COMMUNITY SERVICE IN HIGHLAND PARK

At the last meeting of the Community Service board it was decided by a unanimous vote to continue canteen service on Saturday nights for the boys in service at Great Lakes and the sufficiently convalescent wounded at Fort Sheridan.

Considerable discussion took place before the vote because of the question often raised as to whether the sailors in training form the larger number partaking of the suppers were 'deserving' of the gratuitous civilian labor and material involved as were the boys during the actual period of the war.

To those in charge of the Community Center and to the house committee who have intimate knowledge of and direct supervision over these simple suppers there is no question as to the great desirability of their continuance for a time at least. Whether EVERY boy who comes and gets a good supper is 'deserving' is hardly the point. There are so many young boys—boys of the high school age, hardly more than children—who come and get the supper, home cooked and served by women like their own mothers and sisters who get a touch of friendly, homely interest which carries them through the long week. Then instead of boarding a train for Chicago with its cheap restaurants and cheaper dance halls they come to Highland Park Community Center, rest and read and play pool or other games, eat the delicious goodies and then go to the high school dance where our own girls are their partners and every condition is right.

It is not a question of food for the stomach so much as for the morale and a service that supplies this larger need for so little effort expended can hardly be suspended.

If those who question the demand for canteen service for the enlisted and wounded men would go with open minds to the Wednesday night parties at the Community Center, to a Saturday night supper, and then follow through by going to the Community dance and get into the atmosphere and spirit of the Community Service as it is operating through our small beginning, food supplies would far exceed the quantity needed.

BUSINESS MEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE

The Highland Park Press took the Reliable Laundry in camp for two of the three games and thereby practically cinched the first place altho it is possible for Garnett's to catch them, but very improbable.

Garnett's took two from Tony's Barbers and will have to take three this week to catch The Press.

Majestics had a flash of their old time form and took three from Steffen's Tires.

Bowman Dairy took two from the Palace Cash.

Harder's Hdw. and Rasmussen's Shoes game was postponed last week.
