Y. W. C. A. NEWS

The Mother's Club held a very interesting meeting Tuesday evening with an excellent program. The principal number being a paper on the early history of Highland Park by Mrs. Truax that showed a great deal of research and profound study of landmarks and conditions now almost forgotten by the present day citizen. Much of the information has been gleaned from the old residents and has been secured by Mrs. Truax from interviews with these people whose wonderful memory for facts abound in every locality. The paper being so full of interesting information it is to be regretted that more did not hear it. Pictures of Highland Park and its former buildings and people added much to the value of the production. The Brand orchestra gave several selections that were greatly enjoyed. This was their initial appearance before the association and it is hoped it will not be the last.

Light refreshments were served after which a vote of thanks was extended to the committee, Mesdames O. L. Olesen, F. F. Knight and Miss Whitney who have provided such splendid programs all winter for the Mother's club. A picnic will be held in July for members of the Mother's club and their friends.

A rare treat is in store for Association members next Monday evening, June 17th. Miss Mary Wood Hinman, state director of War Recreation for Illinois will give an address in the gymnasium of the Association. Miss Hinman in her official capacity is in close touch with all the war activities and will give a most interesting outline of what is being done all over our state and county for both the men in service and the young women. No girl in Highland Park over sixteen and no mother no matter what the age of her family can afford to miss this splendid address. Come and bring your friends, there will be room for all. Vocal and instrumental music will be provided.

The hospitality rooms at Fort Sheridan have been opened to the public Saturday and Sunday until it is seen whether there will be a need for keeping them open during the entire week. Miss Grace March has been appointed hostess.
