WILL SING "FEDORA" SATURDAY EVENING

NEW OPERA AT RAVINIA

Fourteen Stars are Included in Cast of Characters; Program for the Week Given Below

Ravinia already has a repertoire of notable dimensions, but not large enough to satisfy its ambitions. Another item will be added next Saturday night, to wit: Umberto Giordano's "Fedora."

This work is not only new to Ravinia, but little heard anywhere else in this country. It introduced Edward Johnson to the American public two seasons ago at the Auditorium, and London Muratore was heard in it on the same stage a few years before that.

"Fedora" is really a star opera for the woman in the name part. It was that when it was a play, long before it became an opera. It is full of emotional scenes. In spite of its age, "Fedora" is a pretty well constructed melodrama. It dates back to the time when a Russian princess was supposed to be all that could be in the way of charms, magnetism, and complete moonbeam to the means by which she had her own way.

The opera calls for a long cast, one of the longest that the Ravinia company has been called upon to provide. Fourteen names appear in the list, among them Alice Gentle, Margery Maxwell, Morgan Kingston, and Riccardo Stracciari. The announcement from the company says that Leon Rothier is singing the role of Cirillo by special courtesy.

The program for the week at Ravinia park, beginning today, is as follows:

Thursday, Aug. 11, afternoon, children's program, evening, "Cavallaria Rusticana" and "La Navarraise;" Friday, Aug. 12, "La Boheme;" Saturday, Aug. 13, afternoon, concert by orchestra, Carl Brueckner, soloist, evening, "Fedora;" Sunday, Aug. 14, afternoon, concert by orchestra, Enrico Tramonti, soloist, evening, "Madame Butterfly;" Monday, Aug. 15, motion picture, "Trust Your Wife" and "The Man Who Always Sat Down;" Tuesday evening, "Secret of Suzanne" and "Faust;" Wednesday, "Martha;" Thursday afternoon, Children's program, "Stories of Hansel and Gretel," by George Faulkner; evening, "Tosca;" Friday evening, "Don Pasquale;" Saturday afternoon, concert by orchestra, evening, "Fedora."

Y. M. C. LOSE TO EVANSTON BOOSTERS

Score 8 to 4 in Game Sunday. To Play Waukegan Next Sunday

The Young Men's Club dropped an exhibition game with the colored Evanston Boosters last Sunday at the West Park grounds. This game was booked late in the week to fill in the idle Sunday, and in spite of the lack of proper advertising attracted a fair crowd. The colored lads displayed a world of "pep," some daring base running, and uncanny ability with the willow. Aside from the fourth inning when the dusky lads from Evanston ran wild and pushed seven tallies over the pan, the game was on even terms.

The Young Men's Club are now only a half game behind the first-place Highwoods, and have played one less game. Should the locals win the remaining three games on their schedule they would go into a tie with our neighbors to the north and this tie would have to be played off to determine the winner of the Wilson trophy and purse. Next Sunday the Young Men's Club journey to Waukegan and a goodly crowd of local fans will accompany the team.

The score by innings of last Sunday's game follows:

FIRST — Spies singled through first — he was trapped between first and second, but was safe on G. Glader's overthrow and kept right on to third. Dickson out at first. Reese singled out to Therrien. Dourty out Martin to G. Glader.

SECOND — Therrien led off with a wallop to center. Therrien was out on his fly bunt and Glader was doubled at first. F. Glader hit to right. Duffy drew a pass. Sheehen hit a smashing double to center, scoring F. Glader. Duffy reached on third. Landis singled to center, scoring Duffy and Sheehen. Martin out to Kennett. To Glader.

THIRD — White singled out to Duffy. Ritchie bounced. Gayles hit to right; he stole second. Macklin lifted to second. G. Glader was his second single. Therrien whiffed.

FOURTH — Kennett struck out. Spies followed. Dixon out. Therrien to G. Glader. F. Glader fanned. Duffy grounded out and Sheehen fanned.

FIFTH — It was all off in this inning. Sheehen worked the count to three and two, and walked. Dourty tripled over Duffy's head, scoring Reese. Dourty counted on White's bunt. White was safe and stole second, then came home on Ritchie's screaming double. Gayles doubled, scoring Ritchie. Macklin singled, scoring Gayles. Kennett singled to left. Spies was out on a long fly to Landis. Macklin scored on the play. Dixon out. Therrien to G. Glader. Kennett scoring. Reese out to G. Glader. Martin fanned. Crickie tripled to deep center. Ruddy hit a long one to

WOODSTOCK DEFEATS H. PARK ELKS 4-3

Played Twilight Game With Evanston's K. C.'s Last Night. Chicago Sun.

Highland Park Elks played the Woodstock city team on Sunday and were defeated by a score of 4 to 3. Penn pitched for Woodstock and Hepler for Highland Park. The local Elks out hit Woodstock by two hits, but they made five errors to Woodstock's three. The score by innings is as follows:

H. P.	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	—3	11	5
Wood.	0	0	2	0	2	0	0	0	—4	9	3

Struck out by Penn, 6; by Hepler 3. Bases on balls, Penn, 0; Hepler 3. Woodstock is one of the strongest teams in the northern part of Illinois and this was one of the best games that have been played this year.

Next Sunday the Highland Park Elks will meet the Chicago Elks in a game at Central park at 3 o'clock. Trinkhaus, formerly of the Gunthers, will pitch for the Chicago team.

A twilight game was played last evening between the Evanston K. C.'s and the local Elks, but owing to darkness the game was called off at the end of the 5th inning. The score was 3-3.

ASSOCIATE MATRON OF EASTERN STAR DIES

Mrs. Wienecke, of Glencoe, an Officer of Campbell Chapter Passed Away Sunday

Mrs. Mae L. Wienecke, wife of Henry Wienecke of Glencoe, and associate matron of Campbell chapter, O. E. S., passed away suddenly Sunday afternoon at the Highland Park hospital where she had been for about two weeks suffering from a complete breakdown.

About a month ago she had gone to visit her father in Michigan, but was only there a week when she was taken ill and returned home. She was later removed to the hospital where it was thought she was recovering, but a turn for the worse Sunday resulted in her death.

To the many friends of Mrs. Wienecke in this community, the news of her death was a great shock, and the members of Campbell chapter are greatly grieved over the passing away of their officer.

Funeral services were held yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon at the family residence in Glencoe, with interment in Palatine cemetery.

Mrs. Wienecke leaves to survive her husband and three children.

The Marmon struck the front of Erickson's car throwing both he and his wife out of the car. Mrs. Erickson was bruised and shaken up but he escaped injury.

Their actions attracted the attention of Assistant Chief of Police Sheehen and Officer Rafferty, who went over to the young men and tried to quiet them, but one of the young men became most abusive and struck the officers. Both were arrested and the case was tried before Justice Smith yesterday morning.

One was fined $15 and costs and allowed a week to pay it, while the other was fined $50 and costs, or given a prison term for assault and disorderly conduct.

12,000 PAY TRIBUTE TO ENRICO CARUSO

AT MEMORIAL SERVICE

Ravinia Park Opened to Public Sunday. An Unusually Interesting Program is Rendered

Last Sunday while the north shore was peacefully enjoying its Sunday dinner the world came to Ravinia park. They came from the north shore, from Chicago, and even from distant states to show a fitting tribute to Caruso, probably the greatest tenor of all time. Early in the morning Italian mothers and fathers, often with little children, came in steady streams from the city bringing their lunch kits and prepared to spend the day.

The memorial service was booked to begin at 3:15, but many who arrived at one o'clock report their inability to obtain a seat in the pavilion. For a crowd that numbered, by actual count, 12,000 people, it was a remarkably orderly assemblage. With every seat taken and a solid phalanx around the pavilion at one thirty, the department of this vast throng is a thing which does credit to the American nation, and goes far to substantiate the recognized claims of the Anglo-Saxon people for their good conduct in crowds.

For two hours this great throng waited quietly in the pavilion or moved from place to place on the outside in search of a better vantage point. At 3:15 the curtains were opened, revealing the Chicago Symphony orchestra with all the stars of the Ravinia company, and the chorus grouped on the stage. In one group were the tenors: Hackett, Kingston, Chamlee, and in another, the baritones, Picco, Stracciari, and D'Angelo, with the prima donnas, dressed either in black or white in another, the whole gallant assemblage of talent making a picture not soon to be forgotten. In the center of the stage at the back was a large gold cross with tall lighted candles flanking the stage on either side at the front. On the valance of the curtain in the very center, hung a large medallion picture of Caruso, the long green palms of victory crossed underneath.

Deep silence reigned after the drawing of the curtains. A man stepped from the wings and announced: "Because of the serious nature of this occasion, the management requests that here be no applause," repeating the request in Italian. The silence was broken by the strains of the funeral march from the great Eroica Symphony, composed on the death of a French hero by a German musician, and conducted by an Italian, Giacomo Spadoni.

Marlo Chamlee sang the Ingemmisco from Verdi's Requiem Mass as if inspired, Gonnaro Papi taking the baton. Marie Sundelius, singing the Ave Maria, with all the stars of the Opera company forming the chorus, is a thing not soon to be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to be there. Louis Hasselmanns conducted this number, the three conductors, Spadoni, Papi and Hasselmanns, having been conductors for Caruso at the Metropolitan at various times (Continued on Page 7)

PICKPOCKETS AT WORK IN CROWD SUNDAY

Returning from Park E. Moldaner Has Pocket Book Taken Containing $40

When returning from Ravinia Sunday afternoon Mr. E. Moldaner had his pocket book containing between thirty and forty dollars, and several entrance tickets to the park removed from his hip pocket.

As Mr. Moldaner left Ravinia he purchased some candy for his little girl, and at that time he was in possession of his pocketbook. After the crowd had boarded the car, he got onto the car. Three men standing behind him, started to push and jostle him around. He thought nothing of it until he reached for his car fare and noticed that his purse was missing. Another passenger on the car also had his pocket picked of thirty dollars. No trace of the thieves was found.

WRECK COL. SMITH'S HOME IN WAUKEGAN

SUSPECT BOOTLEGGERS

Explosion Occurred at 12:30 This Morning. State's Attorney Had Received No Threats

An explosion of dynamite at 12:30 this morning wrecked the residence of State's Attorney Ashbel V. Smith, former lieutenant colonel of "Reilly's Bucks," in Waukegan.

It is charged that the bomb throwing is the climax of a relentless warfare which has been waged by Smith against illicit liquor sellers chiefly in the Fox Lake region. The state's attorney and his family were asleep when the blast took place. They were thrown from their beds. They quickly rushed from the house in their night clothes. The front porch of the house was ripped from the main structure and demolished, glass in the front of the dwelling was broken and a large hole was torn in the wall. None was injured.

Bootleggers are Suspected "I do not doubt that it was a reprisal by the bootleggers and the blind pigger, probably those in the Fox Lake district," State's Attorney Smith said. "While I have received no threatening letters or other warnings, they have been endeavoring to induce me to drop the cases against them for more than two months."

Ever since his election to office more than a year ago Mr. Smith has raided, arrested and prosecuted violators for this line of action.

His latest liquor case is that of August Froeliche of Fox Lake, whose trial is in progress before Judge Perry I. Persons of the county court in Waukegan. The hearing of this case started yesterday. The day before Frank Newton of the Fox Lake district, also held on a liquor charge, was found not guilty by a jury before Judge Persons. Like cases have been tried for several weeks following a series of raids.

Report Bribe Offer While State's Attorney Smith denied having received any threats, it is gossiped about Waukegan that he recently was offered a huge bribe by illicit dealers in liquor and that following his refusal to accept it, they swore revenge. Various sums are mentioned in connection with the bribe offer, one story setting it as high as $20,000. Mr. Smith would not comment on these stories.

In addition to the Fox Lake district the state's attorney has made numerous arrests in and about Waukegan and along the north shore. Earlier in his career, before he became State's attorney, he was noted for his victories in recovering damages from saloonkeepers on behalf of persons made dependents in various ways—accident, death, etc.—through saloons. Lieut. Col. Smith is married. He is the son of W. B. Smith, a Waukegan investment broker.
