TOO MANY STOMACHS ONE WAS REMOVED

Two heads may be better than one, but two stomachs are one too many. Dorothea, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Nelson, of Bristol, Wis., complained for a year of tummy aches and Dr. W. W. Farriner of Antioch discovered the child had two stomachs. He removed one. Dorothea is getting along nicely.

If some of these places that are tarring and feathering people don't look out, they won't have enough material left for concrete walks or sofa pillows.

Struggle on! Life was not intended to be a perpetual holiday.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT WAS GREAT TRAVELER

KNOWN BY THOUSANDS

Began His Career as Globe Trotter in 1900 With Trip to the Philippines

Washington, D. C. — When President Harding nominated William Howard Taft to the Supreme Bench and his nomination was confirmed by the Senate, the railroad and steamship lines lost one of their best patrons and the world one of its most distinguished travelers.

Probably no man in public life in any nation was a greater traveler than Chief Justice Taft. While he was yet a young man, before he had "settled down" in the practice of law, Chief Justice Taft made three tours of Europe. In his capacity as Judge of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals his jurisdiction covered the four states of Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee and, during his eight years' incumbency in that position he traveled extensively over his territory.

A Regular Globe Trotter
 With his appointment by President McKinley as chairman of the Philippine commission his career as a globe trotter began. That was in 1900. Since that time Chief Justice Taft has twice been completely around the world; two times to the Philippines; seven times to the Panama Canal zone; several times to Cuba during the time he was provisional governor of that Island; to every U. S. army post during his incumbency as Secretary of War under Roosevelt; a tour of the United States during each of his two campaigns for President; two tours across the continent during the time he was President; has crossed, re-crossed and crisscrossed the United States in lecture tours since he left the presidency, speaking in every state with the exception of Florida, and in many of the states many times; during the World War he addressed the enlisted men in every arm cantonment in the United States with the exception of two; during the last year he has, in his capacity as member of the Canadian commission, traveled the length and breadth of Canada.

Many Thousands of Friends
 In commenting upon the appointment of Ex-President Taft as Chief Justice, Attorney General Daugherty says, "Probably no appointment ever made by the President has received the universal commendation that the appointment of former President Taft has received." Chief Justice Taft's popularity is due, in no small measure, to the fact that in his travels and lectures in the United States he personally met thousands of people, — just the average American citizens in the small town, the university, the teachers' institute, the literary club, — and by his hearty and friendly characteristics immediately attached them to his circle of admirers and well wishers. At the same time, this kept him in intimate touch with the mass of people and their viewpoints and consequently he takes to the Bench not only the high personal regard which the American people hold for him but he thereby confers upon the Supreme Bench a very valuable asset, the asset of popular esteem and confidence which probably no other appointment ever brought to the Bench and which could not even be brought to it by any jurist however eminent who had lived a cloistered life.
