Y. W. C. A. News

A large and appreciative audience attended the New Years reception of the young Women's Christian Association Tuesday evening, Jan. 2nd in the Presbyterian Church parlors. The rooms were most beautifully decorated in the holiday season's choice garlands and everywhere the Christmas and New Years atmosphere of good cheer pervaded. Mrs. W. A. Alexander, president of the Y. W. C. A. board presided with her accustomed charm and tact.

The program was exceptionally good and tallied forth well merited approbation. The first number was a violin solo by Mr. Geo. R. Jones, Mrs. Herbert Smith then gave a group of charming songs that delighted all. Mrs. H. B. Roberts then followed with the paper on "Christ-was in Many Lands" depicting in a very interesting way the Yule-tide celebrations across the waters, which brought home to many of her hearers the scenes of other days. Interspersed were appropriate folk songs by Mrs. Smith making a most interesting and attractive program. Mr. Jones completed the entertainment with a Bach Gounod selection that brought forth an encore to which he kindly responded. Mrs. Geo. R. Jones was the accompanist for both her husband and Mrs. Smith.

The audience was then invited to the dining room which had been made a bower of beauty and were served with coffee, Swedish coffee cake, German cakes and candies.

Great credit is due to those who assisted so generously in making the evening a success and it is hoped that many more evenings like the one just passed will be in store for the Y. W. C. A. people.

Moraine Hotel Notes

The party at the Moraine on last Saturday night given by Mr. J. L. Fearing for his children who are home from school, was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever given at the hotel. The dining room was beautifully decorated with balsam trees brought all the way from Maine for this occasion. The entertainment and dancing were conducted under the supervision of Miss Humphrey and the young folks certainly had a good time. Mr. Fearing's boys will return to school in the east this week.

The first dinner dance of the winter season will be given on Saturday, January 20th, next. These dinner dances were very popular last winter and it is hoped that they will be still more so this year.

The skating has never been so good on the hotel grounds as at the present time owing to the continued cold weather, and is greatly enjoyed by the guests and their friends.

Mrs. Robert Trimble, Jr., who was Miss Catherine Cushing, is at home visiting her parents. She is at present living in Houston, Texas, to which city Mr. Trimble returned last Sunday. Mrs. Trimble will be at the Moraine until the 15th when she leaves for the south.

During the cold weather skating at the Moraine proved popular pastime. The ice being at its best.

Highland Park Woman's Club

The Highland Park Woman's Club met at Witten's Hall Tuesday afternoon. The club was very fortunate in hearing Miss Carolyn Wilson, Tribune, War Correspondent, tell some personal experiences of the present war.

Miss Brown, violinist accompanied by Miss Pownall played two selections by Kreisler.

The hostesses of the day were, Mrs. Stewart Reed Brown, chairman, Mrs. Sidney Miller and Mrs. S. Parliament pouring assisted by Mesdames Oscar Larson, MacKenzie, Noerenberg, Peabody, Robinson, Jepsen, Leaming and Denzel.

The next meeting of the club is January sixteenth at two thirty o'clock at Witten's Hall. Mr. Percy B. Eckhart will give an illustrated travel talk. He comes recommended and his pictures are equal to those of any professional travelogue. Mr. Samuel Roff will sing. The visit to the Armour & Co. Plant is scheduled for February 21.

TRAVEL AS AN EDUCATOR.

Seeing the World and its Wonders Broadens the Mind.

Millions of people never travel. Rising day after day, they look out upon the same scenes, go through the same daily tasks and tumble into the same bed again at night, no different than they were the day before.

Each year thousands are traveling for the first time, not only the wealthy, but the middle class and even the poorest. They are coming to view travel not as an extravagance, but as the price of comfort, health, experience and knowledge. Ocean liners are veritable floating hotels, with ballrooms, promenades and conservatories, while trains are the last word in comfort with their thickly upholstered seats and handsomely appointed dining cars with up to the minute service.

The educational value of travel is beginning to have the greatest weight. Boys and girls who have been to the best schools help complete their education by seeing the world or such parts of it as their time and circumstances will permit. The grown up who is wise realizes the broadening influence of travel and counts each day well spent that brings him new experiences in foreign fields. No one can fall to be uplifted by seeing some of God's masterpieces or the handwork of man in picture, sculpture, cathedral and splendid public edifices. Nor is it necessary to leave one's own country. There is plenty to be seen and learned in our home land if we will only go in search of it.—Kathleen Hills in Leslie's.

STANDARD TIME.

The Railroad Confusion That Existed Before Its Adoption.

Prior to 1883 time differences caused especially confusing complications on railroads in the United States. It was formerly customary for a road to use throughout large sections of its territory the local time of one of the principal cities through which it passed.

The result was that when two railroads met in some smaller town it frequently happened that they were running under widely different time systems. As many as five different kinds of time were thus simultaneously in use in a single town.

It was the need of an international standard of time that led to the prime meridian conference at Washington in 1882. This recommended the use of the Greenwich civil time, reckoned from zero up to twenty-four hours.

In accordance with this resolution and to remedy the aforementioned difficulty the United States and Canada selected a series of standard meridians differing in longitude from that of Greenwich, England, by exact multiples of 15 degrees.

On Oct. 18, 1883, a convention was called by W. F. Allen, secretary of the general railway time convention, which decided on the introduction of standard time, to take effect on Nov. 18, 1883, and on that day the change to the present system was made without any difficulty.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

How the Dust Gets In.

When the barometer falls the air around expands into a large volume, and the air inside the bookcase, the clothes closet and the cupboard also expands and forces itself out at every minute crevice. When the barometer rises again the air inside the cupboard, as well as outside, condenses and shrinks and the air is forced back into the cupboard to equalize the pressure, and along with the air in goes the dust. The smaller the crevice the stronger the jet of air, the farther goes the dirt. Witness the dirt tracks so often seen in imperfectly framed engravings or photographs. Remember, whenever you see the barometer rising, that an additional charge of dust is entering your cupboard and bureau drawers.

Grave Humor.

The punster is irrepressible. He even indites his jokes on tombstones. An epitaph in Waltham abbey informs us that Sir James Fullerton died "fuller of faith than of fears, fuller of resolutions than of pains, fuller of honor than of days."

There is another of Daniel Deane: "Though strange, yet true, full seventy years was his wife happy in her Deane."

This was written of an organist: "Here lies one blown out of breath who lived a merry life and died a Merideth."

Another says: "Here lies Thomas Huddleston. Reader, don't smile, but reflect as this tombstone you view that death, who killed him, in a very short while will huddle a stone upon you."—Pearson's Weekly.

Easily Changed.

"Is your portable garage satisfactory?" "Oh, yes," replied the suburban dweller; "it suits me very well, and I'm glad for my wife's sake that I bought the portable kind."

"Why so?" "She had it moved half a dozen times because she didn't think it looked well from the street."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Preparedness.

"When my husband proposed to me the poor fellow's voice stuck in his throat."

"Then how did you know he was proposing?" "Well, you see, I was afraid that might happen, so I had taken lessons in lip reading."—Boston Transcript.
