Dropping Them Below Shoe Tops

In the very face of fashion's decree that skirts "will not" come down is the appearance of the new models in eastern cities of new suit models which are dropping them below the shoe tops. Fashion hints that woman likes the short skirt and its freedom—better even than her desire to be in the exclusively dressed rags. We shall see. Here are two new suits—the sash and skirt on that shown on the left being the feature of that cloth suit. On the right a gray and black checked velvet is relieved of its severeness with the little tunic skirts at the sides.

All Thoughts for Exclusiveness

As long as woman strives for exclusiveness it is likely that the carrying out of various color and novelty schemes will be followed. In this costume on the right, baby lamb is used as trimming, forming the sash and collar—and then the milliner is called in to make a hat to match. All of this on a suit of velour. On the left the vest is the thing. This waistcoat is fashioned in ermine and embroidered in jet. It is a feature distinctly new.

Furthermore, the bottlemakers are anxious about the effect of the prohibition movement on their trade. Well, they should remember that it takes an awful lot of pop bottles to throw at the umpire at the baseball games.

The soldiers who only got a small part of their letters are not so apt to vote for the congressman who promises the marble post office to the cross roads town, as the one who promises to do something for business efficiency.

HIGHWOOD RESIDENCE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Alarm Given at 10 O'clock Saturday Evening. One Man Overcome by the Smoke

Last Saturday night the home of Joe Belli on Washington St. and Railroad Ave., Highwood was totally destroyed by fire, which is thought to have been caused by an overheated furnace, as the fire started in the basement. The alarm which was turned in at ten o'clock was quickly responded to by the ever-alert Highland Park Fire Department, who worked until one o'clock extinguishing the blaze. The department was greatly handicapped in not being familiar with the location of the fire hydrants as this was not in their territory, but after once finding them, they were soon at work extinguishing the fire. Much credit is due them for their ready response and untiring efforts.

Mr. Belli is proprietor of the new ice cream parlor located on Highwood Avenue. His home had just recently been remodeled, having been partly destroyed by fire in January just two years ago. Mr. Belli, his mother and two roomers were occupants of the house when the fire broke out. Although no one was injured, one of the roomers was overcome by smoke, but was brought to by use of the lung motor. Insurance to the amount of two thousand dollars was carried on the house.

NEW SAILORS' AND SOLDIERS' CLUB OPENS

One of the Coziest in Waukegan. Was Remodeled at Cost of $16,000.00

Spick and span in fresh paint and bright red as a new goldpiece, Waukegan's newest club for men in the nation's service opened at Washington near Genesee street Saturday.

It is the $10,000 Soldiers' and Sailors' Club, constructed and conducted under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of Illinois.

It is also the headquarters and office of the National Defense Committee of the Masonic fraternities, of which Roy Hill is secretary, with George Albright as his assistant.

The new club is one of the coziest in Waukegan.

Its basement is divided off into a kitchen, a smoking and lounging room and comfort station.

The main floor is the clubroom. Here are cozy leather chairs, davenport; electrically lighted writing booths where privacy is assured; tables for books and magazines and for a phonograph; a telephone booth; a dumb waiter running from the kitchen, and other valued features.

The second floor is reserved for the women guests of the men in service. There is a club room, rest room and other facilities. The floors are laid with American Oriental wick. The furniture of tasteful wickerwork. The rest room has furniture of birch.

The entire building's interior and exterior has been remodeled for the purpose of the club.

The corkscrew manufacturers are worried over the prohibition outlook but their product will still be useful to stir up the earth around the bush beans.

The people who shiver when the thermometer drops five degrees, are often the same ones who leave a horse standing out in a cold wind without any blanket.

Belgian King Salutes Colors Which Fed His People

Belgium's gallant king has banded his bow in saluting our Old Glory—the flag which fed his people in the most trying times of the nation's history. In this exclusive photograph just received from Brussels, is shown King Albert and his staff saluting the Yank colors as the U. S. battalions march by on the way to the Rhine. Even yet America is sending food, clothing and relief of all kind to Belgium and King Albert never fails to acknowledge its great work at every opportunity.
