OPERA SEASON ENDS NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

SCOTTI IN FINAL PROGRAM

Several Good Things Are Offered in the Last Few Days of Season at Ravinia Park

The last days of Ravinia's 1920 season are approaching, but interesting programs will continue up to the very end. The next four days — the season will close on the night of Labor day — will contain several first rank productions.

This afternoon at three o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Marx Oberdorfer will give their last talks on the operas to the children. Four selections will be played by the orchestra. A special feature of the program this afternoon is Princess Sansa of the Cherokee tribe, who will appear in her native costume, and will give a series of Indian stories, songs and dances. The Thursday night concert section of the program will be an interesting example of some of the vocal high lights of opera.

The opera itself will be "La Navarraise," to be sung by Miss Geneva Kingston, Leon Rothier, and D'Angelo; and in connection with it a group of excerpts from other operas.

Friday night Antonio Scotti will give his sardonic presentation of Sacripanta in "Tosca," with Miss Easton and Kingston as his associates in the cast. Friday afternoon at three o'clock there will be an orchestra concert, and another will be given Saturday afternoon.

"Martha" is the opera chosen for Saturday night. It was postponed from last week because of Edith Mason's unavoidable absence from the company. She will appear as Martha, Charles Hackett as Lionel, Miss Geneva as Nancy, Louis D'Angelo as Plunkett and Paolo Ananian in the comedy role of Sir Tristan.

Sunday afternoon's orchestra program will be followed in the evening by "Zaza," in which Florence Easton will sing the title role. The final orchestra concert will be presented on Monday afternoon by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Richard Hageman conducting.

Scotti, a distinguished figure at the beginning of the season, will close it. Monday night he will present his delineation of the malign in the underworld of San Francisco's Chinatown, "Chim-Feng in 'L'Oracolo.'" Miss Easton, D'Angelo, Mary Kent and Palmieri are included in the cast.

RAIN FAILS TO HALT C. C. BOYS BALL GAME

Although the rain Sunday lasted until one o'clock in the afternoon the Community Center baseball boys were out at three for the weekly game. Glencoe came to Highland Park, and with their usual luck managed to take the game by a safe 11 to 4 score. This game is not counted as a regular contest, and must be played over, due to the fact that there was no umpire. The league schedule game will probably be played here a week from Sunday.

There will be two games played here Sunday afternoon. At one thirty the Community Center team will play Highland and at three thirty the Highland Park regulars will meet Des Plaines. On Monday (Labor Day) the Community Center team will play Highwood at Highwood.

FALLS TO DEATH FROM OFFICE WINDOW

I. B. Thomas, Local Resident, Instantly Killed in Fall From Eighth Floor

Isaac Biddle Thomas, a purchasing agent for the Pennsylvania lines, was killed yesterday when he fell from a window in the eighth floor of the Insurance Exchange building.

Deputy Coroner Adolph Hermann said he could develop no evidence of any motive for suicide. Associates of Mr. Thomas insist the fall was accidental.

Thomas had been connected with the Pennsylvania lines for twenty-eight years, ever since his graduation from Yale at the age of 20. Officials of the company assert he was in no financial difficulties. They know of no domestic troubles.

The only indication of suicide was two rubber heel prints on the window ledge of a lavatory directly above the spot where the body was found on the roof of a two-story building.

Mrs. Thomas, who has been visiting her mother in Pittsburgh, is expected home today. Her children, Elizabeth, 11 years old, and Edward, 9, are at their home, 318 Ravine Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have made their home in this city for the past three months.

MRS. MARGARET NOLAN DIED THIS MORNING

ALL LOCAL SCHOOLS TO OPEN TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER SEVENTH

FEW CHANGES FROM LAST YEAR'S TEACHING STAFF

High School Undergoes Extensive Changes. Shields Hall Becomes the Administration Building of Greater Deerfield. Large Enrollment Expected.

Elm Place school will be open for the new school year Tuesday morning, Sept. 7. The usual rules relating to minimum age requirements will be observed. These are that children entering kindergarten must be at least five years of age, but that children whose fifth birthday will occur with sixty days of the opening of school will be admitted with the rest, and that children entering first grade must be at least six years of age or their sixth birthday must occur within the sixty day limit above mentioned.

Up to present time Elm Place has been unusually fortunate in being able to retain nearly the entire teaching staff of last year. Miss Edna Behrens was obliged to withdraw in June but her place was at once taken by Miss Kate Schermerhorn who was away last year on leave of absence. Two new teaching positions have been created, one in the kindergarten and one in the fifth-sixth grades, and their occupants are the only new teachers on the staff. Miss Josephine Copeland comes from Monmouth, Ill., to do departmental work in grades five and six and thus relieve the pressure in those grades due to large enrollment. Miss Virginia Thompson of Wilmette is added to the kindergarten staff for a similar reason.

The staff for the new year is as follows: First grade, Esther White, Lois McManus and Lida Behrens; second grade, Ethel Pritchard and Esther Newberry; third grade, Clara Smith and Kate Schermerhorn; fourth grade, Alice Meyers, Orva Stine and Irene Jones; fifth and sixth grades, Elizabeth Payne, Bertha Cramer, Josephine Copeland, Clara White and Clara Sands; seventh and eighth grades, Edna Grenoble, Etta Grunwald, Margaret Heffron, Mrs. George Taylor, Lena Nixon and Ellen M. Guiney; drawing and sewing, Eva Giffen; manual training, Ray Marshall; music, Mildred Lund; visiting nurse, Jennie Johnson; secretary, Nora Behrens; superintendent, Jesse L. Smith. The kindergarten staff consists of Hildegard Powers, director, and Ruth Dougherty and Virginia Thompson, assistants, with a cadet from Gertrude House also on duty.

The entire teaching staff will meet at the Elm Place school on Monday morning, Sept. 6, for a one-day "institute." At nine o'clock on the following morning (Tuesday) will occur the first morning assembly for the school year of all the pupils and teachers. School will be in session only until noon of that day. The book store will be open that afternoon with Miss Nora Behrens in charge. Books will be sold at as near cost as possible but this, as is expected, is much in excess of that of recent years.

It is planned to hold the annual exhibit of vegetables and flowers raised by pupils of the school on Thursday, Sept. 9. The details of the exhibit will be outlined at the Tuesday morning assembly.

Schools in District 108, including Lincoln, Ravinia and West Ridge, will open Tuesday, Sept. 7.

There are two changes in the teaching staff for the coming year. Miss Mary Wilcockson who had charge of the third and fourth grades at Lincoln school has resigned to finish her work at the University of Chicago. Miss Ruth Rockwell of La Grange, Ill., a graduate of the Iowa State Teachers' college will have charge of these grades during the coming year. Mrs. Chace, who has taught seventh and eighth grades at Ravinia has given up educational work and will find work in the business world. Mrs. S. G. Mills of Montclair, N. J., a woman of wide and varied experience, will succeed Mrs. Chace.

All school books will be ordered from the office of Supt. Wright at the Lincoln school.

Children who are five years old or who will be five before January 1st, will be admitted to the kindergarten. Miss Lucy Allen has charge of the Ravinia kindergarten and Miss Jessie Cain will have charge of the Lincoln kindergarten.

Oak Terrace School
The following new teachers will take up their duties in the Oak Terrace school next Tuesday morning: Mrs. Peddle, Miss Gastfield, Miss Winn in the place of Miss Edwards, the retiring fifth and sixth grade teacher, and Miss Ferrot of the third grade.

Immaculate Conception School
The Immaculate Conception school will open for the fall term Tuesday morning. The teaching staff is practically the same as last year's.

D. S. High School
The high school opens on Tuesday morning, Sept. 7, at 8:45. Saturday morning, Sept. 4, at 8:00 there will be an entrance examination for pupils who have prepared for high school through tutors and for those who, failed the regular eighth grade examinations, have now made up their deficiency by summed work. On Monday afternoon at three o'clock there will be a meeting of teachers. Parents who wish to consult the principal prior to the opening of school, will find him in his office Saturday from nine to twelve and from two to four; and on Monday, Labor Day, from nine to twelve a. m.

Changes at High School
Shields hall has become the administration building of Greater Deerfield. To bring the administrative offices closer together and into more harmonious relations several changes have been made. The roof formerly used as the principal's office becomes the central office. It will be provided with a counter. The office secretary and the vice-principal will have their desks here. To the east is the principal's office, to the west is what was formerly boy's senior locker room is the bookkeeper's office. The girls' senior locker room has become a room for men teachers, corresponding to the women teacher's room on the opposite side of the entrance stairway. The men teachers of Shields hall will have lockers in this room, there being no lockers or closets in their rooms. The girl's hospital has been moved to the rest room originally provided for them on the mezzanine floor in their gymnasium. The room formerly used for a girl's rest room has become a teacher's work room for duplicating, hectographing, etc.

Perhaps the most noticeable change of all is the removing of the library to larger quarters just above the old library and rest room. New and handsome shelves have been provided here and every facility given for a first class school library. All these changes aim at greater efficiency for the school.

New Teachers
Considering the times and the scarcity of teachers, Deerfield-Shields is fortunate in its teaching force for 1920-21. There are but two actual changes. Mr. Edward Glick, of the history department, and Miss Emma Lee McCaffrey, Spanish and French, are the two who are leaving. To fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of these teachers, come Mr. Percy W. Sloucin, for seven years teacher of history and economics in the Madison, Wis., high school and Miss (Continued on Page 7)
