Halg's new drive, unlike the Hun article, is always in the right direction. The air of London is full of talk of reprisals. While every one will disapprove, many feel that a coward must be dealt with as a coward.

Milk autocrats must learn that straffing the consumer will lead eventually to reprisals. Yassar girls are now cutting grass on the campus. At all seasons they manage to cut some ice.

Hindenburg is alarmed by the German shell shortage. The allies should worry. Germany talks so arrogantly that manifestly it does not really understand the fine art of bluffing.

Germany as yet has not been able to negotiate a peace to its liking either by fighting or by bribery.

"Turning the other cheek" is more than mere religious sentiment. It gets the other fellow's goat, which is good business. Cheap printing is poor economy, always. The only one it influences is the janitor who empties the baskets and sells the paper.

Most of us have to hit the trail and hunt for business. It's those who give unusual service who are sent for. Do your Christmas shopping early. This means you, not us. Our last month's coal bill cleaned us up.

Chancellor Michaelis may report only to the Kaiser—but other reports indicate that when he does so he will use colored glasses. A man who uses good printing never hates to look his monthly trial balance in the face.

It is about time for the government to conscript labor. It has conscripted the young men it has conscripted capital, and now it is time for Congress to pass a law authorizing the Government to conscript every man, if necessary, who can do manual labor. Many of them are refusing to "do their bit."

for the encouragement and welfare of the defenders of our country in this war."

Captain Morgan reported the very successful Patriotic Meeting held last week and a letter of thanks is to be sent each speaker. These meetings will be held regularly and try as we may we cannot be patriotic enough. Maximilian Hardin, the Berlin Publicist has written "Germany willed this war" for conquest and world domination.

Let America will that Germany shall lose this war and freedom will be preserved to your children and to your children's children. Are you a patriot? If you are not buy a one-way ticket half way across the Atlantic is the advice of Warren Milby in the following article:

"If any one on God's green and beautiful earth ought to be proud to be an American citizen, it would seem that party should be no other than a German-American citizen.

Coming from a land where the government owns everything the people included, to a land where the freedom of the will may be freely expressed, sometimes running riot over into the edge of treason; to a land where every opportunity of wealth, position, advancement and fame are afforded, coming to a land where the sunshine of freedom permeates and radiates the atmosphere of liberty, I say, coming to this land with all these benefits, then in the hour of its tragedy to turn a cold shoulder to the land that has fed them, is basest ingratitude. If I could imagine myself such an ingrate as not to appreciate this land of promise above every other land, I would certainly feel like landing on myself for a proper punishment.

Whether this is our country by naturalization or free birth it should be none the less dear to us. If the songs of America, "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Red, White and Blue" and the sight of Old Glory with its 48 stars and thirteen stripes awaken no spark of emotion in your breast, then you have no part in this glorious land of ours. What you should do is to exit. Buy a one-way, half-way ticket across the Atlantic, get off in the middle, submerge, and join that innumerable caravan of submarine victims at the bottom of the seas. -Mason City Banner.

BUILDINGS AT CAPITOL CITY FOR OFFICIALS

Government Erects Structure to Care for Many People Who Are in War Service

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7, 1917.—One of the manifold problems presented by the war is that of furnishing adequate office accommodations for the thousands of additional officials, clerks, and other Federal servants who are pouring into Washington. The government is exercising its prerogative in this direction and has commandeered conveniently located office buildings and apartment houses with a free hand. In addition, it is erecting huge temporary structures for use as offices, and in the building of these contractors are breaking time records for construction work. A building to house the six hundred officials and clerks of the Council of National Defense, containing more than 100,000 square feet of floor space, was erected and fully equipped in fifty-three days. Similar buildings nearby are for the use of the forces of the Food Administration, Fuel Administration, and Army Ordnance. Work is well under way on a mammoth structure which will cover three city blocks to house the overflow of the War and Navy Departments, the contract for which calls for completion in four months.

By these methods the Government keeps in advance of its actual needs. At the present rate of increase the usual 25,000 Federal employees in Washington will be more than doubled if the war continues another year. Workers of all kinds are being appointed, stenographers and typewriters and draftsmen for the service generally, and what are known as schedule clerks, index and catalogue clerks, clerks qualified in statistics or accounting, and clerks qualified in business administration for the Ordnance Department of the Army, being in great demand.

Representatives of the Federal civil service commission at the post offices in all cities are the official recruiting agents for the great civilian army, an army of a half million behind the men behind the guns.
