PATRIOTIC LEAGUE.

Highwood has swung into line with other north shore towns for entertaining the men in uniform. A hot supper is served in the League rooms every Sunday from 5:30 to 7. The men have shown their appreciation by coming in ever-increasing numbers. Last Sunday brought such a crowd, that the eats ran out. Therefore a greater quantity of food will be ready for them next week. The chief feature of the supper is the dessert—home-made cakes and pies. The suppers are cooked and served by the women of Highwood, who are assisted by the girls of the Patriotic League.

If the Germans are hungry they might ask for food from the Belgians whose homes they burned and whose daughters they carried off into slavery.

MOST MEN IN NAVY LESS THAN 22 YEARS

Civilians are often wont to comment on the fact that the sailor uniform of blue "makes them look so young." They are often heard to say that the sailors are so much younger looking than men in the Army and lay this fact to the uniform. Possibly the wide-flowing trousers and the blouse with collar have an effect to this direction, but they are not altogether responsible.

Figures compiled by the medical department at Great Lakes during the recent influenza epidemic show that six out of every ten men on the Station are 22 years or less. One-sixth of the men there are 21 years and about the same number are 22 years old. These figures were given out Monday by Commander Owen J. M'ing, Senior Medical Officer.

CHURCHES TO ASSIST IN NATIONAL DRIVE

PASTORS EXCHANGE PULPITS

The 104 Churches of the Chicago Presbytery Assigned to Raise a Total of $75,000

A great campaign, in which the church and civic workers of Highland Park will play an important part, is just being started by the Presbyterian Church in Chicago and the surrounding cities for the promotion of its Mission work and its widespread Social Service and better citizenship activities. Interest of local religious leaders has already been aroused in the advanced program for the welfare of the hundreds of thousands of people living in the congested districts of Chicago and neighboring industrial communities—a program that is expected to prove noteworthy in the history of religious activity in America—and have indicated their desire that Highland Park stand in the lead among the suburban communities in extending a welcoming hand to less fortunate communities.

The first step in the campaign will be the "Victory Drive" of December 8th to 15th, in which a fund of $75,000.00 is to be raised among the 104 churches of the Presbytery of Chicago for financing the church's work during the first year of the reconstruction period. On December 8 the drive will be launched in all the churches, pastors exchanging pulpits and the work of the church presented. The Drive is being conducted under the direction of the Church Extension Board, which is Presbyterianism's official representative in ministering to needy fields, upbuilding weak churches and starting new work in growing fields. Dr. Henry Seymour Brown is the new Superintendent of the Board.

Pledges will be taken among the churches and committees formed for a church canvass that will reach those who have not had the opportunity to subscribe to the opening day of the campaign. Rev. Frank Pitt, the local pastor, will exchange pulpits on that day with Rev. George Roberts of the Lake Forest Presbyterian Church. The minister occupying the Highland Park pulpit on that day is known as an interesting speaker, and he will have a fascinating story to tell of the remarkable work being done in the darkest sections of the second greatest city in America along modern church lines.

President Wilson's message to the churches of America during the stress of the war that "I for one hope that there may be no slackening or recession of any sort in the missionary program of the world" has been taken as the key-note for the new after-war aggressive program. In other words it is recognized that "magnifying Home missions means maintaining home morale," and the church is resolved to rise to its high opportunity to service during the reconstruction days.

The Church Extension Board maintains or assists more than thirty churches, institutional churches and social settlements, and conducts its activities among people speaking more than a score of different languages. Sixteen foreign language churches and missions are aided. Daily Vacation Bible Schools and Sunday schools, keeping thousands of children off the streets, and leading them to a better life, are assisted. relief work is done for the poor, jobs are found for the needy, and every sort of physical and spiritual aid given to the thousands who apply for help. It is the church at work in the great city of activities made possible in the new program, remarkable strides may be looked for in the service rendered to one of the greatest missionary fields in the world.

Why Advertised Stores Succeed

Because the advertised store speaks with strong confidence of the merits of its proposition.

When a store fails to advertise, it must be for one of three reasons: First, because the proprietor thinks the public will not see his notice; second, because the proprietor thinks they will not believe it if they do see it; or third, because the proprietor feels that he has no goods of such exceptional value that he can persuade the public to come in and look at them.

The first reason is valid only if the merchant is considering some paper of small circulation. The second and third reasons indicate a lack of confidence on the part of the store in its goods.

No one would have the courage to put money in advertising unless goods had demonstrated their value in practical experience. The public feels in buying advertised goods that it is getting something that has made good.

ILLINOIS 100 YEARS OLD DECEMBER THIRD

TO CELEBRATE GENERALLY

Governor Lowden in Proclamation Asks People to Prepare for the Greatest Reconstruction Problems

In a proclamation issued last Saturday Governor Lowden calls upon the people of Illinois to celebrate the Centennial of the formal admission of the state into the Union, on December 3, rejoicing over the world victory in which this state had an important part, and preparing for the great reconstruction problems in the coming century.

The proclamation is as follows: "On December 3, it will be a full hundred years since Illinois was formerly admitted into the Union of States. We have celebrated our Centennial Year with fitting observance in every part of the state. These celebrations have been occasions where our people have found in our past achievements their highest inspiration for meeting the solemn duties of the present year.

"Our Centennial Year now draws to a close. At almost the same time the world-wide war has also reached its end. Illinois has played a part in that war worthy of her first great century. Her sons have given their lives on a score of battle-fields that the principles of liberty and justice to all men, for which her Lincoln lived and died, may become the rule of all the world.

"During this time within our borders, party clamor has been silenced, religious differences have been hushed, and all classes of our people have shown equal zeal and equal patriotism in the support of the war.

"The gates of the new century swing ajar. The mighty problems of peace are upon us. With the reorganization of our State Government, with a new Constitutional Convention before us, with a new system of highways to be built, Illinois is preparing to meet these problems. So on December third, grateful for our first great century, let us plan how we shall make our second century, in achievement, match the first."

The Illinois Centennial Commission is urging a general celebration

We Give Thanks

FOR THE VICTORIOUS termination of the conflict of arms—the dawn of a permanent peace and a world democracy.

For the honor roll of Highland Park and the loyalty of the community in backing the boys at the front by supporting the government at home in its war activities.

For the three splendid young men who left our employ to enter the service of their country, prepared for the supreme sacrifice, and whose lives have been spared.

For the joy and privilege granted this bank and its patrons of having a modest share in furnishing the financial sinews for a war—by us unsought—by us prosecuted to a successful but unselfish end.

WAUKEGAN TO HAVE ANOTHER BIG FACTORY

Johns-Manville Co., Manufacturers of Asbestos, Has Purchased 255 Acres on the "Flats"

The H. W. Johns-Manville Company, the largest manufacturers of asbestos and magnesia products in the world, has just purchased approximately 255 acres of land on the flats lying north and adjoining Waukegan, between the Chicago & North-western Railroad tracks and Lake Michigan, which property will be connected with the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern and the Chicago & North-western Railroads.

The purchase of this property is for immediate improvement not only to meet present demands, but after the war requirements as covered under the reconstruction period. It is the intention of this company to erect, as soon as conditions permit, a duplicate of their large plant at Manville, N. J.

When the plant is completed, it will cover 1,250,000 square feet of floor space, at a cost of approximately $3,000,000.00, and will employ from 2500 to 3000 people. The plant will be devoted largely to the manufacture of asbestos goods of all descriptions, magnesia products, roofing felts, asbestos roofings, mastic and waterproofing materials, asbestos shingles, and asbestos wood, steam packings, and a number of specialties for which the company is famous.

About the same plans and specifications as to buildings, machinery, power plant, etc., that were adopted at their plant at Manville, N. J., will be used in the construction of this Waukegan plant, the output of which plant is upwards of 35,000 cars per year.

The coming of the company to Waukegan is the biggest addition in the manufacturing circles that has come to that city since the wire works.

Some people think they have solved the cost of living question by taxing 95 per cent of the people to pay for wage advances for the other five per cent.

Some people think home life will seem humdrum to the soldier. One suspects, however that after sitting up all night to see if the Boches' bombers were coming over, they will be perfectly content to nod off to sleep in a Morris chair and go to bed at 9 o'clock.

throughout the state on December 2 and asking that the observance be forward-looking in preparation for the new century.

At Springfield, on the evening of December 2, the State Centennial Commission and the Illinois State Historical Society will unite in a great patriotic celebration in the Hall of Representatives. Governor Lowden will preside at this meeting and the principal address will be delivered by John H. Finley, the well-known New York educator. Mr. Finley was born in Illinois and was connected with Knox College for some time. He is an authority on Illinois history, having written extensively on middle-western subjects. Other speakers will also be on the program.

IN MEMORIAM

CHARLES AND LOUISE BROWN—In cherished remembrance of our devoted parents—our mother who entered into eternal rest December 3, 1916; and our father, who joined some here, September 21, 1918.

"This hard to break the tender cord When love has bound the heart. 'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words: 'We must forever part.'"

Dearest loved ones we must lay thee In the peaceful grave's embrace. But thy memory will be cherished 'Till we see thy heavenly faces.

—From Devoted Children.

Great rejoicing is felt over the prospective return to a peace basis, when we can all go to work producing things we don't need.

Married women are urged to take hold and supply the shortage of teachers. Having learned to control their husbands, they should prove good disciplinarians.

It would seem appropriate this year that someone would turn up at the Thanksgiving Day church services other than the minister, the choir and the sexton.

Have you bought your Christmas presents yet, or do you want the leftovers and rejects that can be had at the end of the buying season?

Congress has the easy problem of the session of raising everyone's wages, reducing everyone's hours of labor, and cutting down the high prices and cost of living.
