST PARK BOARD

Pass Resolutions of Sympathy on Death of John C. Duffy

The annual meeting of the Commissioners of the Highland Park East Park District was held on Monday the 19th. Resolutions of sympathy were passed on the death of the late Treasurer of the Board, Mr. John C. Duffy, as follows:

Whereas, Mr. John C. Duffy, who has served this Board as its Treasurer since its organization, departed this life on the thirtieth day of May last,

And whereas, the Commissioners of this Board have always entertained the highest personal regard for Mr. Duffy, and feel his death in the light of a personal loss to them as his associates for a number of years, as well as holding a high sense of appreciation of his faithful official services to the public and to this Board as its Treasurer,

Now therefore, the members of this Board, by unanimous vote, record hereby their sense of loss in the death of their late associate and extend to his family their deepest sympathy in their bereavement, and direct the President of the Board to send to his family an engrossed copy of this resolution.

F. W. CUSHING, President.

Attest: J. HERBERT MOON, Secretary.

Mr. F. W. Cushing was elected President of the Board for the ensuing year, and Mr. Charles F. Grant, Cashier of the State Bank, was appointed Treasurer, succeeding Mr. Duffy. Mr. George A. Mason and Mr. J. Herbert Moon were appointed attorney and Secretary, respectively.

TRICKY AND A BLUFFER.

The Spreading Adder Will Fool You If You Don't Know Him.

He's a sly creature, this snake. When he's discovered and trapped he'll make such a hullabaloo about it, with his hissing and contortions, that if you're not wise to the fact that he's only bluffing you're sure to be frightened. If you're acquainted with him, however, and refuse to run, he'll give one final twist and roll over on his back, just as though he had made up his mind to die and save you the trouble of killing him. But don't be fooled. He's only playing possum. He's the spreading adder.

His tricks have resulted in all sorts of wild stories about him. Many people believe he's poisonous, because he spreads his head out flat and hisses when he's disturbed. As a matter of fact, he couldn't hurt you if you picked him up by the head. He's only bluffing when he hisses.

Then there's another story about the spreading adder to the effect that he will bite himself and fall over dead. This belief comes from his habit of playing possum when he sees he's cornered and can't escape.

The spreading adder is about thirty inches long, a reddish brown and blotched and spotted. He lives in dry woods and on sandy hillides and eats toads and insects. He's also called the blowing viper or the hogmosed adder.—Philadelphia North American.

HAS TO SPLIT HIS TIPS.

Not All the Money the Waiter Gets Goes into His Pocket.

Don't think the waiters are getting rich. They might if they could keep all their tips, but—

Comes a waiter of twenty years service who says the man who does the serving is lucky if he gets 25 per cent of his tip money.

"We wouldn't complain much if we were allowed to keep our tips," he said, "but the waiter is by necessity the best tipper in the world. He has to split his tips at least five ways. The head waiter gets his, the captain has his hand out, and the scrub waiter and cook are next in line.

"If the waiter keeps all the money the captain will soon get wise to him, and he will get no more live ones steered up to his table. If the cook is neglected the waiter might get his orders cold from the kitchen. If he doesn't cross the palm of the head waiter with silver once in awhile he will be looking for another job.

"The popular idea that all waiters are rich is all wrong. The average waiter gets about $8 or $8 a week, and some of them get less. The man that leaves a quarter in the tray is really giving the waiter about 6 cents."—Chicago Tribune.

Letters and Postage Stamps.

"Strange ideas some people have about postage," said the clerk who opens the mail. "Yes. See this letter here with three one-cent stamps on it and stamped 1 cent due? That's a case in point. The writer of that letter thought that perhaps it weighed a little over an ounce, a little more than would go for 2 cents, and so he put on a little more postage—1 cent more—which he thought would cover it, when the fact is that it required an additional two-cent stamp. Of course you know that letter postage is not fractional, but that it goes in multiples of two. If a letter weighs ever so little over an ounce it requires an additional two-cent stamp. But not everybody seems to know this, and so we sometimes get letters like this one with a little more postage for a little more weight."—New York Sun come and enjoy an afternoon's pleasure, and you can rest assured that you will go home pleased. The management of this team desires to give Highland Park the greatest team of all time and they certainly have it now, and as this goes to press they are negotiating with one of the fourth shore teams for a game soon, and it is one that all the fans are desirous of seeing, so in our next we may be able to give you the full details.

BASE BALL

The games in the future will begin at 3 o'clock sharp. So be on hand early and watch an afternoon's sport.

By a Real Fan

The Highland Park team defeated the Chicago Warrens at Central Park on Sunday by a 4 to 5 score, the game being closed at the end of the fourteenth inning. This game has been called the most thrilling game Highland Park has ever seen. The Warrens lived up to their reputation of being one of the best fielding teams in Chicago, as they made as many as six possible plays and some of the catches made by their fielders are seldom seen outside of a big league. Bob Greenslade pitched the greatest game of his career, and everyone knows that "Bob" has pitched some great games. Some of the stops and catches made by Jim Duffy were wonderful. The whole team was hitting and nothing but the great fielding of the Warrens kept the score down.

Manager Howard Flinn has gathered together a great outfield in the Maroney brothers and Healer. The infield is made up of Jim Duffy, Joe Richards, Bob Pettis and Bill Fitzgerald. Catcher Emmett Duffy is a coming star. There never was a more promising looking ball club than this.

Now, dear reader, when you glance over this list and see the names of some of the boys you know so well, don't you think it is your duty to go and see them play, and help them with a little boosting? These boys are your friends, friends you meet every day, and friends you like to call friends. They all live in Highland Park and appreciate your appearance at the games. Come to Central Park next Sunday and see them play the Holy Cross players.
