A WORTHY CAUSE

The present movement to make Community Service a clearing house for the various civic welfare activities meets with the hearty approval of this newspaper. The clearing of the work of the Employment Bureau, the Highland Park Relief and Aid society, and other civic organizations through Community Service is a step in the right direction. It means less lost motion and duplication of effort, and will centralize the forces and resources of this community.

We believe that our city has equal facilities, either developed, or which can be developed, and citizens as loyal and interested in the city's welfare as any other city in the United States.

We believe that when and where possible, opportunity should be provided for our children, youth, and adults to participate in leisure time activities.

We believe that our city should take its position in the ranks of those cities who have already profited by putting on a complete-leisure time program.

Believing that the results will be measured in terms of happy, healthy children, finer morale, the development of neighborly feeling, a community spirit, a city beautiful and a better citizenship, we call on Highland Park to rally to the support of Community Service by contributing liberally to the 1922 budget to be raised during the week of Nov. 14-19.

VALUE OF HARD WORK

Perhaps the chief lesson to be learned from a study of economic conditions in Europe today is that the principal safeguard of national stability, progress, and happiness is hard work.

What all humanity needs is the spirit of willing work. This may seem a somewhat anomalous statement when we think of the hundreds of thousands of workers who are idle in this country today, but American unemployment is only a passing phase of the economic situation. The fact still remains that progress is based very largely on mankind's willingness to work.

These observations are made by an American economist, after a period of seven weeks spent in a study of European conditions, where the root of disorder undoubtedly consists of a somewhat widespread unwillingness to get down to the brass tacks of hard work. One sees in Europe too much of a tendency to spin out jobs so that four or five men are paid for what one man really should earn; too much dependence on the government to provide the necessities of life, without corresponding willingness to work for them; and too great a tendency to haggle over conditions and demanding the final farthing.

This does not mean that all the workmen who are idle abroad are in that condition from choice. The voluntary idleness of one group of men often causes the involuntary idleness of many others, and work for one section of labor often means work for many more. There are said to be 2,000,000 men idle in the building trades of the United States today, and it is safe to assert that if all these men could secure employment it would not be many days until every American workingman who desired a job could get it.

Idleness also has a deteriorating effect on morale. The happiest people are those who work; the unhappiest are those who are idle, whether it is voluntary or enforced. Of the sum total of unemployment in Europe, some of it is necessary and is the direct result of government coddling. The spirit of hard work is necessary to human happiness and social progress; and any nation that attempts to solve its economic problems by any other means is temporizing. No nation of hard workers ever failed.

NEW SKOKIE COURSE READY NEXT SUMMER

Glencoe Village Board and Forest Preserve Officials Come to Aid of Golfers

The village trustees of Glencoe, cooperating with the forest preserve commissioners, have gladdened the hearts of thousands of Cook county men and women players by announcing that a new eighteen-hole public course in the Skokie valley will be ready to play on next summer.

The course will occupy thirty acres of land owned by the Glencoe Municipal Playground association and 100 acres "loaned" by the forest preserve in the valley just west of Glencoe. George O'Neill, the Lake Shore professional, has already laid out nine holes before he leaves for California to spend part of the winter.

With the permission of the forest preserve board a nominal fee will be charged to defray the cost of laying out the course until the Municipal Playground association, which will bear the expense, has been reimbursed. The course will be open to all residents of Cook county, and that it will be patronized to capacity is a foregone conclusion.

The soviet scheme is a grand idea, but it overlooks one trifling fact, that people have to eat in order to live.

All Chicago and its neighboring communities are smiling—for $25,000 in gold. Smile and be happy! Smile and receive a small fortune, just for smiling! Hundreds of thousands of men, women and children, not only in Chicago, but in this town also, are smiling daily to share in the great award of $25,000. There is no contest or work attached to the award. There's no red tape. The Herald and Examiner, beginning Sunday, will print complete details of how you may share in this great Christmas award free. With this edition there will be given away free an eight-page book of magic pictures, drawings and paintings, printed in black and white, but which, when a touch of water is applied to them, spring with lifelike reality into wonderful paintings of all colors. And then there will be full details on how the boys and girls can obtain absolutely free the wonderful Alfred Johnson ice skates and shoes—racing or hockey—for gathering a few subscriptions to The Herald and Examiner.—Adv.

Paula Christopher had her tonsils and adenoids removed last Thursday at the Fort Sheridan hospital and is getting along nicely.

LINCOLN P. T. A.

The Lincoln school P. T. A., under the leadership of Miss Ruth Ewing, held its November meeting Wednesday, the ninth, at the Lincoln school. A goodly number of members were present to hear a program of exceptional interest made up of "teacher-talks" on the special subjects of music, art, manual training and physical training, given by Mrs. Chapp, Miss Alexander, Mr. Borg and Miss Goddard. A social half-hour followed the program in the nature of an informal reception during which home-made refreshments played a refreshing part.

This association is managing a number of projects for the benefit of the Lincoln school, and is taking a vital interest in the movement for a new building. An announcement of note was made to the effect that the association would conduct a Christmas sale of Schumacher's delicious candy, for which orders will be filled and delivered, the profits to accrue to the Lincoln school benefit fund. Definite information as to how and where to order, a list of candies and prices for same will soon be made public. In the meantime it is hoped the townspeople will make mental reservations to patronize this combination of local interests and give the school the benefit of their holiday candy purchases.
