INDUSTRIAL PROGRAM ADOPTED BY Y. W. C. A.

Working Girls' Problems Explained at the Convention Held at Cleveland

Three Highland Park women, Mrs. O. L. Olesen, Mrs. Searcy and Mrs. Carl Pfantstiel represented the local Y. W. C. A. at the convention held in Cleveland April 13 and 14. Quite as vital to the whole future of the movement as the question of the alternate student basis of membership which was briefly discussed in this paper last week, was the Industrial program which the convention adopted.

Just as the students came to the convention with their problem to ask the help of the national association in solving it, the industrial girls came with theirs. They requested endorsement of their standards for women-workers, which included: the eight-hour day and the forty-four hour week, prohibition of night work for women, minimum wage for beginners, regulated by law and based on the cost of living in that community, equal pay for equal work, prohibition of child labor, collective bargaining and the right of employees to organize in whatever forms best represent their interests, and their right to select whomsoever they will as their representatives.

They asked also that the association use its influence in securing proper legislation which should require these standards in all industries, since only through legislation can they become effective.

To hear these girls speak made a deep impression. They came from their various factories to the convention in which they worked daily ten and sometimes eleven hours a day. They told what Christian ideal and practices had meant in the lives of their group, how strikes had been prevented through the use of Christian principles in employing labor, and what the association had meant to them personally. There was some slight opposition to the adoption of their program on the part of some of the conservative members of the convention, who feared that the Association might be going outside its province in helping to make effective these standards through legislation. The opposition was relatively small, however, and when the vote was finally taken there was not a dissenting voice.

On the same day the Chicago Y. W. C. A. was admitted to membership in the national association. For many years Chicago has preferred to remain outside, but during the last two years the work has been completely reorganized, and it now desired to become part of the national movement. It was a moment of rejoicing for everyone, especially those who had for many years worked in the association, when the Chicago delegation took their seats as voting delegates in the convention.

Next week the financial issues decided upon at the convention will be discussed in this paper.

PLANS DRAWN FOR BEAUTIFUL GARDEN

Nursery Company to Create Lavish Scene with Lily Pond and Log Cabin

A wonderland of beauty and color in the shape of an artificial garden with all sorts of fine shrubs, flowers, and trees, a lily pond, Grecian seats, and a log cabin constructed on the Swiss model, is to be constructed by Mr. O. C. Doerrier, manager of the Melody Woods Nursery company, and his assistants.

Mr. Doerrier has leased two lots on Central avenue west of the Press office, and will begin work on the proposed garden in about six weeks. At present, during the busy season, the ground is being temporarily used for nursery stock.

The plans center around a lily pond, 9x22 feet in dimension, which will be so arranged that it will reflect pictures thrown on a screen erected east of it. Seats will be put in on the lot leased from the Y. W. C. A., and during the summer, Mr. Doerrier will give a series of lectures on landscape architecture, and civic improvement in many of the large cities. The talks will be illustrated by stereopticon slides, and a comedy film is promised as an added attraction.

An eight-foot walk will lead to the log cabin in the rear of the lot, where Mr. Doerrier will have his office and seed room. Grecian seats will be placed on either side, and a sun dial and gazing globe will add to the beauty of the scene.

Mr. Heaton Nichols, fellow of the Royal Horticultural society of London, and fellow of the Royal Botanical society, has been secured by the nursery company as an expert.

Spending The Corset Dollar

EVERY woman realizes that this is the day of the "fifty-cent dollar." If you spend your corset dollars for a garment that does not wear well, that does not give you satisfaction, it is an extravagant corset at any price. You can spend your corset money so every dollar will have its full purchasing power of 100 cents if you will be very particular about the corset you buy.

"GETTING your money's worth" in these days of increasing costs and the diminishing value of dollars, as it applies to corsets, is not so much in the price you pay as in the garment you buy. The corset you discard after a few uncomfortable wearings or the corset you continue to wear at the expense of your appearance, health and peace of mind, is the corset you cannot afford. We assure you that every is worth every cent you pay for it—worth it in style; worth it in comfort; worth it in wearing service.

There is not a corsetiere in our corset department but will take a personal interest in helping you spend your corset dollars wisely.
