Studebaker

The whole family will like this car

THE SPECIAL SIX is the ideal family car. Compare its power, comfort, beauty, ease of operation, completeness and quality. Then you will realize that no other car at or near its price of $1475 f. o. b. factory, even approaches the SPECIAL-SIX in value.

The SPECIAL-SIX is just such a car as you would expect Studebaker to produce, with a seventy-year reputation for honest quality and dependability and with unexcelled resources that make for the greatest intrinsic value.

The wonderful performance of the SPECIAL-SIX is due to its dependable chassis with 50-horsepower motor, perfected dry-plate disc clutch, intermediate transmission, and the skillful design of every unit. The performance of the SPECIAL-SIX has contributed to its tremendous popularity in owners' use.

Its new Studebaker-built body is noted for its beauty and sturdy construction, with such features as cowl ventilator controlled from dash, one-piece, rain-proof windshield with cowl parking lights in lower corners of base, large rectangular plate-glass window in rear of finely tailored top.

Other unusual features include windshield wiper, tonneau lamp with extension cord, eight-day clock, transmission lock which is operated by the same key that locks the tool compartment in the left front door pocket as well as the ignition.

You owe it to yourself to see the SPECIAL-SIX, examine it closely, and compare it point by point with other five-passenger cars regardless of price, before you buy any car. Do this—then ride in the SPECIAL-SIX—drive it yourself—and we will be satisfied to rest the case.

Most businesses are big because big men are behind them. Nobody has time to hear both sides of the story except the judges—and they are well paid for their trouble. If a man expects to have enough money to pay his bills, he must take the risk of appearing stingy now and then. There is a time for everything. Along about congressional election time a soldier's bonus bill will be passed.
