GOOD ROADS ARE COSTLY.

But Bad Roads Are More Expensive in the Long Run.

Highway engineering has become a highly developed art, and good road making materials are plentiful. Consequently there is absolutely no excuse for a modern road to "go wrong" with in its first four or five seasons of use unless petty craft and local politics can be considered as sufficient excuses.

It is not enough that the surface of the road be composed of the proper materials. These materials must rest on a firm foundation which extends to a sufficient depth below the surface to withstand the effect of the frozen ground on either side. Furthermore, the surface must be waterproof in order to prevent the entrance of rain or melted snow, which when frozen will separate and disintegrate the best laid foundation. Also the road surface and gutters must be so constructed that the highway will automatically drain itself of all water. This serves the purpose of automatic flushing and accounts for the continuous clean swept appearance of the well designed and properly constructed roadway.

A properly constructed highway is expensive, but it is an asset too obvious for argument. Too often, however, the first cost represents the deciding factor in the selection of a certain type of construction, and the upkeep cost is overlooked. It is this attitude on the part of the town or county taxpayers or road commissioners, coupled with graft and politics on the part of the contractor, which accounts for a large part of the improved roads which need to be reconstructed each year.—H. W. Slauson in Leslie's.

THEY LIVE ON VEGETABLES.

A Food Expert Says That is Why the Koreans Are Indolent.

Dr. Ugen Ishizuka, a well known dietitian, who recently made a trip of observation in Korea, Manchuria and other parts of China, ascribes the docility and indolence of the Koreans to their predominantly vegetarian diet. To make them more alert and active, he urges, it is necessary to encourage the use of much more animal food among them.

The radish is the article of food most relished by Koreans, who call it the wild ginseng and eat it raw. But the most remarkable thing about their love of vegetable food is the tremendous amount of cayenne pepper that they take. About one-fifth of the vegetables on sale at markets is red pepper.

Instead of soy sauce, the Koreans use the juice of salted fish. For pickles they use a mixture of salted radish, Chinese rape, onion, rocambolo and cayenne pepper. This preparation has an excellent flavor and is eaten at every meal. An average family keeps enough of this preparation to last a year.

An alarming number of Koreans are suffering from parasites, chiefly due, in Dr. Ishizuka's opinion, to the crabs they eat in great quantity.—East and West News.

Big Noses in Japan.

The nose plays a very important part in Japan, owing, probably, to the fact that a difference in nose constitutes about the only distinction among the Japanese. The nose is the only feature which attracts attention. As there are very few large noses to be found in Japan, a lady with a large nose is regarded as one specially gifted by nature. She is invariably a reigning beauty and the envy of her less favored sisters. In all Japanese pictures in which ladies are portrayed the artists are particularly careful to make the nose of liberal dimensions.—London Telegraph.

Palaces of Thebes.

The palaces of old Thebes, in Egypt, were probably the largest and most wonderful ever erected by the hand of man. One of them was the container of a central hall 80 feet in height, 325 feet in length and 179 feet in breadth, the roof of which was supported by 134 columns 11 feet in diameter and 78 feet in height. The cornices were of the finest marble, inlaid with ivory work and sheathed with beaten gold. From the point of view of artistic beauty, the Parthenon at Athens, Greece, of course, still holds the palm and is likely always to hold it.

Hotel Jokes.

Man to hotel clerk—How much are your rooms? Clerk—Two dollars up to twelve. Man—How much are they up to half past five?

Another Man to another hotel clerk—Give me a room and a bath. Hotel Clerk—I can give you a room, but I haven't time to give you a bath.

And Now He's Fired.

"What do you mean by whistling like that in this office?" demanded the merchant.

"Well, sir, I thought I'd like you to know that I'm bearing up cheerfully in spite of my miserable salary," answered the clerk.—Newark Eagle.

Reped For More.

Mrs. Chestnut: Who was that man I saw you with yesterday?

Mrs. Walnut: That was my husband.

"Oh, your last husband?"

"Don't say the last. It sounds as if you were trying to discourage me!"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Modern Plows.

The modern plow was a Dutch invention. Englishmen and Americans have made many improvements in this implement, but for many years the Dutch plow led the world.

Weeping over lost opportunities is a mistake, the tears may prevent you from seeing others that are coming.

Vacuum Cup Tires

A tag on every tire which guarantees 6000 miles

But it's a rare instance when this mileage is not far in excess of the guarantee.

☛ A real no-skid tire. Holds the car to the road whether wet or greasy. If it does not, returnable and money refunded, after a reasonable trial.

☛ Oil Proof, too. Contact with oil or grease leads to no deteriorating effects.
