"AMERICA DAY" AT WAUKEGAN SUNDAY

HOLD PATRIOTIC MEETINGS

Aim to Check Propaganda of Reds, Bolshevists, and I. W. W.'s; Other Items of Lake County News

Waukegan will celebrate "America Day," Sunday, May 1, with the view to offsetting the propaganda of Reds, Communists, I. W. W.'s and Bolshevists, it was announced Monday by Mayor Bidinger, who is making arrangements for the observance of the day through the holding of patriotic meetings in various parts of the city. Ministers will devote part of their services to a plea for Americanism.

Charles E. Russell of Lake Forest was elected corresponding secretary of the Lake County Road Officials' association at its meeting last week in the county seat. Frank Dunn of Antioch was elected president, Fred Grim of Ela, vice president, Charles F. Richards of Antioch, secretary, and Emil Fick of Lake Zurich, treasurer.

Mrs. Thomas J. Renahan, mother of George Renahan, proprietor of a big summer resort at Round Lake, died last Thursday, at the age of 86. In 1848 she came from Ireland to America on a sailing vessel, the trip taking six weeks. She has lived in Lake County since 1856.

The Educational Extension service of Waukegan last week certified to the secretary of state at Springfield to dissolution of the corporation and surrendered its charter. The company was incorporated July 29, 1918, with $5,000 capital. Edward A. Ott was president. According to the plan of the company all teachers of the United States would be instructed along definite lines by experienced men and women who had their headquarters in Waukegan. This "mail order" system of education proved a failure.

According to a general order at Fort Sheridan all bathing beaches between Lake Forest and Highland Park will be patrolled by soldiers this summer.

Capt. Daniel Wurtzbaugh, commandant at the naval station, issued an order last Saturday to men and officers of Great Lakes that the ban on civilian clothes was off. All may wear civilian clothes when on liberty.

The case of the Anheuser-Busch brewing company against Andrew Pucin, a suit for $1256, was started Monday. Pucin was charged with failing to return a quantity of empty bottles.

Tuesday night there was a mass meeting of Waukegan citizens at the Armory to discuss reasons why the commission form of government should be retained by the city.

Four "blind piggers" were fined $300 each in county court Monday morning. All of them pleaded guilty. Those fined were Phil and Nick Lewandowski, North Chicago, John Goodall, Area, and Matt Rough, Waukegan. There are other liquor cases to come up at this term of court.

GOOD TOMATOES IN HOME GARDEN

There is perhaps no product of the garden that is so refreshing or palatable as well-ripened, fresh tomatoes and they can be used in such a variety of ways. While fresh tomatoes are preferable to canned ones they lose very little flavor or quality in the canning and good canned tomatoes add very materially to the food supply of the winter months.

Early ripening adds greatly to the value of the tomato crop and early tomatoes can be secured in most sections only by starting the plants indoors. Garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say it is easy to grow plants indoors by sowing a small packet of tomato seed in a cigar box filled with mellow soil about six or eight weeks before the usual time of the last killing frost in spring. The seeds should be covered about ¼ inch and the soil kept moderately watered and the plants will generally come up in less than a week after planting the seeds. Keep the box near a window where it will get plenty of sunlight, and turn it around each day to make the plants grow straight.

When the plants begin to crowd each other, which will be in about 15 days after they come up, secure a large, flat box, say 3 inches deep and just long enough to fit into the window, fill it with rich, sifted soil and transplant, giving each plant about 2 inches of space. With proper care to turn the box from time to time and also to keep the soil moderately watered the plants will be about 4 inches high, strong and stocky when the weather has warmed enough to make it safe to set them in the garden.

Tomatoes usually grow in a warm climate and require plenty of warmth from the start. The plants should be set in the garden a few days before they are to be set in the garden; then they should be gradually exposed to outdoor conditions to harden them. After they are set in the garden it may be necessary to cover them for a few nights with several thicknesses of newspaper to protect them from the cold.

Tomatoes require a moderately rich soil, not too rich, but just such soil as will grow a good crop of corn or potatoes. A little well-rotted manure can be worked into the spot where each plant is to be set and a tablespoonful of high-grade fertilizer sprinkled over a space about a foot in diameter and mixed with the soil will aid in giving the plant a good start. Planting distances will depend upon whether the plants are to be pruned to a single stem and trained to stakes or are allowed to grow according to their natural habit of spreading over the ground. If the plants are to be trained they may be set in rows as close as 3 feet, and spaced 18 inches in the row. If they are not to be trained the plants should be set 3 to 4 feet apart in each direction.
