Elm Place School

A very interesting program was given last evening at the commencement exercises of the Elm Place Grammar school. A short address by one of the patrons of the school, Mr. Eugene S. Wilson, whose son is in the graduating class, was followed by the address of the evening by Dr. William Owen, president of the Chicago Normal school. His subject was "The General Education Situation, which was given with great vigor and forcefulness and was very well received. A class of forty-six received their diplomas.

Lincoln School The commencement exercises of the Lincoln school were also held last evening. Mr. J. S. Duncan-Clark of the Chicago Evening Post gave the address of the evening.

ELEVEN PAY FEES SUNDAY MORNING

Galloping Domino Club Hold Usual Ceremony Before Bar of Justice

During the wee small hours Sunday morning the members of the "galloping domino" club convened for their regular meeting. Later they were gathered in the lodge rooms at the city hall and arraigned before Master of Ceremonies A. E. Smith for initiation. The fee was five dollars $5 each. During the ceremony the dues were carefully guarded by Officer Sheahan and Rafferty in the customary initiation regalia. Having become so familiar with the general public the club members have decided to change the name of the organization to the Ethiopian Golf club. Meeting will be held regularly, barring possible interruptions. Two new fees were among those present at the bar of justice Sunday morning. There were seven present. Shortly after the first gathering there was a meeting of the Sile Poker club, in the same lodge room. Four paid initiation fees.
