The home of Mrs. Carlton Vail was the scene of a very entertaining recital Saturday afternoon, when the little piano pupils of Estelle Arnold Philleo gathered there for a musical program in honor of Washington's birthday. Junior Lafean, in celebration of his own birthday led the grand march beating his drum, followed by a patriotic company among whom a boy scout, a red cross nurse, and a fierce Indian warrior marched amid costumes and caps of red, white and blue. "Old Glory" a duet, opened the program which included other appropriate numbers in the form of military marches and minuets, varied by duets and a song "Miss Nancy's Gown" which Mrs. Vail, accompanied by Miss Philleo, sang for the children. Those who played were Eugene Wilson, Woodward and Fritz Boynton, Junior Lafean, Edwin Rothschild, Henry Ullman, Cutler Mott, Elizabeth Jones, Edith Vail, Mildred Moore and Helen Boynton. After each number had been duly appreciated by an audience of interested mothers, the merry party grouped around a pretty table, full of goodies with Junior's birthday cake and candies in the center and a favor for each. Having enjoyed the affair both musically and socially, "The Young Musician's Club" agreed to meet for a program every five weeks.

A very pretty scene presented itself last Friday evening in the boys gymnasium at the high school when the Deerfield Shields High School Alumni Association held its annual dance. The hall was decorated in red, white and blue crepe paper, festooned in very attractive arrangements. About one hundred and twenty-five dancers enjoyed the affair, which was a marked success. Aucher's orchestra furnished music.

DIAMONDS AND LENSES
In the rough state, the value would be great, between the diamond and the ordinary white stone, or between the flint or crown glass over the common glass. It is the cutting and the polishing that gives the brilliancy to the diamond and the grinding and polishing of the lenses to correct the error of the eye that makes them valuable. It is said one Chicago man worked six months on one lens and sold the lens for $6,000.00.
We have stock reading glasses as low as 25c per pair. We grind lenses to order from $3.00 and up.
We don't charge Chicago prices, but no better service can be had anywhere at any price.
An optician is a manufacturer of glasses.
An optometrist is licensed to fit glasses to the eye, after having passed his examinations before the State Board.
The oculist treats diseases of the eye.
We are equipped to do everything needed for the eye.
Your eyes gladly examined by a competent optometrist without charge or any obligation.
Jewelers too.

SQUARE TALKS

Have you the right? The sins of this generation are paid for even unto the third and fourth generation—in short our example of religious life affects our children and our children's children and have we the right to inflict on them the punishment God has promised in his third commandment of "visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me." If we go to church and worship (not just hear the minister) we set a good example to our children and they profit thereby. Their religious ideals are greatly due to what they inherit from us. Was our early religious training haphazard? Let us try to make up the defect—No we have not the right and it ought not to need a "square talk" to tell us to do our part now. Are we still children ourselves that we have to be told what to do—where is the nobility in us? Surely we have progressed from the primary school of life and have entered that stage where no longer the school master stands over us—we are supposed to attend our classes and be prepared to pass at the finals—no monitors now, our own sweet will to guide and prompt us. A college president once said about his college "this is a place for men to work and not for boys to play," so it is with us. No, we have not the right to lay back and do nothing. "Be strong, quit ye like men." Now if ever you must line up on the right side. Attend church and worship, and do it now.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Much interest was manifested in the discussion of the Third Commandment last Sunday morning, in the course of which the pastor treated the subject of Reverence of God, under the captions, I. Reverence in Speech;—(a) Purity of Speech, and (b) sincerity or truthfulness in speech; and II. Reverence in Conduct, especially in its application to the keeping of vows and promises and obligations which one seriously assumes before God and the Church when he unites with the church. As such the commandment forbids, Purjury, Profanity and Hypocrisy.

Next Sunday morning the sermon will be on the Fourth Commandment "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy." How is the Sabbath day to be observed; and what did Christ mean when He said "The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath"? This is a question which is disturbing a great many people in these days. Come and hear a candid, frank and practical discussion of it in its modern application.

Special attention is being given to the Mid-Week prayer services of this church on Wednesday evening, during these days preceding the Holy Week services; and a large attendance is expected.

Preparation is being made for the Annual Church Dinner on the evening of April 2nd, when the Annual elections take place.

Honorable sirs:—
We, the Board of Elders and Deacons of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, Highland Park, Illinois, respectfully petition the members of the House from this district, namely Hons. Edward D. Shurtleff, Thomas E. Graham and James H. Vickers, to support the Referendum House Bill No. 73, which will submit the question to the voters of the State, by whom it should be decided. We ask this in the interest of fair play on the solution of a question which affects the whole state; and hope that each one of you will vote and work for the passage of this bill.

Highland Park, Glencoe, Ravinia, Highwood, Lake Forest and Lake Bluff.

Beginning Saturday, February 10th, 1917 the retail price Bowman Rich Cream will be 12c per half pint.

This is the first advance in the retail price of Cream in over seven years in spite of the fact that the prices of other food articles have risen repeatedly during that time.

We regret very much that this raise is necessary but hope you will believe that our higher milk cost makes it quite unavoidable, if we would maintain our high fat content in the cream. As it is against the policy of this Company to lower the quality in order to reduce the costs, we trust the necessity of this increase of two cents a bottle will be apparent to you. Thanking you for past consideration, We are yours very truly,
