ELM PLACE SCHOOL

The annual September exhibit of flowers and vegetables took place on Thursday and Friday of last week. One hundred fifty eight children entered exhibits, ranging all the way from bunches of asters to prize pumpkins and cucumbers. The exhibit was very creditable and the three Judges, Mrs. George Greene, Mrs. Alvar Bour-nique and Mr. George Moreton, had considerable work on their hands in awarding prizes and honorable men-tions. The pupils were given per-mission to enter any of the products of their gardens but in awarding prizes special attention was given to vegetables of flowers grown from plants started in the school plant-house. For tomatoes produced from John Baer plants and started at school, Betty Phelps won the first prize, Clifford Rose, the second prize and Frances Lenesty the third prize. Tom Mann won the first prize for a collection of four varieties of toma-toes. For the best collection of as-ters from plants obtained from school William Denzel obtained the first prize, Gerard Noerenberg and Jack and Clover Benson the third prize. Among the many other interesting collections which were given prizes was a plate of strawberries entered by Grant Herman and a plant con-taining clusters of green and ripe strawberries by Lloyd Moon. Both collections were the Progressive Ev-erbearing strawberry. George Law-rent's sunflower stalk, twelve feet high, attracted considerable atten-tion, as did the prize bearing Hub-bard squash entered by Marian Lef-fert. The potato exhibit was un-usual-ly good, considering the rather gen-eral failure of the potato crop here this year. Thelma Bench got first prize for potatoes, Keith Kuhlman second prize and Marian Garling third prize. Space will not permit the addition of the complete list of exhibitors and their prizes.

Two of our former teachers who have been in overseas service in France, visited us this week. Miss Lucile Shaw of Racine, formerly of the sixth grade at Elm Place, and Miss Catherine Crocker of Evanston who was assistant kindergarten direct-or. Miss Shaw will shortly take up school work in the Country Day school at Winnetka. Two Elm Place teachers that resigned a year ago to take business positions, have returned to school work. Miss Edna Gren-oble has grammar and composition once more in the upper grades at Elm Place; Miss Dorothy Corey will teach English in the Chicago Latin school.

M. E. CHURCH

Wednesday Evening Service

It is a source of greatest satisfac-tion to note that the mid-week service has grown during the year from an attendance of six to twenty-five and forty. That there has been a fine growth in the intellectual and spiritual grasp of the great truths of the Book; that for the past week the Gospel of St. John has yielded won-derful returns for the time spent in its study, and that this period of preparation has led up to a point where we are contemplating some worth while returns for the church, the community and the kingdom at large. Here is an institution that is quietly though thoroughly developing of conscientiousness of social respon-sibility imbued with the spirit of service, the consuming passion of Christ's life.

The study for this week is Jn. 15: 1-2. Next week the study will be Jn. 15:13-17.

Friday Evening Service Assembly
Hall 25-B, Hospital

Recent results: Three weeks ago, seven decisions; two weeks ago 6 decisions; last week two decisions. We shall be glad to have the presence of any who are interested.

Sunday School

Though working for the present under great disadvantages the S. S. has achieved great success. The attendance has been good and the offerings have been far above the average. The finest thing about our S. S. has been the growth of the spir-it of unselfish giving. This can have but one result, the surrender of the life to God and the service of hu-manity.

Epworth League

Last Sunday evening was devoted to a rally service. The League and regular services were combined. The four department heads gave an out-line of the work contemplated for the coming year and the minister was asked to speak on the subject, "Not your bit but your best." The service was followed by one of those antiquat-ed (?) consecration services and the young people pledged themselves to greater devotion with one young man expressing his desire to take upon himself the obligations of Christian service.

Plans are under way for the Win-try-Chum-Week.
We invite the public to all these services.

At the Throttle

Not by the quiver of a hair can he relax his grip. On his unremitting care depend the lives of hun-dreds. The railroad engineer is a modern example of what modern business calls for--absolute efficiency.

And it's chiefly a matter of right food.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Bible School will meet at nine thirty next Sunday morning.

This morning service will begin at seven o'clock. The minister will oc-cupy the pulpit as usual.

The Young People's Society will meet at seven fifteen. Otho Morgan will lead the meeting.

On Sunday evening, Sept. 28, will be held the Fall Rally of the Young People's Society. Misses Alice Shreve and Dorothy Laing who were dele-gates to the Young People's Confer-ence at Green Lake, Wis., this sum-mer will give their reports and there will be election of officers. The meeting will be preceded by a supper served at six o'clock.

The Wednesday night prayer-meeting will be omitted during the month of September.

The Rev. and Mrs. Frank Pitt will give an informal reception in honor of General and Mrs. Alfred E. Brad-ley at eight o'clock on the evening of Friday, Sept. 26, at the Manse. The members and congregation of the church are cordially invited to be present.

Taking Up Our Time.

Sometime we are going to figure up how many hours a day of our telephoning time is devoted to listening patiently to sweet voices saying that they know they ought not to disturb us at our work.—Ohio State Journal.
