SUCCESSFUL FIRST MONTH AT RAVINIA

PROGRAMS HAVE PLEASED

Children's Wild Flower Carnival to Be Given Thursday, August Fifth, at the Park

Ravinia Sunday night complete the first month of the 1920 season the second performance of "The Barber of Seville." It was a success every respect. The outstanding feature of the first four weeks of Ravinia opera has been the uniform excellence of every performance. There have been no poor programs.

Thus far, sixteen different operas have been given and twelve repeats. There have been sixteen orchestra concerts, and four children's programs. The coming week schedules two operas, "The Love of Three Kings" and "The Elixir of Love," both which were enormously popular during the last winter season of the opera at the Auditorium.

Charles Hackett appeared Sunday night in the greatest of New York roles, according to eastern critics that of Count Almaviva in "The Barber of Seville." Monday evening's usual orchestra program was equal. "Il Trovatore," one of the season's greatest successes, was again on Tuesday night, with a cast including Miss Easton, Alice G. Kingston and Pico. Wednesday night Edith Mason appeared in much discussed performance, in the role of "Thais," with Rotherly opposite her. This afternoon is children's day, and this evening Cal will be repeated.
