OLIVER HINSDALL AT FIRST P-T. A. MEETING

(Continued from page 1) gracefully responded to an encore. The social hour which followed was enjoyed by all. It was especially interesting to the members of the Elm Place staff as it gave opportunity to meet the fathers as well as the mothers of many of their pupils. This is not possible in the regular afternoon sessions.

Refreshments were served under the efficient management of Mrs. Clarence Balke and Mrs. E. R. Phelps. Some of the mothers of the eighth grade pupils were invited to serve. Mrs. Elisha Morgan, Mrs. Paul Chapman and Mrs. E. E. Truax presided at the punch bowls.

At ten o'clock the guests departed, pronouncing the first meeting of the Parent-Teacher association a marked success. In the past the members of the association have rendered the school much encouragement and assistance, and the forethought with which this meeting has been planned bespeaks the deep interest of the members of the executive board, and forecasts the continuation of these pleasant relations and fine co-operative work.

Each party shows a cordial willingness to nominate women for an office to which she stands no chance of getting elected.

MRS. SLADE DEFENDS CLAIMS OF DEMOCRATS

"The Child Labor Law is an act to prevent the employment of children under 14 years of age and was passed by a Democratic Congress and signed by President Wilson. It was declared un-Constitutional by the United States Supreme Court, but by incorporating its provisions in the Revenue Law it was made operative.

"It is an opportune time to say also that the Democratic Party is not trying 'to catch' votes. We believe that the American voters, both men and women, are intelligent enough to make a decision founded on reason, once the true facts are obtained by them. That is what the Democratic Party is endeavoring to do through the medium of these advertisements as, owing to a heavily subsidized press, this is the only method of getting a fair statement of our case in the newspapers. We are not offering a hook, line and sinker, but facts obtained as carefully and precisely as possible.

Very truly yours, ALMA L. SLADE.

SYSTEMATIC SAVINGS PLANNED FOR SCHOOLS

Each Pupil in the Seventh Federal Reserve District Urged to Buy Savings Stamps

School children of the Seventh Federal Reserve District are going to have a definite target to shoot at this school year in the matter of thrift and systematic saving. The 4,000,000 pupils in the 125,000 school rooms of the five states comprising the district - Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin - will individually be asked to save enough before the last day of school to purchase two Government Savings Stamps of maturity value of $5 each. The average school year in the district is about eight months, and on the basis of a "unanimous" showing, the pupils would save approximately $2,500,000.

"School authorities all over the district," said W. B. Rosworth, Government Savings Director of Sales for the Seventh District, "fully appreciate the importance of inculcating the spirit of thrift and systematic saving in the school children, and they are enthusiastic in their efforts to aid the general movement.

"While the individual 'quota' for the entire district will be two Government Savings Stamps for the year, the school authorities will follow their own plans of bringing about the big results. We are hoping that each pupil will average one Thrift Stamp of twenty-five cent value a week, and we are hoping that the children will save largely through their own earning. Of course, many parents will provide the money with which to buy the Stamps, but we believe that the children themselves will have the lesson brought home to them more impressively if they are permitted to earn the money through doing chores, raking up the fallen leaves, shoveling snow, and the like. Every 'kiddie' feels a bit prouder of his money if it represents the result of work, and every boy or girl can find a way to earn the price of a Stamp.

"The matter of actual saving of money will be supplemented throughout the district by thrift lessons - attractive, impressive, easy-to-learn lessons. Last year the children of the district invested approximately $5,000,000 in Thrift Stamps and Government Savings Stamps, but the pupils had no definite target to shoot at. They indulged more or less in the hit-or-miss system, saving their pennies and nickels irregularly. With the 'quota' system, we believe that the children not only will give a new value to the cent, but will be less inclined to 'get rid of their nickels and dimes.

FIND CAR STOLEN FROM GARAGE HERE

Cadillac Machine Abandoned by Thieves in Chicago; No Trace Found

The Cadillac car stolen from the MacPherson garage about two o'clock Wednesday morning last week was found last Friday by the Chicago police at La Salle and Thirty-third streets, where it was abandoned by the joy riders or thieves, whichever they were.

The car was driven out of the garage while the night men were absent. No one heard it go. One suspicious character, suspected by the police, was arrested, but nothing was proved against the man.

Amateur Yeggs do Much Damage and Escape with Contents of Lockers

One night last week thieves broke into the Young Men's club boathouse at the lake front, and escaped with a quantity of the club members' wearing apparel. Just how much of the material in the lockers was stolen could not be ascertained as many of the members are out of town at present.

It is believed that the job was done by amateurs, or possibly boys. The door was smashed in, and the door on many of the lockers were pried off with a crowbar. The damage done will probably amount to more than the value of the goods taken. No trace of the thieves was found.

THANKS PEOPLE WHO HELPED HIM HERE

Edson Sommers of Northfield, Minn., wounded soldier, who, after finishing his course in the patient school at Fort Sheridan was allowed to take course at New Trier, an Deerfield-Shield's high schools, and who was befriended by several people in Highland Park, has asked the his gratitude to this community expressed through the columns of the Press. Sommers has gone home, and later expects to take a course in agriculture at the University of Minnesota.

Money talks, though a lot of it is borrowed money. No great public regret is expressed when a fool spender gets smashed up, but people hate to see good automobile iron all twisted to pieces. In spite of Gen. Apathy, the candidates are all going to vote Nov. 2. If they don't let up on this scarcity of news print pretty soon, there will also be a scarcity of shrewds.

LOST GAME BY 7-5 AT WAUKEGAN SUNDAY

LOCALS RALLY TOO LATE

Second Pitcher Was Put in After Opponents Get Several Runs; 'Ump's' Decision Boies Some

Waukegan defeated Highland Park in the first game of the series last Sunday by a score of 7 to 5. A large crowd of fans witnessed the game, the entire north end of the grandstand being filled with Highland Park root-ers.

Williams started the game, and for the first two innings looked like the best in the world, striking out five men. In the third, however, Overlock hit a lucky triple to right field, the first man had walked. Then Flynn singled, giving them two runs. In the fourth the explosion came when the first four men singled, scoring twice more.

Williams was replaced by Windleborn, who got the next two. Then Waukegan tried a double steal. Bachant, the Highland Park catcher, made a perfect throw to third, apparently getting the runner by five feet, but Moore, the field umpire, called him safe. Even the Waukegan rooters admitted this to be an unfair decision. George Olin, at third, was rolled at the decision, and shook the umpire, who ordered him off the field. This caused Highland Park to lose the team's best hitter.

The locals rallied twice after the fourth, making two runs in the seventh on clean hitting, and two more in the ninth on a single by Bachant and a homer by Mathey. Windleborn who finished the game, will pitch next Sunday, and he continues in last Sunday's form. The team will come home with the game in the old bat but providing they get no more impossible decisions from the umpire.
