Y. W. C. A. NEWS

Dancing Classes
The Humphrey school of dancing, with increased facilities, is prepared to give to the Y. W. C. A. classes greater efficiency than ever before. While continuing the former general plan of work, new classes and special features will be added in a policy of expansion which aims to provide adequately for all forms of dance activity.

The popularity which the Y. W. C. A. classes have attained among a large circle of discriminating people by reason of its excellent service and high standards, forms its best recommendation to the still larger circle whose attention we invite to the advantages of the 1920-21 season.

High School Class
The first class will be held Monday afternoon, Oct. 19, at 4 o'clock, and will be devoted to girls of high school age. Classic and interpretative work will be given. This is an ideal opportunity for girls of promising talent and enthusiasm.

Young Women's Evening Class
The evening classes for young women will be held Monday evening at 7:30 and 8:30. Fold, gymnastic, and social dancing give an ideal combination for exercise, relaxation, fun and spirit.

Tuesday Afternoon
Children from five to nine will have special instruction in rhythm, dance, play and exercises suitable for them at 3:30 and the same afternoon at 4:30 grade school girls will be given folk, gymnastic and interpretative dancing.

By putting the classes on different days better results will be obtained. Mrs. Portia Scott of Highland Park has been secured as the instructor for these classes, and comes to us with a well recommended course of training from the very best schools in the country, including William Crockett Perrin of Chicago and the Faulhaber school of dancing, Cambridge, Mass. At present Mrs. Scott is studying with Ivan Fernova of the Imperial Russian ballet, of Chicago, and is prepared to do special work along this line with advanced pupils.

Mothers are invited to observe the work during the first lessons, that is Monday and Tuesday afternoons of next week—October 18 and 19. The very best adjustment will be made for all who enter the class.

Miss Ruth Wilcockson will assist Mrs. Scott at the piano.

Vesper Service
The first Vesper service of this fall will be held this Sunday, Oct. 17, at 5 p. m. A general invitation is extended to all girls to be present.

There will be some special features that will be very much worth while. Three of our Y. W. C. A. girls are leaving Highland Park and we take this opportunity of wishing them God-speed on their way. New girls are urged to come and get acquainted Sunday afternoon.

OPEN MEMORIAL MUSIC BUILDING AT ILLINOIS

First Building Ever Donated to College Being Used This Fall

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 13 — Although there are more than sixty buildings on the University of Illinois campus, the first building ever to have been donated to the institution, is being used for the first time this fall. It is the Smith Memorial Music building, a gift of Captain T. J. Smith of Champaign, as a memorial to his wife.

Erected at a cost of more than $450,000, the building is one of the handsomest on the campus, and houses the School of Music. In it are nineteen studios, two class rooms, fifty one practice rooms, a library, a lecture room, the office suits, and an auditorium seating 1150 persons.

Visitors who have been in music centers throughout the country say that the new building is the finest recital hall in America. Genuine walnut panelling is found in every hall and every room, while beautiful decorative plaster work in the form of rare old musical instruments, adds beauty begging description.

The building is only half furnished owing to the shortage of University funds, but it is being used until relief comes. Included in the present equipment are 32 pianos and two pipe organs.

It is expected that the building will be dedicated some time after the first of the year.

RUNYARD TO CONTEST SWIFT'S NOMINATION

Waukegan Man Who Was Declared Loser by 124 Votes Continues to Fight

Attorney Eugene M. Runyard on Monday filed in circuit court at Waukegan a petition to contest the nomination of Senator Rodney E. Swift, who, according to the official county board, defeated him for the nomination of state senator by 124 votes.

Mr. Runyard filed a similar suit against Mr. Swift shortly after the county canvassing board had made its report of the election result. Attorneys representing Senator Swift appeared in court and argued that the petition had been filed prematurely, inasmuch as the state canvassing board had not yet announced the result of their canvass.

Judge R. K. Welsh, to whom the case had been taken on a change of venue, held that this point was well taken and dismissed the petition. Mr. Runyard announced at that time that he would file a new petition as soon as the state canvassing board had completed its work.

The new petition is practically the same as the first one filed. It charges that many votes which should have been counted for Mr. Runyard were declared defective and that many votes which should have been declared defective were counted for Senator Swift. A recount of the votes cast in Boone and McHenry counties and in several of the precincts in Lake county is asked.

CITY AND TOWN PLANNING

The first problem in any comprehensive plan for growth of a city or town, is commonly to decide in what locations factories should in future be built. City planning boards commonly get out maps of the place, and indicate a number of tracts which in their opinion are suitable for factory use. A failure to locate manufacturing industries suitably has a most unfavorable development on the growth of a town.

The secretary of the chamber of commerce in a growing city that has thus platted out on a map its future development, was asked how they could force people to follow such a plan. "Community pressure does it all right," he said. "If a man wants to build a factory here, we show him where he would best locate, and we urge landowners elsewhere not to let him have land for that purpose. So far we have controlled it all right."

Residence neighborhoods in many cities are spoiled by undesirable factory locations. Residents who take pride in their places, are driven out by coal smoke and other conditions. Building a factory in a district already crowded, usually means that slum conditions develop, as the result of drawing in a lot more people than live comfortably.

City planning boards usually urge manufacturing industries to locate a little out of the thickly settled centers. Thus a factory district may become a pretty suburb, instead of a congested slum. Also if factories can be located near a railroad line, it saves cost of hauling and tearing up of streets by heavy trucks.
