JURY DISAGREES IN CHARLES JOHNSON CASE

DEADLOCKED FOR 17 HOURS

Defendant Claims Mistaken Identity in Railway Robbery Affair West of Highland Park

Two members of the jury in the case of Charles Johnson, charged with having made an effort to steal two barrels of whisky from a freight train on the Chicago and North Western railway west of Highland Park last fall, held the jury all night long, last Thursday night, a total of seventeen hours. At 9:30 Friday morning the jury still was deadlocked. When Judge Edwards ascertained there was no possibility of an agreement being reached he dismissed the jury. It is reported that from the first the jury stood 11 to 1 for acquittal. The case went to the jury at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Toward morning another juror swung over to guilty and the two of them held until morning.

Railroad detectives, testifying for the state, told of having been hiding beside the tracks at Upton when they saw two men push two barrels of whisky out of the door of a freight car. The two men then jumped out, when the officers called to them the men are alleged to have started to shoot. The officers returned the fire, using shotguns charged with buckshot.

When the smoke cleared away the detective found Johnson lying wounded on the ground. He was taken to a hospital where 24 buckshot were removed from his side and leg. Johnson took the witness stand and asserted it was a case of mistaken identity. He said he was on his way to Milwaukee in search of employment and was stealing a ride on the railroad. He said he jumped off when he saw the brakeman coming. At that moment he said he saw two railroad detectives with guns aimed at him. He says that without a word they opened fire on him.

Evidently the jury was impressed with his story for the majority felt that he was not guilty.

Moir Returns
When William Moir, indicted jointly with Charles Johnson with having participated in a booze robbery from a Northwestern freight train at Upton last fall, did not appear in circuit court last Thursday when his case was called for trial Judge Edwards ordered that his bond be forfeited. At the time he was arrested Moir had put up a $1,000 cash bond but it is said he never had appeared to be arraigned after he was indicted.

Shortly after the case of Johnson had started Moir appeared in court unexpectedly and announced that he was there to give himself up. He said he had been in Missouri and did not know it was necessary for him to put up an additional bond. He said he came here as soon as he found the case was to be placed on trial. On the strength of his statement the court withdrew the order to forfeit the bond. Moir was released on a $2,000 bond.

A HIGH-LOW GAME
"Let me have sleeping accommodations on the train to Ottawa," I said to the man at the window, who didn't seem at all concerned whether I took the trip or stayed at home.

"For a single passenger?" he finally said.

"No," I replied, "I'm married but I'm not taking anybody with me. A single shelf will answer."

"Upper or lower?" he asked.

"What's the difference?" I inquired.

"A difference of 50 cents," came the answer. "Our prices to Ottawa are $1.50 and $2."

"You understand of course," explained the agent, "the lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower berth. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. It didn't used to be so, but we found everybody wanted the lower. In other words the higher the fewer."

"Why do they all prefer the lower?" I broke in.

"On account of its convenience," he replied. "Most persons didn't like the upper, although it is lower, on account of it being higher, and because when you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed, and then get down when you get up. I would advise you to take the lower, although it's higher than the upper, for reasons I have stated, that the upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. You can have the lower if you pay higher; but if you are willing to go higher it will be lower." — Toronto Set Square.

Shoe manufacturers have not so far manifested any opposition to short skirts.

Many men have business that keeps them away from home during the rug beating season.

It is denied that the people always vote for the smoothest talker, as frequently they decide to support the most energetic handshaker.

The most menacing sign of the prevailing unrest, is the impudic determination of our wives to upset everything by housecleaning.

Blonde women said to be too fickle for jury duty. Perhaps some of them will decide to be brunettes for a while.

The industry that will move into your town if you pay them handsomely for it, will sometimes move out when some other town pays them more.

However, it's perfectly amazing how much cash people will dig out of their old stockings, when a live merchant puts a good, reasonable sounding ad in the Highland Park Press.
