SOCIAL ACTIVITY

The marriage of Miss Katherine Winters, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leander LeRoy Winters, to Mr. F. Flavel Robertson of Kansas City, Mo., was solemnized Friday evening, November eleventh at half after eight o'clock at Trinity Episcopal church, the Rev. Walter Bihler officiating. The bride wore white crepe satin, embroidered in pearl and crystal beads, with sleeves of Duchesse point lace. Her train was of tulle and satin, and she wore a veil of tulle, with a coronet of Duchesse lace. She carried a shower bouquet of Aaron Ward roses, bouvardia, and lilies of the valley. Her attendant was Miss Elizabeth Louderback, who wore a dress of tangerine georgette with a sash of brown tulle, a wreath of autumn flowers in her hair and she carried bronze chrysanthemums. Mr. Robert Melville Cobb, and Mr. Rodney Mason were the ushers, and Dr. Harry Gradle, the bride's uncle attended the groom as best man. Immediately following the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Laurel ave., after which Mr. and Mrs. Robertson left for Washington, New York and Boston. They will attend the Harvard-Yale game at Cambridge, Mr. Robertson being a graduate of Yale, and will be at home in Kansas City, Mo., after January the first.

Two hundred and thirty-one dollars was cleared on the Halloween party given in the school assembly hall, by the parish of the Holy Cross church.

Mrs. James O'Connor will entertain the Altar and Rosary Society of the Holy Cross church at her home Thursday afternoon.

The annual Red Cross drive throughout the country started, November 11 and will continue until November 24. There are many reasons why every one should belong to the American Red Cross, some of which are, because it relieves suffering from disaster and accidents, it is helping to safeguard American life; it is helping the nation's disabled service men and because it is still helping in the reconstruction of the world. The fact that the American Red Cross stands equipped and ready to cope with disaster is alone sufficient to justify its existence. Your Red Cross membership dollar will help to keep it always ready for this traditional duty and will strengthen the organization and America. Mrs. R. D. Supple, Mrs. Oscar Beecham, Mrs. R. E. Pettis, and Mrs. Alex Willman have charge of the drive in Deerfield.

Miss Ethel Reay of Chicago was the guest of Mrs. Oscar Beecham last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gunkel were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gunkel of Ravenswood, Sunday.

Mrs. Ed. Beecham and Mrs. Geo. Goodman visited Mrs. Ira Clapper, who is ill in a Chicago hospital. Herbert Kiestel of Chicago spent the week end with Leslie Haggie.

There will be a motion picture show Thursday evening, Nov. 17th in the school assembly hall. "Down on the Farm" a five reel Mack Sennett comedy will be shown.

Mr. Albert Antes has been in business in Deerfield for the past twenty-six years and his father Chris Antes opened a store in Deerfield sixty-one years ago which has operated under the name of Antes ever since. Their many friends regret that they went out of business as they always gave the best of service and carried a complete supply of first class goods and it is hoped that their successors will do the same.

The Antes family may move to Highland Park and Mrs. Amelia Pyle will live with her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Bingham of Chicago.

Mrs. Charles Selig will entertain the Thimble club of St. Paul's Evangelical church at her home Thursday afternoon.

Deerfield Presbyterian Church

The church school continues to grow. There were 147 present in all departments two week ago.

The committee appointed to work on specifications and plans for the new church is quite active and will make their report soon. Deerfield will be agreeably surprised at the beautiful artistic building that the committee has plans for.

The building was filled last Sunday evening to hear the address of Rev. Frank Fitt. They were not disappointed as Rev. Fitt is a thinker and speaker of no mean ability.

Remember the two following Sunday evenings, next Sunday Mr. David Bergstrom from Chicago, a man with a unique life and a unique message. "Back from the Edge of Eternity", then the following week, Dr. Moore, President of Lake Forest University will speak upon the subject "Some things that Education can and cannot do."

Last Sabbath evening, slides were shown the young people depicting in a very graphic manner the evils which attend the use of the cigarette to a growing child.

Next Sunday they will have another fine meeting. There has been over thirty young people present at the C. E. for the past two weeks.

All are asked to remember the big event in the women work which comes upon the first Thursday evening of December, the Dorcas will give their annual bazaar. These Ladies need no introduction to the community as they always have something worthwhile.

The choir is practicing for a Christmas cantata. Every person who can sing is asked to meet Mrs. Becker each Wednesday evening in the church.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The church school will begin at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning.

The Highland Park Bible class will be led by Mrs. Carl Pfantziel. The lesson topic will be "The Masters' Joy" from Dr. Fosdick's "Manhood of the Master."

The Rev. Frank Fitt will preach at the eleven o'clock service.

The young people will have their monthly supper in the parish house at 6:15. If you are going please notify Marjorie Carr before Friday night.

Topic: "Some Things We Can Be Thankful for." Leader: Mary Roberts.

The Dorcas society will hold an all day meeting Monday, Nov. 21. Luncheon will be served.

The Westminster Guild will meet Tuesday, Nov. 22, at the home of Mrs. Walter S. Grubbs, 320 Central avenue.

There will be no prayer meeting next Wednesday.

The union Thanksgiving service will be held in this church Thursday morning at 10:30. The Rev. Bihler will preach.

The Camp Fire girls will meet in the parish house Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

The opening night of the Children's Book Week, Monday, found about one hundred and fifty people assembled in Library Hall to hear Mr. Edward Yeomans. The speaker struck the keynote of his address in his first few sentences, when he said that "he personally felt the deepest sense of responsibility toward his children when he tried to so shape their training for life that they might amid the present confused mass of our civilization be able in a sense to get on with it and yet not be overwhelmed with its demands."

His talk while utterly devoid of formality, was so awakening that groups of people lingered long after the close of the address to question and discuss its topics. Three books especially mentioned by Mr. Yeomans were, "The Wind in the Willows," by Kenneth Grahame, a book which children may read and re-read with constant joy; "The Art of Living," by Quiller-Couch, in which he referred especially to the three chapters on Bible reading; and a volume by Rosaine Rolland entitled "Clerambault," which he said was like unto the rollicking humor of the middle-ages. The first of these is in the library collection and the others will be secured at once.

The Wednesday afternoon entertainment for the children was well attended. Miss Elizabeth Gordon (Mrs. George Edwin Canfield) in a pleasant, well-modulated voice, gave the children sprightly introductions to her book characters. Little Lorraine and her fairy friends of Sunbeam and Frost and Fire became real as their author told about them, to say nothing of "Molly and Dolly."

Thursday afternoon the children will have a further treat in the tales of Lady Teddy and Down Spider Web Lane by Mrs. William Donahey, who will also talk of the Tinnie Weenies.

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock there mothers, sisters, aunts and cousins, who are interested in what book to give the little ones and the big ones. At this time Mrs. Dean Wiegand Taylor will discuss "Children's Books and Reading." Before her marriage Mrs. Taylor was a trained librarian for children especially, and she has had much experience in dealing with children plus books. She can tell you probable results of certain combinations, and speak with authority of the kind of books for each age of child-life. At the close of the talk little booklets giving a list of 100 good books for children's Christmas presents will be distributed.
