IN MEMORIAM
Eva L. Lundgren
In loving remembrance of our beloved daughter and sister, who passed away three years ago, Thursday, Sept. 18, 1916.
It's three long years ago to-day
Since our dear daughter passed away.
We saw her suffering and heard her sighs,
With aching heart and weeping eyes.
We saw her sinking hour by hour,
Yet could not stay Death's awful power;
But now she calmly sleeps at last
All pains, all aches, all sufferings past.
The moon and stars are shining,
On her one and solemn grave,
Beneath lies the one whom we love
But could not save.
From her loving parents, sisters,
and brother.

TALKS TO THE PUBLIC BY THE N. S. GAS CO.

TO GET BEST EFFICIENCY
North Shore Gas Company inaugurates Series of Advertising Talks to be Published Weekly

Starting last week the North Shore Gas Co. is conducting a series of advertising talks which are very unusual in their general tone. These talks are going to be addressed to the public and also to the employees of the company. The first one appeared today and its caption is "Fuel Wealth." This subject, as will be seen, covers a general situation that the Gas Co. has to handle. It touches on the cost and on the service which the company carries on, and explains how it subsequent talks the company plans taking the public into its confidence and explaining their method of conducting their business.

The second advertisement will have the heading "Your Dollar and Our Dollar." This goes on to show that the dollar you use buys just as little for you as the dollar the Gas Co. use in buying its material, paying its help, etc. It urges the public to remember that the old high cost of living has stopped the purchasing power of their dollar the same as it has the public's dollar.

The third talk bears the heading "The Empire." The thought in the talk is that the empire in the game between the Gas Co. and the public is the public utility commission which plan to see that both the company and the public get the square deal. The article goes on to show how the decisions are made by the utilities commission in conformity with laid out rules. It cannot deviate from and which makes the price of gas to the consumer accordingly. This article shows how the cost of producing gas is arrived, and how the utilities commission bases the price of gas to the consumer accordingly. It specifies a number of instances to prove that the Gas Co. has had a hard fight for the past 10 years and show how it is impossible to cut the cost of material used in producing gas and also adds that thought that it is harder on the Gas Co. to increase the gas price than is the consumer. Because it means the hauling of their expansion to big extent.

The fourth article has the heading "The Giant Keepers." This article has reference to the big gas works the lake shore and the use of the word Giant is made to show how the gas plant is always on the job. The giant keepers, it is explained are the men who put their money into the property and the Gas Co. employ. It shows how the job of keeping in the mains that are constantly being used by the public is a big and this means that money must come from outside sources if revenue from gas sales falls.

The fifth article is called the "The Shooter." The trouble shooter, it is explained, is the complaint man the Gas Co., the fellow who responds promptly to all customers who are dissatisfied with their service or who are having trouble with their appliances. But is the broadest sense is explained, the employees of the Gas Co. all are trouble shooters because they are all trying to locate any trouble which the company remedy. It is explained how the trouble shooters try to be courteous at all times and the inference is that the public can do the same thing.

The last talk will be on "Good Builders." It is explained how the Gas Co. from the president down a force which is trying to build the good will of all communities equipped. The company expects the public to work with them along this line. It shows how the company has taken back the men who overseas service and that it has standardized the new business department on the basis of good will building. Furthermore the company plans to bring in personal touch with all subscribers to see what can be done to improve the service in the home.

The last appeal asks the customer to give a few minutes time to representative when he calls to check the nature of the appliances the general service that is being on. It is pointed out that the will not try to sell you something you do not need for his job.
