Which is the more useful citizen?—the man who cries "Hurrah for our town, right or wrong," or the man who points out the defects of his town and tries to correct them?

The simplest way would be for the allies to furnish the German submarine commanders with an official list of the vessels eligible to be torpedoed.

Some ashes or sand on your front sidewalk may prevent a serious accident.

Economy, politically interpreted, is usually the program mapped out for the "ins" by the "outs."

Many a girl who knows that she is too good to wash dishes thinks her mother isn't.

Almost any man can convince a woman that he really and truly loves her, but he has to work overtime to keep her convinced.

Prices for Puffs

The editor of an Eastern paper has grown peevish. He has been pestered so much by people desiring free puffs that he facetiously refers to himself as the "Peerless Prince of Puff Purveyors." He thinks he has done enough for social queens, ministers who are looking for free advertising, people who have legislative fads they wish to push and organizations which want free publicity. So he has evolved the following scale of prices for puffs:

For telling the public that a man is a successful citizen, when everybody knows he is as lazy as a hired man, $2.70.

Referring to a deceased citizen as one who is mourned by the entire community, when he will only be missed by the poker circle, $10.13.

Referring to one as a hero and a man of courage and one who will stand by his honest convictions, when everybody knows that he is a moral coward and would sell out for thirty cents, $6.31.

Referring to some gallivanting female as an estimable lady whom it is a pleasure to meet and know, when every man in town would sooner see Satan coming, $8.10.

Calling an ordinary pulpit orator an eminent divine, 60 cents.

Sending a doughty sinner to Heaven, $5.

Referring to a deceased merchant who never advertised in his life, as a progressive citizen, $4.99.

Lambasting the daylight out of the demon rum at the request of the local prohibition committee, $6.77.

Ditto for the prohibitionists at the request of the local wet committee, $6.77.

Trinity Church Notes

The Christmas services were beautiful and well attended, especially the Children's carol service and Mystery Play on Christmas Eve and the early Celebration on Christmas morning.

The young people who took part in the play showed a deep appreciation of the religious character of the representation and deserve great credit for their beautiful work. Thanks are due to all who helped in the performance.

Plans are under way for the observing the twenty-fifth anniversary of Dr. Wolcott's rectorship, to which he was called on January 31, 1892. An anniversary such as this means much for both priest and people.
