

The Electric Grill

IT'S just like all other Electrical Appliances with respect to obedience. It begins business immediately when you connect it to any lamp socket and turn on the current.

YOU can cook not merely a lunch on it, but a genuine meal—a varied and a satisfying meal. You can broil, boil, fry and toast on it and perform two of these operations at the same time.

NO long labored explanation is needed to make it clear that such a compact little cooking utensil is a convenience. You can use it anywhere if a lampsocket is handy—on the back porch by getting a cord that is long enough.

J. SMITH

To Our Patrons:

The Sanitary Contractors of Highland Park have found it impossible to continue their service at the present rates owing to the high cost of labor and have decided to raise their prices 25% to become effective July 1st, 1919.

Respectfully yours,

NOTICE

The Lake County Board of Review now in session. All persons desiring to file complaints with the board must do so on or before August 1st, 1919.

R. S. BARNUM,
Chief Clerk.

The clamor of discussion as to what shall be done to make the world settle down, reminds one strikingly of the village fire engine company arguing while the house burns down.

Having blown up a few hard working servants, watchmen, etc., the bomb throwers feel their recent campaign was a grand success.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Location: One block south of the Army and Navy Center.

Library News and Book Notes
"Fighting the Flying Circus" by the daring Eddie Rickenbacker, is one of the spiciest accounts of the allied offensive against the German air craft. Before the war, the author was a daring and well known driver of racing automobiles. Can you imagine what his book is like? It is racy, and thrilling clear through. If you have sworn off reading war books swear on for just a few hours, and read this one volume, for you will miss something if you do not.

Readers of "Cleck" of Scotland Yard will welcome another book by T. W. Hanshew called "Cleck, the Man of Forty Faces." If you want action in a story, hair-breadth adventures in a detective story, take a night off to read Cleck's reappearance on our shelves.

"When Bear Cat Went Dry" won't develop the brain of the reader, but it will furnish a readable story of those who so love tales of the Kentucky Cumberlands, and the mountain feuds.

Here are nine more innings of breezy, rollicking, fun-provoking letters of Ed Harmon whom we came to know through "From Baseball to Boches." Now Ed has returned, and tells about "Back Home" and his wonderful Jeanne and their wonderful baby with the same 'pep' which made the first volume the most laughed over and most talked of book of the year. It is in truth a "Smile a Minute."

Two books of modern interest which are intensely representative of the industrial trend of the day, in work and in play, are: "The Inventor's Manual," and "Model Making." They are both 1919 publications, both possibly productive of financial benefit to the reader, and both books which many people will find illuminating hobbies. The latter includes the design and construction of models which the veriest amateur will find easy to follow, and directions which are accurate and original enough for the professional mechanic. Lathe work, pattern work, soft and hard soldering, electroplating, and drilling are some of the vitally correlated chapters. It is edited by R. F. Yates, the editor of "Everyday Engineering Magazine," who knows what the people want and how to present the subject.

"The Yellow Dove," by the popular author of "The Black Stone," Gibbs, is not a recent publication, but has been in great demand because of the absorbing interest in his other volumes.

Since the enjoyable and successful plays given this Spring in the grammar schools and the High school, the volumes of plays have had great vogue. The books about the theatre, staging, costuming and technique of acting have been read and re-read. Especially are "The Community Theatre," and "Out Door Theatres" under discussion. Take an "All-Star Cast" from the personnel of these Highland Park productions, and think what a great source of pleasure it would be to the actors and the community!

With the beginning of the new fiscal year, three new trustees have been added to the Board to replace those whose terms of office have expired. The membership of the Board including the new members is: Rev. P. C. Wolcott, Mrs. D. M. Erskine, Mrs. F. D. Everett, Mr. J. Norcross, Rev. Frank Pitt, Mr. J. L. Smith, Mrs. Rex Jones, Miss Margaretta Brown, and Mr. Ralph Fletcher Seymour.

Highland Park is represented at the national conference of the American Library association this year for the first time. The meeting is being held at Asbury Park, New Jersey, and Miss Margaret Ridlon, the librarian of our public library, is in attendance. Miss Irene Bell, who is a newcomer to Highland Park, is graciously doing substitute work for Miss Ridlon during her absence. Miss Bell has done apprentice work in the library of her former home town, and later did volunteer service on the regular staff of that library. It will be a pleasure for the frequenters of the Highland Park Public Library to become acquainted with so charming a new member of our library staff. We are hoping to have Miss Bell with us often during times of emergency in the future.

During the month of July, a story hour for children will be held in the Public Library on Thursday afternoons from half past three until half past four o'clock. Adults are urged to leave, but all children are welcome. If this experiment meets with genial reception, the story hours will be continued next winter. But for the present they will be held Thursdays in July. The library is cool (if any place is cool) and the children may come early to look at the books in the children's room, and stay later to take home with them the stories they find which they like, that their

JUNE—the Month of the Apartment Grand Piano Display at Lyon & Healy's

At the present time our exhibition and stock of small Grand Pianos is at its very best!

We feel sure that you will be delighted with our showing of these popular instruments.

In addition to the most fastidious care in the matter of tone quality, our instruments possess an air of distinction, the result of constant endeavors to reach the most exacting ideals.

The Lyon & Healy Apartment Grand occupies but very little more room than an upright.

It is the one Grand Piano which contains the Candelectra, the Silent, and other modern improvements, which meet with instant approval.

Y. W. C. A. NEWS

Pageant Friday

"The Wayside Piper" will be given Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Elm Place auditorium by a hundred Y. W. C. A. girls.

Attractive dances by the members of the dancing classes which have been meeting during the winter will be a feature of the evening's program. There will be several dances by the girls of the third class, and a number of the smaller girls, accompanied by Miss Ruth Church.

"The Wayside Piper" is a splendid pageant portraying the way in which faith, hope and love may change the lives of girls in all walks of life. College girls, country, and city girls find that their ideals are changed by the music and the message of the Piper.

Cast of Characters

The following is the cast of characters who will take the principal parts in the pageant:

- The Wayside Piper Louise McDonald
- Faith Esther Krueger
- Hope Gladys Tucker
- Love Mary Fay
- Spirit of Service Mildred Hester
- Spirit of the Twentieth Century Mrs. Ellen Carlson
