A military wedding took place on Sunday evening at Fort Sheridan at the home of Major and Mrs. Robert G. Peck, when Miss Dorothy Dayton Fessenden, daughter of this city and Lieut. Paul S. The first meeting of the Young Musicians Club was held Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. F. L. Boynton, where a dozen children and several mothers gathered for a program and business meeting of the club, which is made up of the children who are studying piano music with Estelle A. Phillips. The object of this club is to create interest and encourage progress and its motto is "Do your best!" That everyone did his best at the first meeting was evident from the noticeable improvement over last year's programs, which both the mothers and the children were quick to note. The program consisted of little solos and duets especially appropriate to the autumn season and the Halloween spirit. Those who played were Edith Vail, Sarah Margaret Mills, Helen Boynton, Fritz Boynton, Junior Lafean, Edwin Rothschild, Everett Mills, and Cutler Mott. The next meeting will be held Saturday, December eighth.

If you want to see real appreciation for what is done for the soldiers and sailors by Highland Park people go over to the Army and Navy Center on Saturday or Sunday afternoons, stand outside and observe the happy expressions on the faces of those boys who come out from the rooms. Or, if you are a hostess, you hear many expressions of how much the men appreciate what the generous citizens are doing for the many boys, far from home. Then there are the individuals who are always entertaining the men in their homes. Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Vail, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dickinson and hosts of others have invited the boys from the R. O. T. C. to spend week ends with them. The Y. W. C. A. is serving meals to the men, and housing their lads for them, the churches are trying in every way to make the boys feel at home. The Highland Park Club is offering a series of Saturday evening entertainments. Last week Mr. Lee Nichols, who has seen service in the trenches and who lost his right arm at Ypres spoke to a most enthusiastic audience. The lecture was preceded by a humorous sketch by Al Smith. Informal dancing followed. Next Saturday evening Dr. James M. Ness will speak an conditions in Bernese Switzerland, and hooray! there is going to be vaudeville. Some mighty snappy stuff will be given. So you see the pleasure of the boys at Fort Sheridan is always considered.

The Trinity Parish House was attractively decorated on Friday evening for the Junior and Senior Department parties, given at that time. The Juniors entertained first and enjoyed games and ghost stories told by Miss Schumacher. The Seniors held their party later and indulged in informal dancing. At both occasions war time refreshments were served and everyone had a great time.

The girls, Nellie and Eloise Brown, Victorine and Margaret Day, Alice Knox, Lois and Marion Huber, Helen de Anguera, Marjorie Carr, Susan and Jacqueline Hartman, Catherine Mayer and Helen Thompson gave a little play, "The Straw Phantom" to benefit the Red Cross. These little girls gave the play under their own direction and were very successful. The characters represented the different nations, each appearing in a costume, which gave a colorful charm to the event. Fancy dancing made the affair very pretty. Miss Hazel Brown aided in the production of the play. A sum of twenty dollars was turned over to the use of the Red Cross.

School, were the judges. The canned goods were of many different varieties. Faith Reichelt having 57 varieties, Virginia Supple 87 and Dorothy Supple 82.

Mrs. John Taylor of Chicago, is a lecturer on Registration and Food Conservation in the Grammar school Friday evening under the auspices of the Deerfield Unit of the Council of National Defense, advised her hearers to diminish their table supplies, that more people die by over-eating than by any other cause, that we can diminish our food supply forty per cent without impairing our health. Accumulate more health and less food. Institute a no waste campaign and report any noticeable and flagrant violation of the food laws. We are slaves to tradition in the matter of food and should study the problem of substitution. Bread and bullets must win this war. No child is too young, and no person is too old nor too ignorant to enter this conservation campaign. Mrs. Taylor finished her address with the plea that we make the cookstoves an altar for freedom and democracy.

Registration of the women will be held in the school every day between Nov. 5th and 10th between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

The patriotic gathering in the school hall Monday evening consisted of the following program: A group of songs "My Own United States," "The Scout Song, under Oh! Mighty Land" were sung by the Grammar school children. Willard Goldring gave a reading "The Flag is Passing By" and Agnes Petersen another "Warren's Address at Bunker Hill." Mrs. Walter Brewster gave a very touching address on the "Fatherless Children of France." The Fatherless Children of France is an organization formed in 1915 and formerly called the Orphan Society of France. This organization has correspondence with 500 children in France. Mrs. Brewster read a letter she had received from a girl in France, fifteen years of age. The letter is very beautiful, pathetic and touching, for the girl describes the terrible horrors of war, and the cruelty of the ruthless Germans. Bread is no longer white and sugar is rationed. The women look to America for aid, and are pleased with any service sent them by American women. Mrs. Brewster put great stress on the fact that this war is fought for the children, the coming generations. The French women have given up everything but their children and it is up to us to save the children for them if we can do nothing else. Mrs. Brewster's address certainly gave an insight in the terrible conditions existing in France. The program was ended by the singing of America and the Star Spangled Banner.

THE USE OF POWERFUL DRUGS WHEN TESTING THE EYES FOR GLASSES IS DANGEROUS

There is ample authority to prove that attacks of glaucoma (impairment of vision or ultimately blindness) have been caused by atropine, drops are claimed by some, necessary to relax the accommodation. Optometrists do this by the use of lenses, but their method does not paralyze the muscles, hence the eyes are being examined in their living functioning condition. This is more efficient, but not harmful, and this profession is advancing rapidly.

The testing of eyes for lenses is a mathematical and practical science, and has no more to do with medical education than religion has to do with the undertaker.
