BASKETBALL SCHEDULE AT N. U. IS ANNOUNCED

Yale to Play at Evanston December 31, Coach Has Good Material

Dana M. Evans, athletic director at Northwestern University, has just announced a tentative basketball schedule for 1921-22 and while a few dates are still to be made, the schedule is considered unusually attractive. It follows: December 17, Notre Dame, at Evanston; December 31, Yale at Evanston; January 3, U. S. Infantry Officers' Training School team, Camp Benning, Ga.; January 7, Minnesota, at Minneapolis; January 9, Wisconsin, at Evanston; January 14, Indiana at Bloomington; January 16, Purdue at Lafayette; January 20, Chicago at Chicago; January 23, Purdue at Evanston; February 6, Wisconsin at Madison; February 11, Notre Dame at South Bend; February 18, Indiana at Evanston; February 20, Minnesota at Evanston; February 25, Ohio at Evanston; March 4, Ohio at Columbus, and March 6, Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Director Evans has some fairly good new material in Sherer, Stoker, Burch, Smith and Persinger, who will be trying for one of the forward positions; in Houghton, a promising center and in Johnson and Calhoun, prospective guards. Among the old men who soon will be trying to make the varsity are McKenzie and Peterson, guards; Holmes, center, and Franzen and Palmer, forwards.

The new board floor which was built and placed last winter is now laid once more in Patten gymnasium and regular practice is the thing. Director Evans, who is personally coaching basketball this year, during the last week had a picked team scrimmage the freshmen and these scrimmages he says, will be on the regular practice program henceforth.

$200,000 FOR SMALL TRIAL IS ESTIMATE

Sangamon County Will Have to Pay Most of the State's Share

Gov. Small's trial on the indictment charging him with conspiracy to defraud the state out of $2,000,000 will cost, in the opinion of disinterested lawyers, $200,000, the amount being divided about equally between state and defense. Total attorney fees alone will run $75,000, it is agreed by those willing to make an estimate of the trial's cost.

Gov. Small and Vernon Curtis, in whose bank the alleged illegal transactions were carried on, will be tried together.

Most of the cost of the trial on the state's side will have to be paid by Sangamon county. Neither State's Attorney Mortimer of Sangamon nor State's Attorney Smith of Lake county will receive extra compensation, but they naturally will have legitimate expenses. Nor will the sheriff or his aids receive extra compensation.

There will, however, be special counsel for the state to assist in the battle against the defense's able legal talent, and it is believed that these lawyers will receive not less than $50,000.

Reports that Gov. Small's representative in Waukegan had closed the deal for the lease of a private residence in that city to be occupied by the governor during the trial are without foundation, according to persons interested in the matter and who are in a position to know. They declare that as a matter of fact there are five or six residences to be had, but that none have been decided upon. It was even stated that the governor may not reside in Waukegan, but may stay in Chicago and commute.

Make yourself an honest man, and then you may be sure that there is one less rascal in the world.—Thomas Carlyle.

It is not true that all the men are out driving automobiles at church time Sunday morning, because a lot of them are in the kitchen home brewing.
