

War Mothers

THE HOMECOMING of your boys overseas or in camp is at hand. Soon they'll be wanting to climb back into civilian clothes. Once Uncle Sam says the word these boys of yours will be in a hurry to shed their martial togs—so prepare. Get the boys' home clothes down off the closet hooks and call our wagon. We clean, dye, mend and press.

SOCIAL ACTIVITY

A Washington dinner party was given by the West Ridge Community Club last Saturday evening at 7:30 at the West Ridge School. The ladies of the club served a chicken pot pie dinner to an unusually large crowd. The children of the school played a part in the entertainment giving a George Washington wedding. The little bride and groom with their many attendants, all dressed in colonial dress, made a most charming picture. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and Community singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaefer announce the marriage of their daughter, Marguerite, to Dr. Benjamin H. Adams, U. S. N. R. F. The wedding took place last Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents. Dr. and Mrs. Adams will make their home with Mrs. Adams' parents after a wedding trip in the west.

Mrs. Gerald Peck entertained at dinner last Friday evening preceding the dance at the Highland Park Club. Covers were laid for fifteen. Decorations were in red, white and blue.

Mrs. Orville St. Peter was hostess Saturday evening to twenty guests in honor of Mr. St. Peter's birthday. Decorations of red, white and blue were used. Music, games and dancing were the features of the evening.

Miss Anna Muench was hostess to the Worth While Circle on Tuesday evening.

H. P. WOMAN'S CLUB

March 4th—Important—Nomination of officers.

3:00 p. m.—Program.
Miss Eva Emma Wycoff is well known here as she formerly lived here. She has spent the last few years in New York studying. She is, however, again located in Highland Park. It is hoped there will be a large and enthusiastic attendance to welcome and encourage Miss Wycoff in her return to this locality.

She has had much experience as a soloist with prominent orchestras and in recitals. Her voice is high soprano of lyric quality. Her coming before the club is an occasion worthy of the greatest consideration. There will also be a talk by Eleanor Lee Wright on "Planning Menus, Leftovers."

SONS IN SERVICE

Once again, friends of this column, we appeal to you for more news of the Highland Park men in service. Send in your long and interesting letter for the "Sons in Service." Every letter is of interest to the many other boys in the service overseas. One mother has said that she derived more pleasure from these published than anything she read in the Press. This we do not concede, but we do want more letters.

The following is from F. C. Henning in a base hospital in France:
Toul, Jan. 20, 1919.

Dear Sis:—
I received your letter and also the one that Buddy Carroll wrote. I surely was glad to get those few lines that Carroll wrote. Thank him very much for me. You have no idea how those few lines made me feel when I was in bed.

Today I am going to get my clothes again, and this time I am going to try and keep them. They issue the long trousers here—the kind that we wear in civilian life only they are khaki color. We also get wrapped in leggings, and when we are all dressed up with leggings and our overseas caps, we look almost like the jacksies, but still we are the Great American Yanks.

I received the box you sent. It arrived in first class condition.

The town has surely changed since I left it. I saw a piece in the Tribune that is printed in Paris daily for the soldiers about Highland Park going to build a contagious hospital close to the Highland Park hospital and have this as a memorial to the boys of Highland Park who fell in the Great War. I myself think this a great thing. I don't know how many boys have died or have been killed in the war that are from home but I can only think of four.

I don't know how soon I will get back to the states, but if it is soon it will be at least six weeks.

I only hope that I can be home for my birthday as we can all enjoy one big day in the year.

As ever your brother,
PVT. F. C. HENNING.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Open Week Days—9-12; 1-6; 7-9.
IT'S UP TO YOU
To be alert, progressive, up-to-date. You can be if you read one good book and a few magazines each month.

Get them at the Public Library
"Crime and Punishment," by Dostoevsky, is a new addition to this library, although not a new publication. It made a furor in the European world of letters when first published, and in this day, of unsettled Russia it is a work of unique interest.

"Bible Pictures and What They Teach Us," by Foster, is full of suggestions and mothers and teachers of Sunday school classes, and others that may have to do with moral instruction of the young will find it full of suggestions and help. It is profusely illustrated, which will make it appeal to children.

"Stories for Boys" by that versatile man, Richard Harding Davis, brings a jungle picture for the frontispiece with stories of how a reporter who made himself king, midsummer pirates and others. New copies of the "Hossier Schoolboy" by Eggleston, and Mary Mapes Dodge's beloved "Hans Brinker, or the Silver Skates," and Frances Hodgson Burnett's "Sarah Crewe" have been added to the shelves of the south room. Imogene Clark's delightful story, "Will Shakespeare's Little Lad" comes in the same Scribner addition full of charming pictures, and well printed. Seeing them stand so crisp and new on the shelves among the worn books, it makes one ache to see the old ones all replaced by similar clean volumes. Oh! The delight of a new book!

Oppenheim's latest, "The Curious Quest" is a captivating narrative told in his characteristic manner. It is the story of the amazing experiences of a rich young idler who proves on a bet that he can make his own way in the world. (Rent collection.)

"The Common Cause" by Samuel Hopkins Adams is a story of one girl and one man in a little town who uphold their patriotism in the face of overwhelming pro-German sentiment and the story of their struggle and love makes a vivid and absorbing novel. (Rent collection.)

How about "The Tin Soldier"? Have you read it? You'd better do it, for you must not miss Jean and Derry. It is a true picture of America struggling painfully but with bravely smiling confidence toward victory and happiness. "Java Head" is Hergeshelmer's most recent novel, full of color, adventure, "Carmine and jades and erusted gold." (Both volumes in the rent collection.)

The Cemetery Beautiful

PLANTED amidst nature's own beauty, man has created a beautiful park cemetery. The sunken gardens, the winding paths, and the imposing chapel makes this spot a vision of beauty. It is indeed a fitting final resting place for our beloved ones.

HIGHWOOD PATRIOTIC LEAGUE

Last Sunday the doors of the Sheridan Club were thrown open for the first time during the "Open House" held at the Patriotic League by the Business Girls' Club. Tours of inspection were the order of the day. All who had known the previous condition of the building showed much wonder at what soap and water, paint, fresh paper and a little cretonne can accomplish. The overseas men, especially, were enthusiastic at finding so homelike a place away from the Fort and yet so near the Fort.

Mrs. R. McKinley and Miss Jewel Gordon called the men and girls together for supper at 5:30. "Gee, this dessert alone (Jello with whipped cream) was worth coming for." Can't you guess who said it?

Food prices have begun to fall. Producers perhaps realize that some money has got to be left in the pockets of the consumer or he can't buy anything.

And some folks' theory of reducing the hours of labor is to have the men work eight hours and the women twelve.

"Where are my reading glasses?"

Mischievous daughter has picked Daddy's pocket and watches him gleefully as he searches in vain for his reading glasses. If Daddy wore Kryptok Glasses, he would be freed from the "off-and-on" nuisance of the two-pairs-of-glasses bother, because Kryptoks (pronounced Cryp-tocks) would give him, in one pair of glasses, the necessary correction for both reading and distance.

KRYPTOK GLASSES THE INVISIBLE BIFOCALS

give him this convenience with out that drawback of other bifocals—the conspicuous age-revealing seam or hump. They are crystal-clear—their surfaces smooth and even. They cannot be distinguished from single-vision lenses. That's why Kryptoks are called the "invisible bifocals." We are competent to meet the optical needs and tastes of the most exacting patron. Call at your convenience.

For many years we have merited the confidence of our customers by rendering an intelligent and complete eyeglass service at a moderate cost.
