MASS MEETING IS 100 PER CENT PATRIOTISM
Full House Greets Defense Council and Speakers Saturday Evening

The Pearl Theatre was a scene of 100 per cent patriotism on Saturday evening when the Highland Park Defense Council was host to the public. The Mass Meeting was a great success. Not a detail was forgotten to make the evening very pleasant. The music, all of a patriotic nature was in charge of Mr. Rollin Pease and was an attractive feature of the program.

Mr. F. S. Munro, representing the four minute men spoke on the Liberty Loan. Mr. Munro spoke forcefully of the part each one has in the Liberty Loan, stating that everyone may help in financing the war. He said that we will all be proud to say that America sent her men and her money which helped to win the war.

Prof. Theodore G. Soares of the University of Chicago spoke on "Fight the Next War Now." Prof. Soares' talk was based on facts, facts concerning the reasons for the war, facts which revealed the present attitude of the world toward the German Empire.

Lieutenant W. C. Hamilton M. C. a hero of Vimy Ridge gave an account of his experiences. He wore the attractive uniform of the Canadian Black Watch Regiment. Lieutenant Hamilton brought to his hearers the stern reality of war, leaving no doubt as to the justification of the action taken by the allied nations.

May the council of Defense of our good city see fit to give us another of these Mass Meetings.

owner or not, shall be 18 years of age and shall enroll in the Volunteer Training Corps, but is not sworn into State Service. He is uniformed, given a Sergeant's commission, and outside of a small amount of preliminary drilling to ensure smooth action as a unit, the driver and his car will only be called out when the need for Transport Service is urgent. In the time of such emergency we all surely would be glad to help, and this is practically all that enrollment in the Transport Train means in addition to the car. What car owner cannot make this small sacrifice? If you don't drive your car, can't you furnish a driver? Let each car owner put this question to himself and try to help Company C to get the Transport Train it needs.

Full information will be gladly furnished by any officer of Company C.

Here's the Spirit That Takes the "Rainbow" Fighters Over the Top
From Chicago Tribune

The following letter, written by a young officer with the Rainbow division, gives an idea of the spirit that is actuating the men who recently have been hurling back the German attacks on a sector of the west front. The author is Lieut. J. C. McMullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. McMullen, long resident of Chicago and now of New York. Lieut. McMullen was a senior in Harvard last spring when he left to join the officers' training camp at Plattsburg, where he received a commission as second lieutenant when barely 21. For a time he was at Camp Devens and later he was assigned to the Rainbow Division. Here is the letter written to his parents:

Somewhere in France, Feb. 22—
Dearest Mother and Father: There is nothing particular to write about today, as I covered my adventures pretty thoroughly in my last letter. The Russian peace is about as unpleasant an example of "might makes right" as I ever care to see. It is, of course, disgraceful, but probably inevitable, considering the anarchy in Russia. It seems, of course, all the more work for us for it gives Germany a new pride of power, a new and boundless food supply, new gold currency, takes away the eastern obstacle, and enables Germany to many more troops in the west, etc.

Moreover, we must now not only beat the Germans sufficiently to get our own aims satisfied, but we must also beat them so thoroughly as to break up absolutely the results of this nefarious peace; not because Russia deserves it—she doesn't deserve anything—but because we cannot, for the sake of future peace, let Germany keep such ill gotten spoils. On the surface it's hardly encouraging, but it's got to be "head up and win the war" with us every minute and we'll pull through. It won't be easy and it may take a long time, but we have to do it—there is no choice.

One comes to realize over here very poignantly what German domination would mean—our only alternative—and it is unthinkable. I have already seen and heard things one cannot well discuss, but do try to help make people realize at home that this war means everything, absolutely everything, that is worth while, and we've got to win it! I cannot make it too strong that there is no choice.

In rereading some of your letters I came across something I must have missed before, where you say, "Don't you sometimes wish you were back in Ayer camp? Be honest, now."

I shall, and it is true when I say that if today some one offered me a secure $20,000 a year position in the United States, and if I were perfectly free to leave the army, I would not hesitate a moment in turning down the offer. No, dearest mother, there's something a great deal bigger than personal comfort and safety and affections concerned. I have had a big awakening over here, and I would not be anywhere else in the world just now had I the choice.

It is patriotism, yet it is more than patriotism; it is pride, yet it is far more than pride. There is something at stake in this war bigger than the fate of a nation, even our own; it is a supreme test of might against right, and in the face of it all personal considerations must be swept aside. The one great good of this war is that it is teaching us as individuals, and I hope as a nation, the value of self-sacrifice; and I feel only pity for those who cannot attain it. I am fighting it in the hope that my son, should I be so fortunate as to have one, shall not have to fight in another one, and I want to be able to tell him that in the great war I was on the firing line, not safe back home.

I firmly believe that every man who is fit to be on the firing line should be there, regardless of any personal considerations. Do not blind yourselves to the one great fact: it is our war over here as much or more than it would be on our own coasts, and we are fighting not only for America but for the very rock foundations of civilization and liberty. Under the circumstances, my frank and fervent opinion is that any man who honestly wants to stay in America when he is eligible and fitted to be over here is a coward or worse—this is, of course, no disparagement to the ones allotted to do so in home service. Lord knows I hate fighting and I hate war, the more so since I have seen some of its work, but I remember, and we all must remember this, if a premature peace is made of a peace which does not in every detail satisfy our war aims and crush German militarism forever, we have failed and the whole thing will come back again!

This is a pretty stiff tirade I grant you, but I want to impress you with the absolute necessity of putting all thoughts of personal desires aside until the war is won. After the success we shall reap the fruits, but first must come success. Don't think for a moment that I don't appreciate how pleasant it would be to be near you all in America, but the fact that I do appreciate it makes me all the more glad I am over here. So you see it is a case of "carry on" with determination and never allowing discouragement to creep in for us. Then we will win the war by the only way that can impress the Germans, military victory, and then—well, then I'll be glad to get home. With much love.

J. C.

LET'S SAVE THE PROVERBS
By George Ade

We must win the big war or else revise all moral codes, rewrite all proverbs and adopt a brand new set of rules to govern conduct.

We have accepted certain time-honored adages as self-evident truths. We found them in our early copy-books and we grew up on them and repeated them so often that naturally we came to think they could be relied upon.

Then Germany came along with an intensely modern variety of ethics bearing the label of Kultur.

The new medicine is not taken internally or rubbed on as a liniment, but you have it shot into you by a large gun.

Unless we refuse to take the treatment everything we ever believed will be overruled, discarded and thrown into the alley.

If Germany is not licked to a standstill we might as well begin to memorize and humbly accept the following:

Dishonesty is the best policy.
Be as mean as a skunk and you will be happy.
Blessed are the children murderers, for they shall inherit the earth.
Be sure you are right handy with firearms, then go ahead.
An evil reputation is better than riches.
Truth crushed to earth will not rise again if the crushing is done in a superior and efficient manner.
Be virtuous and you will be miserable.
Thrice armed is he who goes around picking quarrels.
Might makes right.
Hell on earth and hatred for all men.
Do unto others as you suspect that they might do unto you if they got to be disreputable as you are.
God helps the man that helps himself to his neighbor's house and his fields and his unprotected women.
Those don't sound right, do they? The old ones that we learned first of all are not yet out of date.
Suppose we don't revise them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Steer, who have been living in the J. P. Smith residence, corner of Prospect and Lake, have leased the residence at 541 S. Linden Ave., for a term of years.
