TRINITY CHURCH

The program announced for last Sunday was most impressively carried out. The ordination service in the morning was one of great interest and dignity, every detail was carefully arranged and executed in a dignified manner in the presence of a large congregation. In the afternoon a class of twenty-one was confirmed by Bishop Anderson who also addressed the class in his usual forceful manner. Altogether the day was a red letter one for Trinity church.

On next Sunday, June 5, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m. at which the newly confirmed will communicate. At eleven o'clock there will be a second eucharist. At both of these services the newly ordained deacon will assist.

Mr. Lyons, who has had charge of the church school since last September, has gone to Kansas where he has work for the summer. The Rev. Walter C. Bibler is to return to us from New York about June 12 and will take up his work as the rector's assistant.

TAKING SCHOOL TESTS

As the school year draws to its close, many young people are up against the examinations for admission to higher institutions or promotions to advanced classes. Some who have slipped along so far by their winning ways and bluffs at study, are worrying about what they will do with a set of searching questions.

The examinations for college entrance have been sometimes criticized, for asking more than you can expect of average young people. But young folks who hope to win the prestige that goes with a college degree, must expect to exhibit more than average attainments.

On the whole the examination system works well, and hands out deserved retribution to multitudes of young folks who have loafed while their comrades worked. Some examinations place too much weight on memory, and not enough on ability to think. When a history test, for instance, attaches more importance to the exact date of the battle of Bunker Hill than to a pupils' ability to give an intelligent account of the causes of the American revolution, it is time to have a change in the examinations.

The superfluous office holders can't prove that the country needs their services, but they expect to be able to demonstrate convincingly that they need their jobs.

Although most people in Highland Park have to work some to coax the grass to grow on their front lawns, it flourishes in the garden without the slightest encouragement.

The people who want this country to blow in all its money on $40,000,000 battle ships, may be descended from those who invested all their funds in stage coach stock just before railroads came in.

The debtors who promise payment most profusely, are sometimes the slowest to name the date when the same shall take place.

It is not fair to say that the world has done no work since the war stopped, as they have worked their jaws with unprecedented activity.

Most of the politicians believe in government economy, to the extent that they would consent to serve on a well paid commission to investigate the subject.

A good many people try to win friends for their cause by doing their best to ruin the country.
