GARDENS!
 Everyone may have a garden whether it be in a window-box or a few hundred acres. Even if your possession of a garden be only from glimpses of gate-ways found by chance, or hungry glances over a hedge, you will love the garden books in the Public Library. An exhibit of books on country homes and gardening are on a table in the fiction room for you to look at and take home with you, if you wish. Seed catalogs are here also, to be borrowed as books are, and some of the fine farmers' bulletins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These bulletins are on a wide variety of subjects: animals, insects, fruit and garden crops, soils and implements. Only a few are on the tables but others will be showed you if you inquire at the loan desk. They are well indexed in the Readers' Guide magazine indexes, and are shelved in the closet with the unbound magazines.
 Some of the new books on gardening which have come through gift and purchase are:
 Flour culture by the month, by Mary Hampden.
 Lawns and how to make them, by Leonard Barron.

The orchard and the fruit garden, E. P. Powell.
 The flour garden, Ida D. Bennett.
 The tree guide, J. E. Rogers.
 Garden making, Bailey.
 Plant breeding, Bailey.
 The nursery book, Bailey.
 The pruning book, Bailey.
 The principles of fruit-growing, Bailey.
 How Crops Grow, Johnson.
 The garden and its accessories, Loring Underwood.
 Orchid culture, Rand.
 The country house, Hooper.
 Low cost of suburban homes, by Wright, is a book which has been in the public library for some time, but is in great demand, as is also "The Effective Small Home," and "The Woman's Hardy Garden."

 It is a great pleasure to acknowledge the gift of one hundred and twenty-five volumes from the library of Mr. George Wienhofer. The handsome set of Encyclopedia Britannica will be placed in the Ravinia Village House as the nucleus for a permanent branch library. Ravinia has a library of considerable size of its own, and a monthly deposit of books from the main library.
 Most of the people come often to the main library in Highland Park because of the larger choice in number of books and variety of topics, but we hope in time to build up a branch library which will be cataloged and open to the public every day and for a longer time, with paid workers in addition to the volunteers. This is looking a long way ahead, but we are headed that way.

 "Yellowleaf," by Gregory, is written with an everydayness of manner that makes the characters powerfully real. This novel shows exceptional skill—the skill which hides itself. Yellowleaf, the London home of the Dampierre family, is the beautiful setting. A famous musician, Aghassy, brings storm and tragedy into the life of the widowed Lily, daughter-in-law of wise old Lady Mary, but the latter's brave strategy rings happiness out of chaos. Lady Mary is a keen bit of a person—she is not just a character in a book, you feel as you read, but really a person. Aside from the plot interest of the book, you will be glad to know that there are women like Lady Mary.
 "Heartbreak House, Great Catherine, and Playlets of the War," is Bernard Shaw's new volume. One of the four playlets is "Augustus" even his bit: a True-to-Life-Farce. Does a superficial glimpse of the book make one prophecy that it will be as read and worn as are all the other Bernard Shaw books on the library shelves.
 Margaret Ridlon, Librarian.

OUR SYMPATHY WITH STEER
 From Los Angeles comes the word that in the preparation of a Vitagraph serial film, a maddened steer, with its neck twisted almost to the breaking point, finally sent his tormentor, one Joe Ryan, home to bed with three broken ribs and bruises enough to keep him nursing his own injuries for some time. What must we think of that part of the public that craves such exhibitions of cruelty as to make their representation financially profitable? These inhuman scenes thrown upon the screen would have delighted audiences that crowded two thousand years ago the Roman Coliseum.
 The folks who are striking because the cost of living has gone up so high, will soon find that the cost of living has gone up again to pay for their strikes.
 The new secretary of agriculture must look out that the plums are properly distributed.
 You can find someone that is willing to beat a carpet this spring, by giving 'em the carpet.

Ten miles used to be a long way

WHAT a difference in these motor-car days, when every point in the county is hardly more than "just around the corner."

People's ideas are changing, too.

They're beginning to figure out how much it is costing them to keep a car. And the man who is doing the greatest amount of figuring is the man with the moderate-price car.

There still seems to be a notion in some quarters that any tire is good enough for a small car.

That's not what the man who owns it thinks.

In recommending and selling U. S. Tires we are trying to see his side of the proposition—finding out what he wants in a tire and giving him that.

III

Large or small, U. S. Tires are built to only one standard of quality—the standard that produced the first straight side automobile tire, the first pneumatic truck tire.

Every tire that bears the name "U. S." is built the best way its makers know how. It isn't the car, but the man who owns the car, that counts with the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

IV

As representatives of U. S. Tires in this town, we offer you the benefit of our experience and advice in settling your tire problem.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel!

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cords.
