Economy in Household Expenditures

A means that works strongly to such an end is available in the use of

Electrical Appliances

- ¶ The Washing Machine — Take it as an example. It requires on the one day weekly devoted to its use about 5 cents' worth of electricity.
- ¶ The wages of a laundress vary in different sections, but if you put the average at the lowest, the difference between her wages and the wages of the machine amounts in the course of a year to more than enough to pay for the machine.

NEWTON THEORY WAS BUNK, SAYS VOLIVA

"What Else Could the Apple Do, But Fall?" Asks Zion Overseer

Zion, Ill.—And now comes Voliva with a solar plexus blow for Sir Isaac Newton.
Two weeks ago Voliva offered $1000 to the person who could prove that the earth was a whirling globe, turning us all head over heels once every twenty-four hours, and rushing away through space faster than a flash of lightning, toward nobody knows where. Voliva says the earth is as flat as a pancake, and as still as a rock.

"Sir Isaac Newton with his law of gravitation," said Overseer Voliva in a tone of supreme contempt as he addressed three thousand persons at Shiloh tabernacle. "Sir Isaac Newton, sitting there under a tree and watching an apple fall. The fool! The apple fell — of course it did. It couldn't do anything else. It couldn't hang on the stalk any longer. That's all there is to it. The old fool! That's a wonderful discovery. That's where he got his law of gravitation."

"We read that they have sent an expedition to Asia hunting for the missing link. I could find one in Chicago before sundown. What infernal fools people are. I didn't come from a monkey and I don't look like one, either. A monkey's a monkey, and a man's a man. Anything but believe the Bible. I'm going to stick to that old book. You don't get any 'caperticusses,' or any other 'cusses' out of the book."

"Modern astronomy, higher criticism, New Thought — all of these things are from hell. They are inventions of the devil to lead men from the inspired word of God."

WOULD IMPROVE DIRT ROADS IN ILLINOIS

Bill Introduced in Legislature Provides for State Assistance in the Road Work

Those who are eager to have dirt roads in Lake county improved immediately without waiting for the slower process of paving, are interested in the latest plan suggested at Springfield as seen by the following dispatch:

Springfield, Ill. — Improvement of earth roads in the state could be done without advertising for bids or public letting if a bill introduced in the senate by Senator Epler C. Mills of Virginia is placed upon the statute book.

Such improvement of earth roads could only be done, however, without advertising for bids and public letting if it has been voted to improve or repair the roads by draining, grading, dragging or oiling.

The bill specifies that the county superintendent of highways may in his discretion direct the highway commissioner of any district or town to have the work done without first advertising the bids and awarding the work at public letting.

The bill further provides for the payment of construction or repair of any bridge, part of which is in two counties. Relative to such work, after making an effort to secure the co-operation of an adjoining county without success, the county building the bridge may force the other county to stand a proportionate share of the expenditure.

$9,888.74 IN FINES PAID TO THE COUNTY

When the convictions for violation of the prohibitory law and the assessment of fines began to pile up it was reported that a large percentage of the fines probably would never be collected, but doubt was dispelled Saturday when State's Attorney A. V. Smith turned over to County Treasurer Roy W. Bracher a check for $9,888.74 and received therefore a receipt for that amount, which includes fines and court costs.

The above named sum is slightly more than three-fourths of the amount of fines to date, the total fines assessed being approximately $12,000.

Of the fines not paid there are a number who have taken appeals and therefore the fines cannot be collected until the cases are disposed of, in event that the higher courts uphold the action of the local court. Among those who have appealed are Joseph and Marie Paule, whose fines total $1,150, Tiodorra and Tony Favelli, $600, John Madruh, $800 and John Niemi, $800. The total amount of the fines still in doubt is $3,350.

The fines collected go to defray the expenses of the state's attorney's office and the remainder goes into the school fund of the county.

Claimed that violators of the prohibition act are hiring dummies to go to jail for them. They should not take pay for the privilege of getting free board.

The number of government employees is wholly superfluous, but it takes half of them to see that the other half do not go to sleep.

The people have proved themselves able to stop the excess profits but have incidentally thrown themselves out of work in doing so.
