This afternoon for the children's program at Ravinia Park, a very attractive program has been arranged. Little Joan Peers, the seven year old dancer who is a pupil of Mrs. Arend Van Vliessen will appear. Those who attended the opening of the outdoor stage at the Boehm estate last summer saw this charming little dancer will make an effort to see her again. Miss Isabel Cayer, aged eleven years, a pupil of the Hazel Wallack School of dancing will also appear in a special program. Student artist day program for tomorrow is Miss Isabel B. Cline, lyric soprano, who will sing, Come Beloved, Handel; Ombra leggiera (Dinorah) Meyerbeer; My Heart Ever Faithful, Bach; Mr. Bruno Steindel will give a cello obligato. Mr. Gilbert Ross, violinist will also appear.

Mrs. Daniel Cobb entertained informally on Friday afternoon for her guest, Mrs. T. R. Salter of New Orleans.

The Luther League of the Swedish Lutheran Church of Highwood, met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Astor Benson.

Mrs. Adams of Winnetka entertained the members of the Worth White Circle last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. Tyner was hostess on Friday at luncheon honoring her guest Miss Gloria Kirk. The decorations were of pink and blue.

Interest and enthusiasm continue to be shown at Ravinia Park. Operas and concerts attract as many people as in the earlier part of the season. Among those recently seen in boxes in the pavilion are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Vail, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Vail, Mrs. Itel, Mrs. Ralph Bard. Many soldiers and sailors attend the performances and a box full of uniformed men is not an unusual sight. Many gayly dressed young ladies flock to the afternoon concerts, and plying their knitting needles convert the concert pavilion into quite a manufacturing plant, turning out sweaters, socks, scarfs and all sorts of comforts for our boys in service. Everybody goes to the dancing pavilion, too and every evening sees just as big a crowd as the night before. Over Saturday and Sunday, of course, many more people go. The music is good and the service most satisfactory. Long live Ravinia Park!

You need not think because a fellow is just three years old that he can't entertain his friends at a birthday party. 'Deed he can and and right royally too. Jerome Stever III proved this on Thursday when about ten of his little friends, at his bidding came in to celebrate his third birthday. Games, and some very good things to eat were features of the afternoon, and each little guest was given a souvenir of their delightful occasion when he returned home. Among those who were present were Betty and Marjory Van Kirk of Evanston, Nancy Ferguson, Chicago, and Frances Deming, Roland Hastings, Jr., Elizabeth and Marlon Flinn and Marguerite Sullivan.

Miss Bessie Waterhouse entertained ten girls Wednesday evening at her home on Bloom Street.

TRINITY CHURCH

Work is going nicely on the Trinity Bazar to be held in November and each committee is doing its work, perfecting details which will help make the affair a success. The Preserves and Canned Goods Committee, consisting of Mrs. McCauley and Miss Turnley as co-chairmen, will be a feature of the sale. Others on this committee are Mesdames Noble Crandall, W. J. Loderback, Tom Wyles, Frederick Ullmann, and George R. Nichols.

AN APPEAL—TO ILLINOIS

A call straight to the heart of America, on behalf of the men bleeding and dying to save this nation, has been issued by Henry P. Davison, chairman of the American Red Cross War Council.

Heed it! Let Illinois do its part toward mobilizing the twenty million members of the American Red Cross which must be in line this winter if this country's fighting forces are to be cared for. Let those who have joined in the splendid work that has already rolled up a Red Cross membership of 800,000 in Illinois remember that there are still 5,000,000 people in the state who are not in the Red Cross. Let those who may be weary with their labors remember that men are fighting and suffering at the battle front without ceasing in order that this nation's homes and liberties may be saved.

Let them remember and return with renewed vigor to the task of carrying the Red Cross message to those not yet awake to the seriousness of the conflict.

No one who stays at home in this struggle for democracy can justify himself to posterity if he has not at least turned over his hand to stanch by proxy the wounds of those who have offered their lives for his safety. Read Mr. Davison's inspiring plea, and return to the campaign with new energy.

W. D. Thurber,

Director Illinois Red Cross Membership Campaign.

FOR HOUSEWIVES

How to use fresh fruit and vegetables as conservers of staple food is the subject of a new Farmer's Bulletin, 871, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. In order that this bulletin may be ready in practically unlimited quantities for the emergency campaign now being conducted by the department to save perishable fruits and vegetables which are going to waste in 24 states of the Union, orders were given to the Government Printing office to put this bulletin on fast presses.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 copies can be turned out daily, and this rate will be kept up as long as the need and the demand last. Copies will be mailed free on request to Division of Publication, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Speak Clearly, When You Use the Telephone

To recognize and understand spoken sounds, it is not necessary that they should be loud.

The faintest speech is readily understood if it is only clear.

Clearness of tone, therefore, plays a most important part in successful telephone usage.

It will follow if, with the lips directly in front of and nearly touching the transmitter, each word is spoken distinctly, in a quiet, moderate tone.

GOOD WAY TO CAN TOMATOES

A good, economical way to can tomatoes in the South, says the United States Department of Agriculture, is to pack firm whole fruits in a jar and fill in the spaces with a concentrated tomato sauce. Each quart jar then will provide whole tomatoes for salads or baking and a tomato puree for soups or sauces. The department's recipe is as follows:

Details of Method

Select firm, uniformly red, ripe tomatoes of medium size. Put into trays and lower into boiling water for one minute. Remove, plunge into cold water, drain, and cut out the core with a slender-pointed knife without cutting into the seed cells. Peel promptly and pack into jars. To each pint add one level teaspoonful of a mixture of one-third salt and two-thirds sugar. Fill the jars with a thick tomato sauce made by cooking the small or broken tomatoes until tender. Remove the seeds and skins by straining the pulp — and concentrate it by boiling to about the consistency of ketchup. Adjust the rubber and cap, place the packed jars on a false bottom in a vessel of water which reaches almost to their tops, and keep at boiling temperature for 25 minutes. Remove the jars from the water bath and tighten the covers immediately.

Growing children need more tissue-building foods than do persons whose growth is completed. Milk, eggs, meat fish, cheese and legumes are all tissue-building foods, but milk and eggs are best for young children.
