Now is the time for every good eater to come to the aid of his country.

This year the man who talks about the weather talks on an exceedingly serious topic.

Remember that being slave to your eating habits is one way of helping the Kaiser.

"The Germans have no soap" says an exchange. They have no use for it. Soap cannot be eaten.

An inspection of railroad methods discloses that the Government has had no monopoly of red tape.

The only thing that worries newlyweds is that Herb Hoover may come out any moment with a request for a kissless day.

The central powers are now talking of "modified" proposals, but they'll be denatured before acceptance by the allies.

A Maryland man who married a widow with six children six months ago has waived exemption and is ready to go to war.

By keeping out of Petrograd politics as far as possible Nicholas Romanoff has greatly increased his reputation for sagacity.

If anybody should ask you again "Why is Los Angeles?" tell him it is because the thermometer registered 34 degrees warm there Sunday.

The Government is not superstitious. It is going to issue a 13-cent stamp.

The intelligent pacifist is one who believes that the way to secure peace is to face the inevitable and get the war over with.

Speaking of the proposal to close schools to save fuel, some of the kids are willing to fight it out on that line if it "takes all winter."

The proper study of mankind (just now) is the food question. Meatless days and wheatless days are sure steps towards fightless days.

In the matter of food do not mistake substitution for starvation. The United States Food Administration asks you for the former in order to guard against the latter.

Practice food conservation for the sake of your stomach, for the sake of your pocketbook, for the sake of your country or for any other reason under the sun, but—BE SURE YOU DO IT.

Wearing Down the Kaiser

Many are familiar with the fable that appeared in the old school readers about the king who offered a fortune and the hand of his daughter to the man who could tell him a story that would last forever in the telling, with the stipulation, however, that, in case the story came to an end, the person who failed to complete it was to lose his head by the sword.

A number of adventurous spirits lost their heads in the attempt to keep a serial going forever to amuse the eccentric monarch, but one man finally won the fortune and the daughter by wearing out the very soul of the king with the story about the locusts carrying off the corn. "And then another locust came and carried off another grain of corn," etc., etc., until the king decided he had had enough of the story.

America—in fact the whole world, is dealing with an "eccentric" monarch today. This monarch wants the impossible, and every one who refuses to give it to him must lose his head. This is one way to deliver the peoples of the world from this menace.

Kaiser Wilhelm can be worn out, if he cannot be crushed by one tremendous blow. And the Government at Washington has pointed out the Money will defeat the Kaiser. Small savings, like the locusts, coming along from 110,000,000 American citizens, will wear out the soul of the war-mad monarch. American money can wear out any army in the world because there is a great deal of American money and there are many Americans who have it. Just a mere matter of a quarter a day from every wage earner in the United States would mean billions of dollars every year to buy guns and foods for soldiers and ships to carry them across the Atlantic to defeat the sinister purposes of the Kaiser and his crew. A quarter, like the grain of corn, is not much in itself, but millions of quarters every day mean victory for righteousness and humanity.

WAR SAVING STAMPS Everywhere in Illinois

Blizzards may slow up the fighting armies in Europe, but they only add impetus to the War Savings campaign in Illinois. All over the state the children have seized eagerly upon the record snows as an opportunity to earn money to buy thrift stamps. The work they have done forms no inconsiderable amount of the total effort toward keeping sidewalks and roads clear. Thousands of boys and girls, too, for that matter, have wielded snow shovels with unwonted vigor, and the money they have thus earned has gone into the purchase of thrift stamps.

"Organize War Savings Societies." This is the message of the War Savings Committee for Illinois. "There should be one in every shop, every factory, every office and every store. There should be one in every church and every lodge. Wherever people are thrown together there should be a War Savings Society. Patriotic support of the government in the war will be fostered by every one."

"But the War Savings Society may be small. It may embrace only the members of your own family. Let the father and the mother and the children belong and let them all engage in a friendly rivalry to see who can get the most thrift and war savings stamps. You will be amazed at the amount of money one family can save in little bits if it is organized into a frisking war savings society and keeps at it for a year. Every member of the family will become an investor; will hold good paying government securities, and they will never miss the money they have saved."

What the Sammy Says About the Government

The following is a letter written to Mr. John B. Whitney of this city, by a cousin of his in France in the United States Service.

Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. Assn. With the Colors.

Somewhere in France, Dec. 28, 1917.

Dear Cousin John:
I am now in France and while I am here I wish you would look after my mother as she is all I have in the world.

We had a pleasant voyage across the water. The weather here is cold and snow on the ground.

The government sure takes good care of its soldiers, fully equipped with warm clothing and good meals.
