Edison, the inventor. Last Friday there was no school because all the teachers attended a meeting held by the Chicago and North Shore Division of the Ilinois Teachers'

Thursday noon, April 20, the east playground of the school was crowded with pupils, teachers and visitors, who had gathered to see the Annual Animal Show, Each pupil who had some animal, fish or fowl to exhibit, brought it before the judges. There were dogs of different kinds, many cats, a goat, a cow, a crayfish,, several horses and ponies, a beautiful pair of parakeets, ring doves, baby alligators, rabbits, Belgian hares, guinea pigs, white mice, chickens, a duck, salamanders and chameleons. A parade was formed and the owners carried or led their pets along. Prizes were awarded to the finest animals in different classes. It was an interesting show and gave the pupils a chance to see their schoolmates' pets.

During the last week of February and the first two weeks of March excitement ran high among bird students and some interesting records were made of early arrivals from the Southlands. Then a lull of several weeks ensued, which we spent enjoying some of the new spring songs and wondering just how long our winter visitors would linger with us. Now and then a new bird would be seen such as the Purple Martin, the Wood Thrush, the Myrtle Warbler, the Brown Thrasher, and the Catbird, Red Top Steel Drive just to remind us to keep on the lookout. But during this coming week Fence Posts-Cheaper Than Wood and the first week in May, we hope to see in rapid succession Thrushes Flycatchers, Bobolinks and Vireos, and the spectacular Scarlet Tanagers, Rosebreasted Grosbeaks, Orioles and Humming Birds.

Sharp eyes will see many of them and even the most unobserving cannot fail to see a few to reward an occasional glance toward tree or shrub or sky. The next two weeks will witness the high tide of the late migration and altho some of these birds nest here during the summer, many of the most exquisitely colored ones will merely pass through on their way northward.
