

Thanksgiving Proclamation

As near as we can come to it about 298 years ago a few Pilgrims celebrated their first Harvest on the American Continent. They set aside a day to offer up thanks for the little they managed to raise on the primitive fields and what the forest supplied them with. And so the spirit of thanksgiving was instilled into the soul of this great nation by our forefathers.

Today this spirit still prevails—in fact the last Thursday in November has become one of the three great Holy Days of the year. Nor have we ever had more cause for celebrating Thanksgiving than this year, for in spite of all the unrest in the world, ours is a land of plenty compared with others.

True, there are some who look upon the blessings bestowed as a sort of natural birth right, and they can't appreciate how fortunate we are; but the great mass of our one hundred million of people realize the full meaning of Thanksgiving Day and so it should, and no doubt always be as we go on.

While in olden times the Prayer Meeting on Thanksgiving morning was followed by the Feast which lasted for the rest of the day, the great hand of progress has drawn a veil of modernism over all and the table filled up with food is no longer the main attraction—it is neatly set, tastily arranged, and decorated with FLOWERS.

What could add more to the spirit of Thanksgiving than Flowers? What expresses it better? A touch of color such as only Flowers can give to spread gladness thru the Home, whether the gorgeous glowing Autumn colors of the Chrysanthemum, the gay PonPons, Carnations or Roses.

We don't even stop here but remember with a few Flowers those loved ones who are not able to be with us, the sick friends or dear ones in sorrow, for the modern way of celebrating Thanksgiving means to give cheer and joy to others—the only real way of being happy yourself. The modern way is to "Say It With Flowers" or to send a Flowergram to those far away.

Call up 85—let's tell you all about the beautiful Thanksgiving Flowers we have for you and how we can Telegraph your order inside of from 1 to 2 hours to almost any part of the United States or Canada. Celebrate the day as it should be, there never was a time when Flowers played a more important part in our daily lives than right now—use them in your home today, tomorrow and the next day—consider them necessities rather than luxuries at least for Thanksgiving.

Henry Ward Beecher said "Flowers are the sweetest things God ever created and forgot to put soul into"—it takes sunshine to create them but we often overlook that Flowers again create sunshine and cheer in return. That is what we need today, that kind of sunshine, kind thoughts and deeds. Think of all the unfortunate boys in Fort Sheridan, friends in sick rooms or those with heavy hearts elsewhere. Could you do anything more beautiful than to remember some of them tomorrow with a few Flowers—it surely will make you feel better, it will mean a greater Thanksgiving day for you and a brighter one for them.

UNITED EVANGELICAL

The special meetings closed Sunday evening after a run of three weeks. They were very profitable to the membership of the church, but the results in soul-saving were not what was hoped for. There was a very heart-moving meeting at the close of the Sunday school Sunday morning when an opportunity was given the scholars not Christians to openly confess Him. Quite a number, from the ages of 8 to 15 came to the altar for consecration. It was a very precious occasion and will not soon be forgotten. The hope of the Church in these fateful days is the conversion of the children, and that very early. The regular program will now be resumed—the prayer meetings on Wednesday evening, and the regular Sabbath services. Bible study classes will be organized in the near future.

There will be an early morning prayer-meeting in the church auditorium Thursday at 7:00 a. m.

This congregation will join other churches in the union Thanksgiving service at the First Presbyterian church Thursday morning at 10:30.

Next Sunday's services will be as follows:

Bible School at 9:30.
Morning sermon at 10:45.
Junior meeting at 2:30.

K. L. C. E. at 5:45.

Evening song and sermon at 7:45.

The pastor will renew the subscriptions to the Evangelical this week. Envelopes will be sent each subscriber and they are asked to bring the subscription price next Sunday. The postal laws demand now that subscriptions to periodicals be paid in advance.
