SOME REALLY GREAT NOVELS

Here are a few of the really great novels of the world, and a few of the near great. Have you read them all? Some people say they don't read any more because they can't tolerate the modern novel, yet there are many of the most worth while books, some really famous books, and many less famous and more delightful books which they have never read (nor perhaps ever heard mentioned). This is not a selective list of the world's best books, it is only a few of the really great novels, and a few near-great:

Balzac—Passion in the Desert.
Bachelier—Eben Holden.
Bazin—The Nun.
Cable—Strange True Stories of Louisiana.
Cather—Song of the Lark.
Chomondeley—Red Potage.
Collins—Woman in White.
Coppée—Tales.
Couch—News from the Duchy.
Crawford—In the Palace of the King.
Crockett—Stickit Minister.
DunMaurier—Trilby.
Eggleston—Circuit Rider.
Fogazzaro—The Saint.
Ford—Honorable Peter Stirling.
Frenssen—Jörn Uhl.
Gaskell—Cranford.
Gogol—Deal Souls.
Hardy—Return of the Native.
Harland—My Friend Prospero.
Henderson—John Percysfield.
Herrick—The Master of the Inn.
Howells—The Leatherstocking.
James—Portrait of a Lady.
Jewett—Country of the Pointed Firs.

Jokai—Black Diamonds.
LeSage—Adventures of Gil Blas.
Loti—Iceland Fisherman.
Ludlow—Captain of the Janizaries.
McManus—Through the Turf Smoke.
Meredith—Sandra Beloni.
Mitchell—Hugh Wynn, Free Quaker Page—In Ole Virginie.
Porter—Scottish Chiefs.
Reade—Cloister and the Hearth.
Rolland—Jean Christophe.
Shelley—Frankenstein.
Sienkiewicz—In Desert and Wilderness.
Smith—Caleb West, Master Diver.
Stockton—Casting Away of Mrs. Leeks and Mrs. Aleshine.
Stuart—Sonny.
Sundermann—Regina.
Tchekoff—Russian Silhouettes.
Trollope—Chronicles of Barsetshire.
Twaine—Personal recollections of Joan of Arc.
Wallace—Ben Hur.
Watson—Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush.

Westcott—David Harum
Wister—Lady Baltimore
Wood—East Lynne
Zola—The Downfall

This week a pamphlet forecasting great things came from the N. Y. State Federation of Labor, containing the report of the Committee on Education. How many of us know that the Federations of Labor urge the raising of standards of education? That they are beginning to put emphasis on the value of WORK DONE, and not the limit of hours and pay for union men and women? This increased value of fine workmanship by unions, increased value of education for children and adults, brings with it the force which will demand (and get) adequate compensation for those who are able to educate these children and these adults. It is a fine thing which brings back one's optimism. It stands for justice, enlightenment, and a bright future for our country. You will want to see this inconspicuous pamphlet.

DOUBLE HOLIDAYS FREQUENT THIS YEAR

Memorial, Independence, Labor and Christmas Days Give Sunday and Monday Vacations

Almanacs and calendars have been passed out freely in this city during the last two weeks and call attention to the fact that Old Father Time has sent another year into history and has opened the pages of 1921 for record.

The almanacs which are largely sent out through the enterprise of some industrious drug manufacturing company, besides giving interesting reading on "what ails you" bear the glad tidings that Easter comes early next spring.

Many people find a grim sort of humor in reading up on the various ills that afflict humanity, but others cannot without beginning to feel like they had all the troubles so vividly described.

Persons who will not sit down at a table where 13 persons are seated or will walk blocks to prevent a black cat from crossing their path, will find a lot to worry about when they see that March 4 falls on Friday. However, President-elect Harding, who moves into the White House with Mrs. Harding on that day, probably hasn't any such beliefs.

There's going to be a lot of double holidays during the year just like 1920. Memorial Day, the Fourth of July and Labor day fall on Monday, thus giving Sunday and Monday as holidays, while Thanksgiving falls on November 24, just as early as it can come.

Christmas falls on Sunday and as the subsequent day is observed as a holiday, it gives another double holiday.

During the year there will be four eclipses. One of the sun April 8 will not be visible here and again on October 1 and 16, but neither will be visible here. On April 21 the moon will be in eclipse.

DEERFIELD NEWS ITEMS

Dr. J. P. O'Connell, dentist, has opened an office over Knaak's drug store. Office will be open on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 10 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. Telephone Deerfield 213 R.

The Deerfield Grammar school Parent and Teacher association held its January meeting in the Assembly Hall, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the president, Mrs. Oscar Beecham presiding. The pupils of Miss Schillstra's room gave the following program:

Song—"My Illinois"—Anna Yohanna
Recitation—"My Day"—Frank Bruggman
Recitation—"System"—Ann Warner
Song—"Oh Dear, What Can the Matter Be"—By the grades
Recitation—"Bed in Summer"—Arline McDerma

Following the program, the principal, Mr. Wayne Thomas, read a splendid paper on "How you can help your boy" written by the famous Judge Ben B. Lindsay, judge of the Juvenile Court of Colorado. In this article Judge Lindsay stated that the greatest evil of today is the hoarding of money and very often it is the son of the rich that goes astray because the father is too busy with his business to know what his son is doing. Fathers should make companions of their sons and not neglect them, for their business. The faithful industrials and honest and the ones who have the courage to do right are the boys who win. The gospel of work should be taught by all parents. Boys who are kept busy, keep out of mischief. A short article from the president of the council, Mrs. Laura P. Young on "Girls" was read by the secretary.

The association voted to pay the $65.00 for the fountain recently placed on the second floor of the school.

Miss Schillstra's room having the most number of parents present received the $2.50 prize. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. A. Reichelt, Jr., and Mrs. James Golding. In order that this will be a standard Parent Teacher Association there must be one evening meeting a year and that will be next month. That is the February meeting, will be held the second Friday in the evening instead of the afternoon.

Ralph Juhrend is seriously ill with meningitis.

Mrs. E. H. Willman was the guest of Mrs. Louisa Osterman of Chicago Monday.

The Young Matrons club was entertained by Mrs. William Kent on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Eugene Ender was hostess at a six o'clock dinner party at her home Saturday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Lou Mayor of Chicago. Covers were laid for ten.

Misses Elda Horenberger, Melita Unger, Martha and Jennie Karch attended a Bunco party given at the Edgewater Beach hotel Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Winkle were given a farewell party last Saturday evening by the Wilmot Progressive club. Mr. and Mrs. Winkle will move to the Reichelt farm in Northfield this spring.

Mrs. Carl Anderson spent Friday with Mrs. Emil Sawusch of Rondout.

About twenty-five students and parents from Deerfield attended the Edmund Russell lecture on "Our Soldier Poets" at the high school Friday evening.

The Chicago Boys club lead the services Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church.

A basket social and dance was given in the Ridge school Saturday evening.

Communion services were held in the United Evangelical church Sunday morning. Six new members joined the church, Mrs. H. Bubert and two daughters, Vicia and Gwenna, Mrs. Rebecca Merner and Miss Ethel Merner by letter and Owen Savage on confession of faith.

Mrs. John Huehl is treasurer of the Ladies Aid Society instead of Mrs. August Winters as was stated in the last week's edition of the paper.

Union prayer meeting will be held in the Community House Wednesday evening, with Rev. Oro Davis as leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yore announce the birth of a daughter.

Mrs. John Stryker entertained the January meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Evangelical church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Romayne Stryker has been spending several weeks in Evanston where her little son, Alvin has been ill in the hospital.

Mrs. Fred Labahn attended a Bunco party given at the home of Mrs. Nieber of Evanston Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Unger announce the engagement of their daughter Melita to Mr. Joseph Epstein of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coleman of Deerfield announce the marriage of their son, William Charles, to Miss Mary Hart, daughter of Edward Hart of Elgin, Illinois. The wedding will take place at the bride's home, Jan. 19, 1921. After a short honeymoon trip a quiet reception will be given them at the bridegroom's home, after which they will reside at their new bungalow which Mr. Coleman has recently built.

Reports will be given of all activities, besides a musical and dancing program.

Light refreshments will be served, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

An opportunity is given every Monday evening from seven to nine o'clock for manicuring or shampooing at the Y. W. C. A.

The Girl Reserves are busy making flowers and posters and planning for their carnival which will be held early next month.

The proceeds will be used to buy a new victrola which is greatly needed at the headquarters.

There will be no vespers next Sunday, but the following Sunday, Jan. 30, will be Recognition day and all senior members who have come into the association since last summer will be welcomed officially at that time. The candle-light ceremony will be used. Aside from this there will be a very interesting program.

Annual Meeting
The annual meeting will be held

Friday evening, Jan. 21, at the Community Center.

Services are held in this church every Sunday morning at 10:45. Sunday school meets immediately after the morning service, and is open to pupils up to the age of 20 years. The Wednesday evening meeting, which includes testimonies of Christian Science healing is at 8 o'clock. You are cordially invited to make use of the reading room at 387 Central Avenue, which is open every week day from nine o'clock in the morning until six o'clock in the evening and Sunday afternoons from two to six o'clock.
