GRACE M. E. CHURCH

William E. Grose, minister
Sunday School, 9:30 a. m.
Sunday morning service, 10:45 a. m.
Intermediate League, 2:45 p. m.
Epworth League, 6:30 p. m.
Evening Sermon or Lecture 7:45 p. m.

There seems to be some confusion as to hours of service, hence we have asked the editor to let the above stand at the head of our items for a couple of weeks. For all of which, we are truly grateful.

The Choral Club is putting a lot of hard work on the Easter Cantata, "The Kingdom of God." Next week we hope to publish the list of solos, duets and quartets. Mr. Nichols, the director, says he has never been able to assemble a group of better talent, nor has there been greater enthusiasm shown. We confidently expect to offer the finest musical event ever given in Highland Park.

Next Sunday morning at the close of the Sunday School hour the pastor hopes to have the privilege of talking to every parent who is interested in the religious development of the child life of the community. All fathers and mothers are especially urged to attend. Special music by the junior choir.

Our new male choir created quite a sensation last Sunday evening. We have a promise that the event will be repeated quite often.

Next Sunday evening the pastor hopes to take the whole congregation on a trip to Chicago. You think you know Chicago. But do you? You know what the newspapers say, and what you have seen. But do you know what the churches are doing in that great metropolis? Of the tremendous problem, and the success they are having in solving it? Be sure to come to Grace church Sunday night. A hundred or more slides of wondrous beauty enlarged to life size by the most modern and powerful stereopticon. It will be worth your while.

The monthly supper of the Young People's Society will be held at 6:30. Miss Florence Shreve will lead the meeting afterward on the topic "Ancient and Modern Prophets."

MODEL CHAPEL FOR AREA UNIVERSITY

An old colonial meeting-house—the First Congregational church of Lyme, Conn., is to be reproduced at Area, as the chapel of the new Catholic university, St. Mary of the Lake.

"We are not appropriating anything from the colonial architects, but are merely taking back our own," Joseph W. McCarthy, designer of the university, said when asked to explain the choice of the Connecticut meeting-house as a model for a Catholic church.

Style Came from Greek
"The Adams brothers brought the colonial or, strictly speaking, Georgian style, to England from Rome, and the Romans got it from the Greeks. "Plans for the early colonial churches were mainly drawn in London, and reflected the Adams craze, then the vogue there. The original plans for the Lyme meeting-house, erected in 1815-1817, are supposed to have come from England, as the contractor, one Delcher, was not an architect, and his workmen were largely ship carpenters. There is an old story in Lyme that the plans were brought from England in one of the Lyme ships."

Original Church Destroyed
The present Lyme church, a reproduction of the one built in 1815, was constructed after fire destroyed the original in 1907. The reproduction at St. Mary of the Lake university will follow it, so far as the exterior is concerned, except that the Catholic chapel will be of brick and stone instead of the white pine used at Lyme.

The reason for choosing the colonial meeting-house as a model was to carry out the decision of Archbishop George W. Mundelein to build the new university in the colonial style.

Lay All Winter with the Right Feeds

Egg Mash with Scratch Feed Balances Ration

Who do hens stop laying in winter? First, they require more food to maintain their bodies and produce heat, and, second, they don't get the same kinds of feed as in spring and summer. If you can give them the same ration as they get when they can range, and keep them warm, they'll lay as if it were springtime.

In our feed-selling experience we have learned that the poultrymen who get the most eggs per hen, feed them milk or buttermilk, meat scraps, bone meal, and some green feed. Instead of trying to make a balanced ration by mixing these ingredients with oil meal, middlings, etc., besides grains, they get them ready mixed in Vitality Egg Mash and Vitality Scratch Feed. We know that you can get more eggs cheaper with
