YES, good plumbing and heating is a boon. That caveman stuff may appeal to us as a story and may look quite dramatic upon the screen, but that good old solid, comfortable plumbing hits us right where we live.

Council of National Defense WOMAN'S COMMITTEE

Official News Notes on all War Work

Registration has come to an end. In Highland Park some 1240 women appeared to declare themselves—so many, in fact, that the registrars found it necessary to send a hurry call for more cards to neighboring towns. This was one of those rare occasions when it is more glorious to borrow than to lead. Everything, during registration week, went with calmness and dispatch of a very satisfactory sort and great, deep and sincere thanks are offered to the registrars who gave much of their time and energy, first to mastering the complicated game of registration and then to practicing their acquired skillfulness upon the unsuspecting ladies who came into the ring.

If any one, by some grave mischance, failed to register and now regrets thereof, she may still slip in by calling Miss Brown (Tel. 25) and making an appointment for a private session.

Army and Navy Center

All summer long three ladies, Mrs. A. Schwab, Mrs. Ed. Steele and Mrs. Nathan Leopold have been providing the Army and Navy Center with candies in unbelievably large quantities, the which the soldiers have done their best to dispose of. It may be added that, in matters of this sort, our soldiers meet with astonishing success. Their capacity for candy knows no bounds. However, the three courageous ladies continue their generous gifts and all is well.

On Saturday, November 24th, the Center proposes to serve a buffet Thanksgiving supper to those of the men in uniform who care to come and partake of it. This festivity is somewhat in the nature of a farewell reception for the men of the second R. O. T. C. But it does not dispose of the question of Thanksgiving dinner proper. Undoubtedly there will be many men still at the Port on Thanksgiving day and possibly there may be those amongst us who would be glad to brighten their Thanksgiving board with a uniform or two. Hence the Center plans to post a notice with a box where men in need of entertainment will put their names. These names will be taken charge of by Mrs. R. C. Jacobsen (Tel. 250) and any Highland Parkers who care to take in a stray lad or two will please communicate with her.

The other day a solitary soldier (playing pool in the Center) confided to one of the ladies of the committee as follows:

"I've just been having a 'leave' of three days, ma'am, and I've been spending it at this room. I thought of going to Chicago, ma'am, but I'm a lad that drinks sometimes and if I had gone to the city I'd have been drunk all the time. I've got sixty dollars, too, and I figured that I'd spend all that, besides. So I decided just to spend my leave at the Army and Navy Center, instead." This is the sort of thing that inspires the committee to offer itself a rising vote of congratulation.

This week Mr. W. R. Ruffner announced that he would hereafter provide the Center with all the coffee it cared to use.

Red Cross Shop

Such a pretty pastime has recently been devised—in Ravinia—for restless husbands in need of a light evening entertainment. This is it. They are taken to the Ravinia Red Cross shop and permitted to roll bandages. Yes, they are. Oh, yes, yes, yes. Moreover, it is reported, the r. h. s. of R. are showing a promising aptness to the dainty art, which is daily becoming more vogue amongst them. Ah, do not jeer! Have you not been electrified by the string story of a certain Ravinia gentleman who refused to attend the recent patriotic rally because he has attained such proficiency at the "eight yard roll" that he did not feel that his services could well be spared for the evening at the "shop." Well—(pause)—aren't there any restless husbands in Highland Park?

Several million surgical dressings have recently been called for by the National Red Cross. The women of Highland Park have responded well to the call and work is going in with rapidity. Gauze has been cut on the automatic paper cutter at the Highland Park Press. However, more workers and more supervisors are needed.

The Red Cross Shop at the Presbyterian church will be open every Thursday evening from 7 to 9:30, beginning Nov. 22.

WITH THE BOWLERS

Captain Ori's team took two from Lencioni's, both five averaging well over the eight hundred mark. Joe Guerri getting high game of the first nights play with a 224 count, Ori with a total of 589 closely followed by Lencioni with 580 pins were the leaders of their teams.

The league schedules will be in the Press this week, and will be ready for the bowlers some time next week.

Three teams are lined up for the big Chicago city meet, entries closing Friday night. Fee is $1.00 a man in each event.

The first games of the Highland Park Business Men's League were rolled Tuesday night. The eight teams will be named this week.

Pitiful as the Zeppelin raids prove, the "sausages" have to be kept going in order to impress the German people.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The next meeting of the Westminster Guild will be held on Monday, Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Elisha Morgan, N. Linden Ave.

The last meeting was held at the home of Miss Katherine Yoe, the members of the Guild being most fortunate in having Mrs. Arthur Vercoe with them to tell some of the interesting experience of her life when a missionary in Africa.

Rev. James G. K. McClure will continue to occupy the pulpit at the 11 o'clock service on Sunday mornings and we are sure his message will be received by the usual large congregation. There is of course a hearty welcome for all of our people and we trust to see the church filled at each service.

The notice for the chorus to be trained by Mr. Kreidler for the Christmas Cantata will appear in the church calendar. This is open to every member of the church and congregation.

Next Wednesday evening will be the usual prayer meeting combined with a congregational meeting adjourned from last evening for the purpose of finishing the business left over, in regard to the selection of a new pastoral committee.

Schumacher where for ten cents you may bring up a mystery parcel from the depths of the well and there will be a table showing the excellent work being done by the Junior Auxiliary.

Miss Towner with her household utilities will make a specialty of braided bath room rugs and oh, such a lovely collection of aprons, and Mrs. Irving Randall says what can not be found in the way of bags at her table is not worth having. She and her assistants have some stunning creations in the collar and cuff sets warranted to make a new frock out of an old one. All the doll family will be found at Mrs. Gidden's table even black Mammy will be there looking after her little white "chil-lun."

Individual and household needs may be supplied from the attractive and reasonably priced articles on display and if any one is too busy to go during the day time they will find relaxation and fun in Mrs. Cobb's variety entertainment in the evening which is to be a collection of separate features put on by well known local talent. There will be a showing of cartoons by E. J. Hill of the Tribune posed by—well, we are not allowed to say who there will be a cycle of dances portraying the colonial, the civil war time and the modern, the costumes and the young women in them will be most attractive. Then the last number will be announced from the stage, nine young women will take part in it, for 25c there will be $2.00 a seat show and if you buy your entrance with your dinner ticket you will be ten cents to the good.

Fire and Burglar Proof

THE VAULTS OF THE HIGHLAND PARK STATE BANK

Experts examining from time to time the vaults of the Highland Park State Bank with their modern electrical equipment, invariably have pronounced the same fire and burglar proof.

For twelve years many of the bank's customers have enjoyed the comfort of safety through the tenancy of one of the safety deposit boxes or the storing of trunks and valuables in this wonderfully constructed vault.

In response to an increasing demand we just installed a tier of new deposit boxes. Some already are occupied. In order to rent quickly the remaining ones we make the special offer of

NORTHWESTERN WALLOPS MICHIGAN 39 TO 6

By George E. Phillips
Somewhere in the fourth quarter Coach Fred J. Murphy shot his twenty-fifth man into the Northwestern-Michigan Aggie game at Evanston last Saturday. When he did so he finally got down to the Aggie class for they could do nothing with either the regular or second team of Purple line men for a touchdown. But the only trouble was that the Northwestern team had amassed a total of thirty nine points while the Michigan Aggies were getting their single touchdown.
