NUMBER 4

Opening of Toyland Saturday, December 3rd

Every small boy and girl that comes here Saturday will clap their hand with glee at the sight of the thousands of toys here. Old Santa has unloaded his pack of play things and piled them high on the long tables he had waiting for him. He was so glad, he said, to arrive — for really his pack was much larger and heavier than ever before - that now he may show the boys and girls the many new things he has been racking I brain about since last Christmas. And as he arranged all the toys in their places — so that the naughty purples would not frighten the poor kitties, and that the stupid teddy bears would not burn themselves on the tiny stoves—in his merry way he burned a rhyme that sounded something like this:

I'm sure I've brought a Favorite Toy For every little Girl and Boy; So come, Dear Children, bring your chum And make Toyland with pleasure hum.

You'll Find Any Toy You Want in Toytown Here.

There are animals that walk and furniture for the doll house and little steamer trunks for dolly's trip abroad; kitchen cabinets with a stock of groceries; "Pollyanna Clothes Sets;" tiny lawn swings, and even waddling Charlie is here. For the boys there are all the mechanical and electrical toys, big drums and hundreds of other things equally interesting.

Dolls, Waiting for Santa to Take Them to Their Little Mothers.

And there certainly is every kind of doll in this olls that walk and dolls that talk, and dolls with big bright eyes that close when mothers lay them down. And dolls that are just too darling for any thing, all dressed up in their pretty dresses and bonnets and wee shoes and stockings.
