ONLY a licensed physician is permitted by law to hold himself out to the public as a doctor; this is not true in the cleaning business. Very attractive indeed, was the wedding of Miss Katharine Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Dean, of this city and Dr. James P. Fitzgerald of New York City, which took place at noon Saturday. The immaculate Conception Church where the wedding took place was very prettily decorated in smilax and lilies. Rev. Francis J. Finn, S. J. of Cincinnati, uncle of the bride read the service. Mr. Jack Dean served as best man in place of Dr. Paul Fitzgerald who was to have served his brother; owing to the fact that he was detained in camp on military duty and was unable to attend the ceremony. Mrs. Somers Davidson Lamson of St. Louis, acted as matron of honor and Miss Amy Dean attended her sister as maid of honor. The wedding dress was of white tulle and silver lace over a satin foundation, and a tulle veil. The bridal bouquet was a combination of lilies of the valley and orchids. The attendants of the bride wore chiffon in varying shades of larkspur and carried bouquets of iris and pink roses. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at "Deanwood" the residence of the bride's parents. The bride's table was heart shaped with a large floral piece in the center. Various kinds of spring flowers were used as decorations throughout the house. The young couple left for Washington, D. C. where they will remain indefinitely. The bridegroom is with the medical reserve corps.

The Seven Jolliers gave a most successful dancing party last Saturday evening at Witten Hall.

Misses Gertrude Witten and Eleanor Beck gave a very delightful dancing party Tuesday evening in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Decorations of red and white appropriate to Valentine's day were used.

Glasses Are a Necessity — Uncle Sam Says So

In the drastic fuel order recently promulgated by the administration at Washington, "Manufacturers of optical goods are permitted to operate that portion of their factories where special orders for eye-glasses are made."—"Glasses are a Necessity."

Illinois Order as to Factories Chicago, Jan. 24.—The Illinois Fuel Administrator, J. E. Williams, issued the following, among new orders:

"No. 23. Manufacturers of optical goods may operate that portion of their factories in which special orders for eye-glasses are made. Nothing in this order will permit of such manufacturers to operate their factories as a whole."

A telegram received Tuesday of this week by the Journal from B. H. Whitney, secretary of the Massachusetts Optometry Board, says:

"The Massachusetts Fuel Administrator, in written ruling today, places optometrists in same class with dentists and physicians with light privileges."

FIRST UNITED EVAN.

Corner of Green Bay Road and Laurel Avenue. C. G. Unangst, pastor.

The War Service Commission of the United Evangelical Church, requests that next Sunday shall be observed as a day of special prayer for the many men and the women who have gone out from our homes, schools, and churches into the services of the nation. There must be no breaking down of spiritual standards or this war, however brilliant the victory at arms may be, will be a lost triumph. We at home and they at the front must come out of this struggle stronger spiritually if the sacrifice is to be worth the making. The recommendations of the War Service Commission will be carried out in detail at our service next Sunday. There will be special music for the occasion. Among the decorations the service flag will be displayed and the young men who have gone forth from our congregation will be given special recognition and their comrades will be remembered in prayer.

At 10:45 a. m. the pastor will preach on "Four Facts About Prayer."

The subject for the evening's discourse at 7:30 will be "What Must I Do to be Saved?"

Sunday School at 9:30 a. m. Lesson, "Jesus Teaching by Parables—Four Kinds of Ground." Mark 4:1-9 and 14-20.

K. L. C. E. at 6:30 p. m. Topic, "What My Church is Doing" 1. Thes. 1:2-8. Led by the Pastor.

Shining pins that dart and click
In the fireside's sheltered peace
Check the thoughts that cluster thick—
20 plain and then decrease.

He was brave—well, so was I—
Keen and merry, but his lip
Quivered when he said good-bye—
Purl the seam-stitch, purl and slip.

Never used to living rough,
Lots of things he's got to learn;
Wonder if he's warm enough—
Knit 2, catch 2, knit 1, turn.

Hark! The paper boys again!
Wish that shout could be suppressed;
Keeps one always on the strain—
Knit off 6, and slip the rest.

Wonder if he's fighting now,
What he's done and where he's been;
He'll come out on top, somehow—
Slit 1, knit 2, purl 11.

The new machines have arrived for the garment department of The Red Cross Shop and with them 100 more garments to be made within the month. This time they are of the softest pink and blues, to cater, perhaps, to the aesthetic sense of the willing workers, but in any case to be made into the most acceptable hospital invalid underclothing. One of the shop's best workers has set a record of 6 a day. We call that equal to the far-famed, Pair-of-socks-a-day Lady.

"Ain't it a grand and glorious feeling!"
An Idea for Briggs.

E. M. C. aptly suggests: "When you've been told to make 5 split irrigation pads before February 20th, and you've entirely forgotten how, and you study it out all over again, and after great difficulty get the correct number of pounds of material given you, and work and work, and work, and have an awful time because you can't get them all the same thickness, and decide that absorbent cotton is an anathema and breathe ounces of unabsorbent cotton up your nose, and prick your fingers full of holes, and put the split in one at the side instead of in the middle, and decide that none of them will be accepted, and you'll have to do them all over again, and take them into town, by hand, to make sure—and the lady at the desk takes your name and smiles and says "Perfectly lovely," without even opening them.—say, ain't it a Grand and Glorious Feeling?"

A special meeting of the Daughters of the Flag has been called for today, Thursday, Feb. 14, at the home of Mrs. John D. Purdy, 108 N. Sheridan Road to work on quilts. All members are asked to bring new pieces of cotton goods of any color to be cut into 4 inch squares. Two sets of baby clothes have been sent to The French Wounded as the result of the girls' recent work. The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Sidney Miller the first Saturday in March.

Pictures of the Army and Navy Center to be used in publicity work were taken by Brand's Studio on Saturday. On Sunday, the reception to meet Mr. H. M. K. Smith, of the War and Navy Committee on Training Camp Activities was held with great success. Mr. Smith gave a stirring address, and Mayor Hastings, responded in behalf of the town. The rooms were filled with the Center's many friends, who realized, perhaps, as never before, the larger aspects of the work they were helping to accomplish.

The hostesses for the coming week are to be: Saturday, Mrs. Robert W. Buckley, and her committee; Sunday, Miss Edith Lindstrom, and ladies of the Luther League.

Two beautiful flags, the Army and Navy Flags now adorn the windows of the Center, a gift of Mrs. A. P. Smith.

The new consignment of wool for the Navy Relief has at last arrived, and knitters are in order. The new bathrobe patterns have also arrived, and the workers will have a change next week from the much needed, but, in time wearisome, fling of Comfrot Bags. A consignment of K. O. S. N. (short for Keep Our Soldiers Warm) is soon to be received, which is to be made into sweaters. This is a new material, somewhat like Eiderdown with more stretch to it, which will be used to supplement the knitted sweaters to answer the many calls for them.

Among the many helpful pamphlets issued by the government and the various state universities, are two we wish to commend to your attention. Corn meal as a Food and ways of using it. Farmers' Bulletin, 745, address Division of Publications, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture; and War Bread, issued by the Household Science department, University of Illinois.

Here also are some suggestions straight from the Food Administration as to Sugarless Desserts and Sauces.

Hot rice or hearty pudding (corn meal mush) served with a sweet sauce makes a simple wholesome dessert. Chopped raisins or dates may be added to either, but no sugar is needed.

Honey Sauce.
1 cup honey
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon butter substitute
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
A dash of nutmeg
Juice of 1 lemon or 2 tablespoons vinegar.

Boil together 15 minutes. The juice of one orange and grated peel may be used instead of lemon and seasoning in this recipe.

To one cup of maple syrup add on fourth cup of nut meats chopped fine. Heat and serve with hot rice. Add one square of melted chocolate to one cup of hot corn syrup. Season with vanilla.

Remember the Wheatless and Meatless days and keep them wholly!
