No Hiding Place Is Safe

Bait for the burglar, the tramp and the sneak-thief — that's what the dollars hidden away in your home are. Only they're poor bait — the owner is the only one who gets caught.

Such dollars are not performing their true function. They are out of circulation. They are not even earning their salt.

We're glad to employ them for you and pay interest. Use our Savings Department.

EXERT UNITED EFFORT

The series of devotional services held this week in Highland Park is a step forward for the local churches. This is the first time in the history of this city that such a large proportion of the Christian groups have joined in a concerted effort. The fact that no hired evangelist is imported to do the talking casts distinction on this series of meetings.

The large audiences each evening have testified to the popularity of these gatherings. The local ministers have taken turns conducting the services, and each meeting has presented something of great value. That up-to-date topics are being discussed is made evident by the list announced in the advertisements last week. It is hoped that these meetings will be a beginning for greater things along this line.

WHO'S SEEKING WAR?

Somewhere in this country there is a pernicious, crafty, and apparently strongly influential interest whose pet hobby of late seems to be urging the United States into war. With whom? With anyone. It does not make a bit of difference to this interest, so long as a war is started, and America is in it. That is how it seems to the man who reads between the lines in all this noise about possibility of war with Japan or England or anyone else. In the past it was Mexico, but since the great war Mexico isn't big enough for the war hunters to bother with. They're after big game.

Why? Remember the profiteering that was done in war supplies, the tremendous prices paid, too often for little or nothing, when emergency called and the demand had to be met? How far-reaching were the ramifications of that profiteering, probably never will be known, but the interests which grew rich on the needs of the nation and waxed fat on the blood of heroes, are not satisfied. Their greed is insatiable, and they would plunge this country or any other country into war with any nation, so long as it might bring back the chance to charge war prices again. No one knows who it is or what is back of this war propaganda. But there is every indication that somewhere in this country there is working an influence, strong enough to get widespread publicity for its propaganda, that is a worse menace to the welfare of the land than any possible outside enemy.

VIOLATING IMMIGRATION LAW

If the report of Secretary of Labor Davis that steamship lines are violating the immigration law by bringing foreigners to America from countries whose quota of immigration is filled already, prompt measures should be taken to stop the practice, which can only cause the immigrants inconvenience if not suffering, and the United States unnecessary trouble and expense.

Steamship companies know what the law in the premises is; the records of the immigration bureau are open for their inspection, so that they can not plead ignorance of the fact that quotas have already been filled. There is good reason to believe, therefore, that the law is being violated purposely. The keen competition between the trans-Atlantic lines for passenger business caused them to resort to all sorts of schemes to secure shiploads of emigrants in Europe before the war, and if the secretary's report is well founded it is evident that they are returning to antebellum practices.

The steamship companies have much to account for in making America the dumping ground for Europe in the past. They should be compelled to comply with the law limiting immigration, now that we have one.
