TUESDAY'S PROGRAMS AT THE GOLF CLUBS

BRIERGATE LINKS OPENED

Large Gallery Sees MacDonald and Ayton Win Memorial Day; Other Clubs Active

The full eighteen hole course of the Briergate Golf club at Deerfield was officially opened Tuesday when Bob MacDonald of Bob O'Link and Laurie Ayton, the Evanston professional, defeated Charles Evans and J. Augustin Mudd, the Beverly amateur, 1 up, in an eighteen hole match.

A gallery of several hundred followed and found a fine course, which when it matures, will rank among the best in the Chicago district. It measures 6,700 yards, so that its par of 71 is a stiff proposition.

Ayton and Evans each had cards of 80, the other two players picking up at some of the holes. The best ball cards were:

Evans and Mudd—
Out—4 4 7 2 5 4 5 3 4—38
MacDonald and Ayton—
Out—3 5 5 4 5 4 4 4—38

Evans and Mudd—
In—5 2 4 5 5 4 5 4—38-76
MacDonald and Ayton—
In—4 3 4 4 4 5 5 4—37-75

They have not yet reached the billiard table stage and the ball "jogged" over the grass Tuesday, making scores a bit higher than normal, as it was difficult to gauge approach putts and short putts.

The yardage of the holes is as follows:
Out—425, 350, 555, 230, 525, 390, 410, 185, 420—3,740.
In—385, 140, 425, 480, 395, 190, 380, 410, 425—3,230.

Exmoor
S. Davison Herron, former national amateur champion, had a fine round of 73 at Exmoor in the morning and, following with 79, won the prize for top gross with a total of 152. H. A. Porter won the handicap with 84-15-68. Winners in the thirty-six hole class handicap were: Class A—D. W. Merz, 83-91-174-26-148. Class B—W. T. Bassett, 92-85-36-141. Class C—C. F. Drake, 109-46-153. Class D—G. S. Talbot, 106-119-225-54-171.

Northmoor
So close was the handicapping at Northmoor that five players tied for first place in the handicap, these being: Nathan Klee, 112-31-81; L. Hammel, 111-30-81; H. Stern, 109-28-81; S. H. Hartman, 108-27-81; A. Kitzinger, 93-12-81. On the draw, Mr. Klee, former president of the club, won first and Mr. Hammel second. Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Lilienfeld won the flag tournament. There were 150 players out for the opening events and they found the course in great shape.

Bob O'Link
Judge C. Williams won the 36 hole event, getting a gross card of 169. A. C. Allyn took low net prize with 140. President C. E. Karstrom won low gross in the morning with an 83. A. V. Kohnsberg getting low net of 69. Winners in the class handicap in the afternoon were:
Class A, John H. Coulter, 72; class B, E. J. Osler, 70; class C, D. A. Matteson, 65; class D, C. W. Stuart, 69.

SENIORS TO PRESENT CLASS PLAY, SATURDAY

"The Rivals" to Be Presented June 3rd by the Graduating Class

Ravinia Park theatre is the scene of busy preparation and hard work for "The Rivals," the play to be presented on Saturday night, June 3rd, by the Senior class of Deerfield-Shields high school. The cast, the class and the entire school are eager to make this presentation reflect the great literary and dramatic merit of Sheridan's play. Since the time of its first production at Covent Garden, London in 1775, "The Rivals" has stood out as the best type of eighteenth century comedy. It has been produced in America hundreds of times by both professional and amateur companies. Its roles have been played by Ada Rehan, Mrs. Drew and Joseph Jefferson.

The story centers around the romantic Lydia Languish who plans to elope with an unknown ensign Beverly. At the same time her aunt, the famous Mrs. Malaprop, arranges for Lydia to marry Captain Absolute, the son of the gouty and violent Sir Anthony. Then arrives the rival, Bob Acres, a "country bumpkin," proud of his valor and exceedingly eager to become a polished gentleman. His friend, Sir Lucius O'Trigger, keeps him in good courage, altho Sir Lucius, himself, is added to the list of Lydia's suitors.

Into these complications is woven the disturbed love affair of Lydia's friend Julia and the jealous Faulkland with his plots and tricks to test the true affection of his fiancee. Finally Beverly and Captain Absolute are the same person and that Sir Lucius has been unwittingly carrying on a correspondence with Mrs. Malaprop instead of Lydia. Bob Acres decides to "live a bachelor" and the play ends with the satisfaction of all, except, perhaps, the husbandless Mrs. Malaprop.

The coaching of the play has been directed by Miss Gail Hathaway. The high school orchestra and Mandolin club will provide music. Good seats are now on sale at Gell's drug store, Highland Park and Kraft's, Lake Forest. The cast and managers are as follows:

Y. W. C. A. PAGEANT DREW LARGE CROWD

The pageant "Fairy Woods" given by the Y. W. C. A. in Trinity Parish House last Thursday evening was a success from every standpoint. The stage was a bower of beauty with its summer foliage and bright flowers an appropriate setting for the gaily dressed fairies that fitted hither and thither in their quest for pleasure. The characters of King, Queen, Violet, Lily, Tulip, Clover, Bumblebee, Sir Firefly and Prince Butterfly were all well taken and each wore exceedingly attractive costumes. The three little buttercups in dainty yellow delighted the audience with their effective portrayal of this spring flower, each on his own little toadstool.

Tom and Edith, the boy and girl dreamers, were especially well given. The dances under Mrs. John Scott accompanied by Miss Salome Brand at the piano, showed a wide range in their type and brought out a great deal of talent among the performers.

The tiny tots each representing a flower came in for their share of admiration, easily holding the attention of the audience. Take it all in all the pageant was very well given and gave pleasure to both performers and audience.

At a meeting of the Young Men's club held Wednesday evening Mr. Stanley Carr was unanimously elected captain of the life saving crew for the coming summer. Mr. Carr is better known as "Fat." He is an ex-navy man and is well qualified for this work. All candidates desiring to make the crew this summer are requested to be present Sunday afternoon.

"BORIS GODUNOFF" RAVINIA OPENER

ANNOUNCED BY ECKSTEIN

Russian Opera Will Be Sung on First Night, June 24; "L'Amico Fritz" is Also Promised Soon

That "Boris Godunoff" will be the first night opera at Ravinia, on June 24, has been definitely announced by Louis Eckstein.

When Mr. Eckstein planned, last winter, counting on Moussorgsky's famous opera called "Boris Godunoff" at Ravinia the coming season, he set to work to find an edited score, and took the matter up with a number of correspondents in Europe. But they found that the war had played havoc with music libraries as with everything else, and he was accordingly until a good angel learning of his plight, proffered to cable for the score to the house of Bessel at London, and the situation was saved. Then Genaro Papi, Italian director of music at Ravinia, came forward with scores of "L'Amico Fritz," as edited by Mascagni, himself, and Verdi's "Otello," with authenticated readings as approved by Verdi in his lifetime. As to the fourth new opera at Ravinia, "Le Chemineau," it will have the advantage of rehearsing and conducting by Louis Haselmans, the Belgian conductor, who directed the original French and Belgian performance of the opera and marked the score for the composer, the late Xavier Leroux.

The records seem to show that the American premiere of "L'Amico Fritz" was given in Philadelphia by the late Gustave Hinrichs, well remembered in Chicago as concert master for Theodore Thomas when the latter was the artistic and musical chieftain of the ambitious and ill-fated American Opera company.
