Mother says—
"I have never seen her play so happily"

"She always used to complain after a little while. But since she has been wearing those Hood sandals, she romps and plays from morning till night, and never seems to tire. I can hardly get her to wear anything else."

Rest the growing young feet from their confinement in stiff containers. Buy Hood Cross-Strap Sandals. Brown duck uppers, with white binding and white lining. Dainty, attractive little shoes that wear quite as well as they look. The extra wear comes from the patented Hood Process.

Here is a smart summer shoe, light and graceful as a canvas shoe can be. A trim, well-fitting shoe that holds its shape, easy to clean, wears well and is unusually comfortable. For afternoon or evening wear. Saves the more expensive leather shoes, too.

Here is a stylish, comfortable and durable shoe designed especially for the informal afternoon call, for shopping or for the "Movies" in the evening. Will retain their smart lines and are quickly cleaned. Hood Canvas Shoes are useful, useful, attractive, and economical.

NEW LAW WILL SAVE MONEY FOR ILLINOIS

POWER FOR SECRETARY

Co-Operation With Local Authorities Responsible for Increased Revenue from License Fees

Springfield, Ill.—The new law giving Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson power to appoint investigators to co-operate with local authorities in enforcing automobile and road laws will save the State at least $250,000 a year, the automobile department of the Secretaries office estimates. This amount has been escaping annually because there has not been adequate law-enforcement machinery.

The increase of more than 500 per cent in the amount of money collected in automobile license fees under Secretary Emmerson, it is pointed out, has been partly due to the co-operation he has secured from local authorities. With this new agency under his direction, he expects observance of the law to approach 100 per cent. "While only a few investigators will be employed," Secretary Emmerson said today, "by sending them to communities where the law has been loosely enforced, and by establishing complete co-operation between the investigators and the local authorities throughout the State, much can be accomplished. The investigators will have the powers of constables and can make arrests in any county."

"Local officials, generally speaking, have shown commendable interest in arresting violators of the law requiring automobile licenses, but the need of some agency with state-wide powers to assist in the detection of less obvious violations and to act in communities where local authorities are negligent, has long been recognized. As all of the money collected in automobile license fees goes into the fund for the construction of hard roads, every citizen is directly interested in strict compliance with the law."

"The investigators will assist local authorities in discovering and punishing those who own two cars and but one set of license plates; automobile dealers who buy but one set of plates and use card board figures for several other cars; owners of trucks who operate them under a passenger car license and the hundreds of drivers of delivery trucks and many private chauffeurs who neglect to secure chauffeurs licenses."

If the estimate of the automobile department is correct, the investigators will force the collection of more than five times the amount of the appropriation for their salaries and expenses. In addition, Secretary Emmerson explains, they will assist in eliminating speeding and other violations of the laws of the road which now make traveling dangerous.

In providing for these investigators, the legislature repealed the provision for volunteer investigators, who served without pay. It was found that while these did some good, they lacked the authority necessary to make them effective.

HOW DID YOU DIE?

By EDMUND VANCE COOKE

Did you tackle that trouble that came your way,
With a resolute heart and cheerful
Or did you hide your face from the light of day
With a craven soul and fearful?

O, a trouble's a ton or a trouble's an ounce;
A trouble is what you make it.
It isn't the fact that you're hurt
that counts,
But only, how did you take it?

You are beaten to earth? Well, well!
what's that?
Come up with a smiling face.
It is nothing against you to fall down
flat,
But to lie there, that's disgrace.

The harder you fall, the higher you bounce.
Be proud of your blackened eye!
It isn't the fact that you're licked that
counts,
But how did you fight, and why?

And tho' you be done to death—what then?
If you battled the best you could—
If you played your part in the world
of men,
The Critic will call it good.

Death comes with a crawl, or he comes with a pounce,
But, whether he's slow or spry,
It isn't the fact that you're dead that
counts,
But only, how did you die?

If Fortune is not smiling, dig in and make her chuckle.
