LAKE COUNTY NEWS

station Tuesday. William Knapp, a former employe at the station was arrested in connection with the theft.

Miss Millie Marvin of Fort Sheridan, is one of a group of eight persons who are sailing on the liner City of Benares for the Far East. She will do missionary work in India.

Forty-five cows which were found to be tubercular by state inspector were driven away from the Countryman and Dietner farm east of Volo last week. This is the farm where "Ragapple", the famous $100,000 bull, the animal that was responsible for the failure of the bank at Dixon some weeks ago, made his home for a time.

Perry L. Austin, probably the best known Civil War veteran in Lake county, died at his home, 111 Chestnut street, Waukegan, late Saturday afternoon. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of his death. Mr. Austin was for 18 months on President Lincoln's bodyguard at Washington. He fought in various battles in the southern states during the last months of the war.

Dan Cupid and the stork vied with each other in seeing who could gladden the most hearts Christmas day. The stork visited six homes in Waukegan and Zion City. Dan Cupid was out shopping too, and saw four licenses granted to Lake County couples.

Two things are absolutely forbidden in Shilo Tabernacle, city of Zion. No woman or girl over the age of 14 years, can come into the church over which Voliva presides, and wear a low-necked dress; and no man, woman or child can sit in his audience and chew gum. Shawls are kept in the vestry to be thrown over the shoulders of any women who are careless enough to enter the tabernacle without high necks on their dresses.

Stepping aside from the Zion teaching has gotten three boys of that city, Roland Page, 17, Stephen Anderson, 18, and Arthur Berger, 17, into serious trouble. They pled guilty to a charge of robbing the Zion depot of $22 worth of tickets and a large quantity of candy. Berger confessed standing guard with a bayonet while his pals looted the station.

Inability to tell one kind of game bird from another proved very costly to two Evanston men, Gaetano and Sam Laizzo, who were taken into custody Sunday by Deputy Game Warden Henry Kern near Round Lake. They were fined $100 and costs each for having shot two female pheasants.

BOARD SAYS WRONG INFERENCE WAS MADE

RULE WAS MISUNDERSTOOD
Supervisors Anxious to Aid Prosecutor; Merely Want to Watch Expense Money

The view of the inference given out in the public statement made by assistant State's Attorney Dady in which he tells of the reason why he has tendered his resignation, members of the board of supervisors have felt that the board was entitled to an explanation of their position on the matter of hiring detectives, for the prosecutor's office, their belief being that Mr. Dady's statement indicates that the prosecutor's hands are tied by the rules which make it necessary to get permission from the board before he can hire detectives.

According to prominent members of the board this was the farthest from the board's thought when they passed a rule two years ago making it necessary for the State's Attorney to get permission from the chairman of the board or the chairman of the judiciary committee when he wanted to hire detectives. The resolution provided that the prosecutor should notify the chairman of the board or of the committee that he wished to have a detective and the board's understanding was that the chairman accordingly would give their assent to the whole plan merely being that somebody on the board could officially keep track of the detective hire, and of the money spent.

This arrangement, the supervisors declare, was the outgrowth of so many bills coming in before the board for detective hire where hundreds of dollars were charged up to detectives accounts for losses in poker games, playing slot machines, purchase of drinks, etc., and board members resented this sort of procedure on the part of the sleuths. The board when they saw a bill from the prosecutor's office, totaling $2500 to $3000 for a quarter, felt that the time had come that something should be done therefore the resolution in question was passed.

Inference Was Unjust
The inference that, because the prosecutor has to get permission from the chairman, tips might follow to persons who might be under suspicion is entirely erroneous, according to supervisors. The fact is that the chairman of the board or the chairman of the judiciary committee at no time have asked for or received information as to where detectives which the state's attorney was going to hire, would be apt to work. In fact they have not known anything about this and the board did not expect them to be privileged to ask where the detectives were to be sleuthing.

It was just a question of knowing when they were to be hired and how long they were to be hired for.

At the recent session of the board State's Attorney Smith appeared before the supervisors and the rule in question was read to him. Chairman Baird turned to the State's Attorney and said "Col., we want you to understand that this board is with you from beginning to end in the move to enforce the law here. You will not find the board tying your hands at any time and this rule should not be misinterpreted. It merely means that the board feels as though somebody connected with the supervisors ought to know just where some of the money is being spent and that is why it passed a rule so that some sort of check could be kept. This was due to the fact that huge sums of money were being spent during the past years and I am confident whenever you make your request for detectives it will be granted readily."

Chairman Baird made it plain to Col. Smith that he, as chairman of the board at no time would desire to know where the detectives were to work or what cases they were to be set upon. He merely wanted the new attorney to feel that he had the hearty co-operation of the board and every supervisor present acquiesced in his explanation. And Col. Smith informed the board that he was quite satisfied that he knew the rule would work out all right and he had no complaint to offer.

My Friend—

PAST experience has taught us that a great many people postpone the purchase until after Christmas.

Bearing these facts in mind, we have kept our stock intact and have at the present time a good good assortment to choose from.

The Brunswick is the best phonograph made, and we can prove it to your satisfaction.

Call and be convinced.

Yours truly,

PAYS TRIBUTE TO LAKE COUNTY JAIL

Judge Landis Sends Youth to Waukegan to Keep Away Bad Influences

Judge Landis unconsciously paid the Lake County jail at Waukegan a compliment when he sent a 17-year-old boy here rather than to the Cook county jail where he said the lad would have to mingle with yeggs, crooks, etc.

"There's a lot of beautiful scenery on the way to hell and I'll certainly send you there if you want me to. You think this ever. Either go to jail or, repent—meet me half way."

It was Judge Landis talking. The white haired judge, speaking more earnestly than he ever did to moonshiner, counterfeiter or blue sky law violator, leaned over his desk and fixed his eyes on the 17-year-old boy in front of him. The fans, (in federal court,) sensing a Christmas lecture of no small import, also leaned forward to hear the better.

"Now, Ray, I am going to send you to Waukegan to think the matter over," continued the judge. "I am not going to put you in the Cook county jail with a lot of yeggmen, crooks and other bad men. If I have to send you to the penitentiary you will start on your way to hell."

Ray Victor Warner, charged with the theft of a government check for $17 from Mrs. Mary Dopahue, 640 North LaSalle street, Chicago, hung his head. He then looked at Judge Landis and nodded. He was then taken by the deputy United States marshal to the Waukegan jail. He will go back on Jan. 5, and tell Judge Landis whether he will "meet him half-way". Ray lives at 161, West Chestnut street, Chicago.
