ELM PLACE SCHOOL

Editor-in-chief, Arthur Christman.

Assistant editor, Sammy Smith. The kindergarten is making a Maypole. We hope the children will give the Maypole dance when we all can see it.

The 1B's have gone on excursions, looking for birds' nests. They are busy refurnishing their doll house.

The 2A's are studying about the Japanese. They have made a Japanese village on a tray and they are getting ready to make a Japanese poster.

They have planted corn and beans in sawdust for germination. They have planted sweet peas on their sandtable.

The 5B class has a new pupil, Thomas Lester.

The 4B's are taking trips into the ravines to study Geography.

The 4A's took a trip to the lake to study trees.

The 8B's debated among themselves the question, Resolved, That Negroes Should be Discriminated Against. The affirmatives won.

The 7B's and the 8A's debated the same question. The negatives, the 8B's, won.

The 7A's and the 8A's also debated it. The affirmatives, the 8A's, won.

Mr. Smith suggested last week that we keep records of birds' nests. Any boy or girl knowing of a bird's nest, may put it down on his list, after having some teacher's approval.

The school has two new pupils. Two crows, a male and a female, have been added to our menagerie.

Last Thursday the Elm Place baseball team went to Glencoe to play the first game of the series. John Gerken of Elm Place pitched a fine game until the fifth inning when seven men scored on him. He got back into his pitching form in the sixth and seventh innings, striking out three men in succession.

In the seventh the score was a tie. John Gerken walked and a triple by Amadio Carani scored the winning run. The final score was 10 to 7 in favor of Elm Place.

The batteries for Elm Place were John Gerken and Joe Boylan. Amadio Carani, 7A.

A week ago yesterday the majority of the 8A class went down to the Art Institute. As soon as we neared the building we saw the two large lions in the front. On the south side we saw the five figures representing the Great Lakes. After we had seen the outside we loitered around the inside.

The things which interested us most were the statues and the beautiful pictures. It was interesting to see the difference between the lifelike, passive, Egyptian statue and the well-moulded beautiful Greek statues which represented a few well-known ancient pictures. I think we appreciated the lovely inner pictures most.

Altogether we had a very good time. The first thing that impressed me when I entered the Art Institute was the statue of our Pilgrim Fathers. I liked this piece of statuary very much because it showed the sternness and courage of the people who had the faith in themselves to enter this wilderness and plant a new country.

The first picture to catch my eye was, "The Song of the Lark."

I liked the Inness room very much because it was very beautiful. The pictures seemed to be placed in the order of their rank.

The Art Institute is one of the most interesting buildings in Chicago. Delever Dever-8A2

Meadow Lark's Nest

One bright Saturday morning as I was caddying on the Bob O'Link golf grounds I noticed a large tuft of grass which I thought might be a bird's nest. As I drew near I saw four eggs. I took one more good look and found another egg in the grass. There were five eggs of the same kind but four in the nest and one out of it.

The following Saturday I went to the nest again. There had been no change except the grass had grown taller and it was harder to see.

The third Saturday I went to visit it again. The grass was cut. The egg that was on the outside of the nest was gone. The little nest had its four eggs. It was covered with dry grass. I did not see the meadow lark who owned the eggs but I hope to see her sitting on them next Saturday. John Gerkin, 8A.

TRINITY CHURCH

Next Sunday, May 22, is Trinity Sunday, the dedication festival of our church, which was so named because in March 1874 its organization was effected under the oversight of the Rev. Henry Edward Sullivan, D. D., rector of Trinity church, Chicago, afterward Bishop of Algoma, Canada, who conducted the first service of the new parish in the Baptist church building on March 15, 1874.

The services next Sunday will be the Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m., the church school at 9:30, confirmation class at 10 o'clock and morning prayer and sermon at 11.

On the following Sunday, May 29, Bishop Anderson will visit the parish and will ordain the son of the rector at eleven o'clock and will confirm and preach at four in the afternoon.

Some of the people who make a fuss about giving out an item of news to a reporter, will complain that his paper does not cover the news of the town. Many fellows are preparing for "social efficiency," by keeping up a calling list of eight or ten girls.

The world seems to have buried the hatchet, chiefly because it is no longer an up to date weapon. It is denied that the young women are not ambitious now, as they are all trying to look like the girls on the magazine covers.
