POTATO DISHES
Give Potatoes More Prominent Place in Bills of Fare—This Season's Crop of Tubers Very Large
The eating of more potatoes for supper or for luncheon if the family is accustomed to have dinner at night is a suggestion of the United States Department of Agriculture, in order that the tremendous crops of tubers in the United States this year may be utilized as fully as possible and spoilage avoided. Such increased use should, at the same time, bring about a saving of grain, since one common result of eating more potatoes is the eating of less wheat bread, which is a reasonable suggestion when one remembers that both of them are used as a source of starch in the diet. This reduction in grain consumption is desirable, the department points out, and there is great need of grain for shipment to our soldiers and to the soldiers and civilians of their countries engaged with us in the war against Germany.
Make Good Luncheon Dishes
The use of more potatoes for luncheon should be a simple matter, in the opinion of specialists of the Department of Agriculture since practically all Americans like potatoes and since there are numerous ways in which the tubers may be prepared to avoid a sameness in the diet. Potatoes, even in their simplest forms—baked and boiled—make good luncheon dishes. They may also be used for making a variety of dishes, such as creamed and scalloped potatoes, with or without cheese; stuffed potatoes; potato croquettes, and so on, combination dishes, such as hash, steamed meat pies with potato crusts, and so on, in which a considerable amount of potatoes is used with other foods, may constitute practically an entire luncheon, being hearty enough to serve for the purpose with a little salad or fruit or sweets.
The following recipes for potato dishes are a few of the many which the housewife will find useful in preparing supper or luncheon:
Fanned Potatoes
Cut cold boiled potatoes into quarter inch slices; dredge lightly with flour and fry in pan with a little butter. When light brown, heap on side of pan; let stand a few minutes, then loosen with a knife and turn out on a platter in much the same way that an omelet is taken out. Sprinkle with salt and serve at once.
Potato and Pork Stew
3 or 4 slices salt pork in small pieces.
4 medium sized potatoes.
1 onion.
1/2 cup water.
3/4 teaspoonful salt.
3/4 teaspoonful pepper.
Fry the pork in a deep frying pan until it is light brown; then to the pork and fat add the potatoes cut in one-half inch slices, and thinly sliced onions and seasonings. Add the water, cover closely and cook until the potatoes and onions are soft. The mixture should be stirred occasionally in order that the pork and vegetables may be thoroughly mixed. The "stew" as it was called in old times—for it is an old-fashioned dish—should be moist but not thin.
Scalloped Potatoes
Wash and pare potatoes; let them soak for a half hour and cut in one-fourth inch slices. Butter a baking dish, put in a layer of the sliced potato, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour, and dot over with one-half tablespoon of butter. (A little grated cheese may be sprinkled over each layer if desired). Repeat until the baking dish is nearly filled then cover with hot milk. Bake one and one-fourth hours in a moderate oven or place on the back of the stove and cook slowly.
Potato Salad
Cut cold boiled potatoes into half-inch cubes and season with salt and pepper, or a few drops of onion juice if desired. Heap in a mound in a salad dish and pour over all a cooked salad dressing; and, if one wishes, garnish around edge with a circle of lettuce and hard-boiled eggs.
For variety add to 3 cupfuls of potato one-half cupful of diced cold boiled beef and 2 tablespoonfuls chopped parsley or cheese; carrots and a little chopped celery leaf may be used if preferred.
Many cooked or canned left-over vegetables may be attractively used for salads. Diced turnips and carrots are often used in potato salad. Left-over beans, peas, etc., with finely diced potato may be used to fill tomato cups and served with any preferred dressing.
Cooked Salad Dressing
2 eggs.
3 tablespoonfuls vinegar.
3 tablespoonfuls water (cold).
1/2 teaspoonful salt.
2 teaspoonfuls sugar.
1/4 teaspoonful mustard, if desired.
Beat the eggs until light, then add salt, sugar, mustard, water, and vinegar and beat thoroughly. Cook over boiling water until thick, stirring constantly. Pour the hot dressing over the cold potatoes, and set away until cold. If preferred one can let the dressing got cold before using it, and this is best if other vegetables are used with the potato.

Potato Fritters

2 cups hot mashed potatoes.
4 tablespoonful milk.
1 tablespoonful salt; cayenne pepper, few grains.
2 eggs.
1/2 cup flour.
1-2 teaspoonful grated butter.
Add the milk and seasoning to the potatoes, then the eggs well beaten. Set in a pan of cold water and beat until cold. Add flour, mix well, and drop by spoonfuls in deep fat. Fry until brown and drain on brown paper. Put one-half teaspoonful jelly in each spoonful before frying. Roll in powdered sugar when done.

Try a New Way

It is claimed that there are more than 100 ways to cook potatoes, from the primitive (and still probably the best) methods of boiling or baking with the skins on to the most complex and seasoned dishes. Here are some of the ways known to the United States Department of Agriculture. Have you tried them all, or do you know about as many more?

ELM PLACE SCHOOL

Elm Place was in session until noon on Lincoln's birthday, and the greater portion of the morning was given up to exercises appropriate for the occasion. The older pupils met in one division and recited the Gettysburg address in unison and passages from the 2nd Inaugural. Some groups of pupils volunteered passages from Lowell's Commemoration Ode and individual pupils gave anecdotes and sketches of the life of Lincoln. Mr. Smith's collection of lantern slides illustrating the life of Lincoln were then shown with comment. This latter program was repeated with the children of the lower grades, including those of the kindergarten.

Next week has been announced as the week of patriotic song and it is planned to invite all the patrons of the school for an evening of community singing. Notices of this meeting will be sent out later.

The Parent-Teacher Association will have its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon February 20th. The program will be given by the teachers and pupils of the school and will consist of songs and recitations of patriotic selections.

Miss Jewett will give a demonstration lesson with pupils of two different grades. The program will begin at two o'clock in the afternoon an hour earlier than usual, and all
