

Vote For
HERBERT A. SHEA
Democratic Candidate for REPRESENTATIVE

Attorney Herbert A. Shea stands un-qualifiedly for the Wilson policies. He has made a clean, straightforward campaign; advocated purely Democratic measures; is a lawyer with a good education and ability, and bids fair to be nominated. Vote three votes for Shea and for Democracy at home and abroad.

COMPANY C

About forty members of Company C, together with other companies of the First Regiment, Illinois Reserve Militia, took the special 15-car train for Camp Logan Saturday morning, August 30, at 10:30.

Major Hine, Sergeant Trumbull, Corporal (Acting Quartermaster Sergeant) Grant and Private Noor took an early train to Camp and naturally the balance of the men of Company C thought all they would have to do, on their arrival at camp, would be to move into the tents the above mentioned quartette would have pitched for them, but when the men arrived at their camp ground there was nothing in sight but a row of stakes. The quartette of course spent an hour telling the men how busy they had been all morning. Of course they admitted it is "some job" to drive a few stakes but "O, Boy!" driving stakes isn't in it compared with carrying tent platforms that weigh about a ton each, six or seven blocks, which the rest of the men had to do on their arrival. The balance of the day was spent in putting up tents and going to and from "chow."

The boys all said the mess was good, as far as material was concerned, but as a rule they had to stand in line so long it was "stone cold" before they "got to it." Then again some of the more fastidious didn't enjoy the way it was "thrown" at them, but believed they would get used to it in time.

Saturday night was a cold one, some of the men swore the thermometer went to zero, it felt it anyway.

Several men of our company, under Corporal Udell, went on guard duty at six o'clock and were on duty two hours on and four hours off for twenty-four hours and were not relieved until six o'clock Sunday night.

Most of the time of the other two days was spent in shooting on the range. Some of the men making very good stores.

The Jackies were in charge of the shooting and the men surely appreciated the attention shown them.

The commissioned officers shot on the pistol range.

After the shooting the men were compelled to "police" the grounds which is different from policing in civil life. It meant the picking up of every particle of rubbish, such as matches, scraps of paper, cigarette stubs, etc., that could be found around the range. This part of the program was very much enjoyed by most of the men, especially Private Swanson, who was seen to carry a match to the rubbish pile.

The canteen was a "life saver," the cream, cake, pie, candy, coffee and sandwiches could not be beaten anywhere and the boys sure are a "hungry bunch."

Wives of Company C men, you would be proud of your husbands if you could have seen them wash dishes.

Maybe it is letting the "cat out of the bag" but when it comes to doing dishes and housework, most of them are "there."

It was impossible for some to go to sleep without a game of "pitch," and on one occasion the almost forgot to go to sleep at all.

In the absence of Captain Turpin, he has not quite recovered from his illness, Lieutenant Purdy was in charge of Company C, ably assisted by Acting "Top" Sergeant McTammany.

Everybody had a good time but Corporal Grant, who was kept "so busy" he didn't have time for sport.

It was regretted that the company did not "turn out" stronger.

MRS. A. K. STEARNS TO GO INTO WAR WORK

Taking Course in Stenography and Typewriting. Wishes to Go To France

An intensely interesting case of patriotism came to light today when it was learned that Mrs. A. K. Stearns of Lake Bluff, wife of Attorney Stearns, who is making the race for the state legislature from the eighth district, is fitting herself for war work in France.

Mrs. Stearns is taking a course in stenography and typewriting at the Waukegan Business College and is progressing in fine shape. As soon as she completes her course it is her intention to offer her services to the government for immediate service overseas.

To friends, Mrs. Stearns has confided the fact that she hopes to be assigned to Y. M. C. A. or Red Cross work although she says she is willing to accept any sort of war service which will enable her to do her bit.

Mrs. Stearns has a son in the U. S. service and she asserts that inasmuch as he is doing his part to win the fight for Democracy that she feels the least she can do is to offer her services.

The County Ring

A Vote for

L. J. Yager

on September 11 for County Clerk will mean a vote against the 'County Ring' that has had Lake county in its grip for more than 25 years. In his canvass of the voters of the county he finds that nine out of every ten men are with him on this proposition to the finish and are keeping him in this campaign. Is it not time we as a county put a business man in this office who will cut out "rings" and "cliques" and establish this office on a new footing. Get out and vote for progress on next Wednesday at the primaries!
