Choose a Chalmers as You Do a Watch

Compare two watches. They may look exactly alike. They may be equal in diameter and thickness. They may weigh the same. Perhaps your eye can't distinguish any difference between the two. One may seem to keep as good time as the other.

Big Differences There

Yet there may be a vast difference. One may be a Tiffany Swiss and the other a non-descript. If you trust only to an off hand examination you may make a bad mistake in your choice.

True of Automobiles

The same is true of automobiles. Some other car may closely resemble a Chalmers. It may weigh about the same. Have about the same wheel base. The paint may look more or less alike—at first glance.

Yet there may be a vast difference. Differences you can discover only by the closest scrutiny and comparison.

Go Deep

If you are to get the correct idea of the Chalmers, you must go beneath the surface. There the big, important differences lie. Differences in materials. Differences in methods of building. Differences in quality of workmanship.

To look only at the exterior of the Chalmers you wouldn't discover that the gears and shafts of the transmission are of crucible nickel steel, case hardened and carefully heat treated.

Solid One-Piece Shaft

You wouldn't discover that the crankshaft is a single sturdy shaft of drop-forged heat-treated carbon steel. Nor would you discover that the Chalmers pistons are die cast from Lynite, a special aluminum alloy, and weigh only 12 1/2 ounces each.

Deep-Lying Differences

To glance at the body you wouldn't realize that the body frame is built with such great care from select steel. That this is covered by one-piece, welded sheet steel. Nor that the springs in the upholstery are of an extraordinary spring steel. Nor that the frame of the chassis is of carbon steel, 5 inches deep and 1/2 of an inch thick. With flanges 2 1/2 inches wide. And with three strong cross members and reinforcing plates.

Be Deliberate

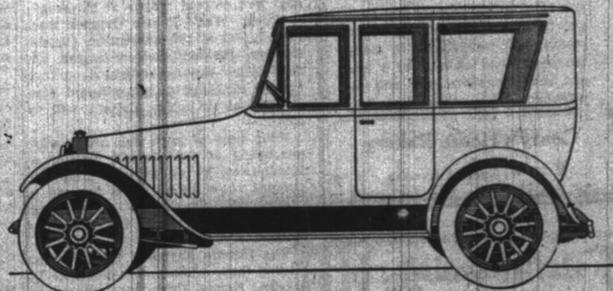

So when you examine the Chalmers don't look hastily. That's unfair to the car and unfair to yourself. Some things you don't realize when you glance at the 7-passenger Chalmers:

- 12 1/2-ounce Lynite pistons.
- Crankshaft balanced while in motion.
- Cylinders and crank case cast in a unit.
- Timken axles—built to Chalmers design.
- Economical intake manifold.
- Chrome nickel driving shaft.
- Nickel steel differential gears heat-treated to secure hardness and toughness.
- And many other important points of superiority.

All of the above means quality—the kind of quality you need in the car you buy, and the kind of quality you GET in the Chalmers.
